

International NICE Services

International NICE Services is committed to improving health around the world through the effective use of resources.

We provide access to the gold standard in evidence-based health and social care guidance produced by the UK National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE), and the support of a team of world-renowned experts.

For over 18 years, NICE has supported investment and practice in the largest, free at the point of use, public healthcare system in the world – the UK's National Health Service.

Internationally recognised for their rigour, independence and objectivity, NICE guidelines support the development of cost-effective clinical care pathways, assist in the fight against chronic disease and encourage integrated care. All NICE guidance is continually reviewed and updated and is among the largest collection in the world.

International NICE Services

International NICE Services makes it possible for you to use NICE content and benefit from NICE expertise. We provide both content permissions and advisory services.

- Our international services provide access to the gold standard in evidence-based health and social care guidance produced by the UK National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE), and the support of a team of world-renowned experts.
- Improve the quality of healthcare services and reduce variation in practice.
- Save you time and resources supporting efficiency savings.
- Build evidence-based decision-making capacity through our 'Knowledge Transfer Services' and hands-on pilots, making full use of NICE products.
- Support active public and patient engagement programmes.

Selected Extracts

These services grant permission to use NICE content in third-party products such as books, journals, advertising, marketing, and training materials and other products to:

- add intellectual weight due to the rigorous methods used to develop the content
- support your marketing campaigns
- underpin changes to service provision

International NICE Services

Complete Content

These services grant permission and offer support to adopt, adapt, translate or contextualise chosen content to:

- meet the needs of your population
- accommodate the individual requirements of your territory
- support applications for regulatory submissions
- supplement publications or training events
- create products such as decision support tools, audit tools or training programmes

Knowledge Transfer

These services offer advice, support and insight into NICE processes. By sharing our experiences we can help you to:

- assess your healthcare programmes
- develop your own methods, processes and strategies
- identify areas for risk assessment and review
- develop new healthcare strategies

