Tim Coleman	Topic Expert	Direct – financial	This year I was asked to write a module on NICE NG92 for the 'BMJ learning' educational programme. I am to be paid £100 (though the work took a lot longer than this would realistically pay for). Tim Coleman	Topic Expert	Indirect	I am a Cochrane Tobacco Group editor. NICE asked Cochrane groups to bid for review work which would inform this guidance. I was asked by Prof Paul Aveyard to bid for undertaking this work because he was aware that my research group are / had already undertaken a lot of relevant work. I have submitted a bid which if awarded would provide the funds for directly employed (i.e. by UoN) research staff to conduct the work. I consider the production of research data my 'day job' and don't consider actually doing the work a conflict (my group were already doing / planning a lot of it and even if I was not on the committee would seek to draw attention to it so that the committee could use it).	10/2018	11/2018		Declare and participate

One of the key policy implications from these reviews is that, “Vaping poses only a small fraction of the risks of smoking, and switching completely from smoking to vaping conveys substantial health benefits over continued smoking”. Also, in terms of quitting, “e-cigarette use, alone or in combination with licensed medication and behavioural support from a Stop Smoking Service, appear to be helpful in the short term”.	2012	Dec 2019		Declare and participate Rationale: organisational interest declared on behalf of Public Health England in the interests of transparency
