Catherine Owen	Consultant Paediatric Endocrinologist	Direct Financial interest	I have been asked by the pharmaceutical company Diurnal to present my 'Real life experience of using Alkindi' at the European Society of Paediatric Endocrinology (ESPE) in September this year. Alkindi is currently the only licensed paediatric preparation of hydrocortisone, which was introduced in 2018. As a department we have been collecting data around the safety and acceptability of this to patients since its introduction. This data was presented as a poster at ESPE last year and the company has approached me to be an invited speaker and give a short presentation at this year's ESPE conference. They will therefore cover my travel, accommodation and conference fee and I will receive a payment for speaking, although I am not aware of the value of this as yet.	02 2022	Recruitment	09 2022	Specific. Declare and participate as the subject event focussed on sharing the clinician's experience of introducing the medication into their paediatric service and their experience of using the drug in clinical care.
