Introduction

Thank you for your interest in the role of Chair to a guideline committee.

The National Guideline Alliance (NGA), on behalf of NICE, is seeking to recruit a number of Chairs for social care guideline committees due to start work over the year. Over the next year, the NGA is expecting to start work on the following social care guideline topics (this is an indicative list and is subject to change):

- Advocacy services for adults with health and social care needs
- Supporting independent living and preventing isolation in adults of working age with social care needs
- Adults with lifelong or very severe hearing or visual impairment: health, wellbeing and social care.

Allocation of Chairs to specific guidelines will be determined post appointment. NICE aims to improve outcomes for people using the NHS and other public health and social care services. We do this by:

- producing evidence-based guidance and advice for health, public health and social care practitioners
- developing quality standards and performance metrics for providers and commissioners of health, public health and social care services
- providing information services for commissioners, practitioners and managers across health and social care.

About the post

We are looking for a skilled and experienced leader with a track record of chairing national or high profile multi-professional committees or working groups. Strong interpersonal skills and excellent verbal and written communication skills are required, along with an ability to communicate complex issues to differing audiences.

Applicants should have a commitment to evidence based practice, ideally with experience of guideline development processes.

The primary role of the Chair is to chair the committee and not to provide knowledge of the guideline topic. Specialist knowledge is provided by other committee members and a Topic Adviser, if appointed.

The role description and person specification are given in appendix A.

Role of all committee members

Members may be social care practitioners working in local authorities, provider organisations or the NHS, health professionals, service users and carers, and professionals from the academic world. They are expected to use their personal experience and judgement for the topics considered by the committee and to actively contribute to improving the quality and consistency of care.

Committee members are appointed to a committee because of their relevant experience or their specific technical skills. Committee members are not appointed to act as representatives of a particular organisation. If members belong to stakeholder organisations, NICE and the committee assume that they bring this perspective to the group, and are not representing their organisation.

Committee members are co-authors of the guidance. They should respect the rights of NICE both to:

- publish the final guidance and associated products (for example, products to support implementation), and
- receive notification of any proposed publications related to their work on the guideline.

Committee members agree to:

- set aside enough time to attend committee meetings and use their personal and professional knowledge to inform the development of the guidance
- raise any concerns about process or details in the draft guidance with the committee, and try to resolve these issues within the committee, with support from the guideline developer or the NICE guidance project team
- contribute positively to the work of the committee and to developing the guidance
- take full account of the evidence in developing recommendations

- consider the analysis and interpretation of evidence prepared by the evidence review team
- act in a professional manner, show good manners and be courteous to colleagues and staff at all times (committee members should behave in a polite, efficient and respectful manner and without bias or favour, using the highest standards of conduct expected in public life and service while on NICE duty)
- be impartial and honest in conducting their duties for NICE, use public funds entrusted to them to the best advantage of NICE, and avoid deliberately damaging the confidence of the public or stakeholders in NICE
- ensure strict adherence to NICE's social value judgements and equality policy
- read and adhere to NICE's policies on hospitality, declarations of interests and travel and subsistence.

Role of the Chair

The Chair will work in collaboration with the staff of National Guideline Alliance (NGA), a guideline Topic Adviser (if appointed – see below) and the Committee to develop a guideline on behalf of the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE).

Chairs are appointed for their expertise and skill in chairing groups, and although they may have some knowledge of the topic, this is not their primary role in the group. Specialist knowledge is provided by other committee members.

A Topic Adviser with specialist knowledge may also be appointed to a Committee when the Chair does not have topic expertise. The Topic Adviser is a member of the Committee, but also supports the Chair and the staff of the NGA by providing social care advice and contributing to the development of the scope and review protocols and the identification and review of evidence.

The Chair ensures that the committee takes full account of the evidence in developing recommendations and considers the analysis and interpretation of the evidence prepared by the evidence review team. The Chair must therefore establish trust and mutual respect among members of the committee and give opportunities for all members to contribute to its discussions and activities.

While all committee members must ensure appropriate consideration of the implications of guidance for equality, this is a particular responsibility for the chair.

The Chair should also offer committee members feedback and comment on their contribution to the committee, on an annual basis, for revalidation purposes or personal development.

The Chairs of advisory committees are in a special position in relation to the work of their committee and have greater scope to influence the outcome of discussions. The Chair helps the committee to work collaboratively, ensures a balanced contribution from all committee members and takes decisions about the potential conflicts of interest of their committee members.

Before you consider applying for the role of chair, please ensure you read the conflicts of interest section of this document and refer to NICE's policy on declaring and managing interests for NICE advisory committees. Anyone whose interests prevent them from chairing a committee may instead like to consider applying for a committee member role (including the Topic Adviser role, if applicable).

Remuneration

Chair

The NGA will give an honorarium of £250 per day to the committee Chair for each formal and full-day committee meeting. This covers any preparatory and follow-up work undertaken and any additional meetings attended as agreed with the NGA.

The NGA will also pay reasonable out-of-pocket expenses, including train fares and hotel costs when necessary, for attending committee meetings.

Locum costs

NICE will reimburse locum backfill for committee members, chairs and vice chairs that are working in NHS general practice and a locum is needed to allow their attendance on NICE business. The cost of the locum cover will be reimbursed up to a maximum of £600 per day or £300 for half a day. Locum reimbursement claims must be submitted by the practice via an invoice and all reimbursement will be to the practice. Further information is available in the non-staff reimbursement policy.

Other expenses

NICE recognises that in some circumstances individuals will need to arrange for carers or support workers to accompany them to a meeting, or to take over unpaid caring responsibilities while they are at a meeting – this includes childcare or care of a family member with a disability or other additional needs.

Please refer to NGA's travel and subsistence policy.

Time commitment

Committee members are expected to attend up to 12 day-long committee meetings over a period of 18 months during the guideline development. In addition, committee members will have to spend time reading substantial committee documents, helping to produce consultation documents and respond to stakeholder responses to the consultation documents. The Chair works with the staff of the NGA between meetings and usually attends a pre-committee meeting to prepare papers and presentations.

The Chair undertakes additional work before development to scope the guideline – including attendance at scoping meetings – and is involved in recruitment of the guideline committee. The Chair is also involved after development – during consultation, validation, publication and post-publication phases – in work relating to the quality assurance of the guideline in liaison with NICE.

Period of appointment

Chairs and members of topic-specific committees will be appointed for the duration of a specific guideline.

Diversity and equality of opportunity

Appointment is governed by the principles of public appointment based on merit. Candidates may come from a wide range of backgrounds and experience, and each successful candidate will need to demonstrate that they meet all the essential criteria for the post. NICE encourages applications from groups currently under-represented on our committees.

We will consider reasonable adjustments to our recruitment processes to ensure that those applicants who possess the skills and experiences required for a role are not put at a substantial disadvantage because of a disability.

Equality monitoring

We recognise that you may be wary about giving us personal information, and be concerned about how we use it and how well we protect it. You may also feel that some of the questions on the monitoring form are intrusive.

Why we need this information

NICE's guidance and other quality improvement products aim to help the NHS and the health and social care community and other planners and practitioners to give all sections of their communities an equal opportunity to benefit from health and social care services. More evidence on how interventions affect particular groups would help us to do this better. But we also believe it's important that our advisory bodies reflect the diversity of the population. Not only is it right in principle, but it also means that they can draw on a broader range of knowledge, experience and insight, and so produce better guidance.

We encourage people with the right qualifications from all parts of the population to join advisory bodies. This is why we want you to answer all the questions in the monitoring form.

NICE is legally required to avoid unlawful discrimination and to consider how to advance equality. Monitoring the impact of our recruitment policies is essential to meet these duties.

How we use the information

We use the information you give us only for monitoring the diversity of applicants and appointees to our committees. We will not use it in the selection process, and our interview panel will not see it. We detach this information from the application form so that you can't be identified. A separate department in NICE analyses the information and reports on whether the information indicates our processes could be unfairly impacting on certain groups.

It is important for us to collect this information and we very much hope you will want to complete this form.

How to apply

The following documents must be submitted for your application:

- applicant information form
- short CV
- cover letter explaining how you meet the criteria in the person specification and your motivation for applying for the post (maximum 2 pages); your full name and the specific role for which you are applying must be clearly noted at the top of your letter.
- name and contact details of two referees.
- completed declarations of interests form.

As noted above, applicants are also asked to include the equality monitoring form.

Send applications to Offiong Ani at NGAApplications@rcog.org.uk. Applications must be received by 10:00am on 3rd June 2019. We will not consider applications arriving after this date.

Your application will be acknowledged by email (or another way, if requested).

Selection process

All appointments are made on merit according to NICE's Appointments to Advisory Bodies Policy and Procedure. This policy adopts the relevant principles in the Governance Code on Public Appointments.

After the closing date for applications:

- A panel will assess candidates' CVs and supporting letters to decide who best meet the criteria for the role and who will be invited to interview. The panel will rely only on the information you give in your application to assess whether you have the skills and experience required. Please ensure that you provide evidence to support how you meet all the essential criteria.
- We anticipate that by Friday 28th June 2019, the panel will have decided who will be invited for interview.

- The panel will choose only the strongest applicants who it feels have demonstrated that they best meet the criteria in the person specification.
- If invited to interview, the panel will ask you about your skills and experience, asking specific questions to assess how you meet the criteria for the role.
- If your application is successful, you will receive a letter/email from the recruiting team to confirm the terms on which an appointment is offered.
- The recruiting team will notify you if you are unsuccessful.

Timetable

Interviews are scheduled to take place in London on Monday 15th July 2019.

Additional information

Please note that anyone who meets 1 or more of the categories below will be automatically disqualified from membership of any NICE committee:

- a doctor who is under investigation<sup>1</sup> by the General Medical Council (GMC), or following investigation by the GMC has had restrictions placed on their practice or been removed from the Medical Register
- other professionals who are under investigation for professional misconduct, or have been found to be in breach of appropriate professional standards by the relevant professional body
- anyone who has received a prison sentence or suspended sentence of 3 months or more in the last 5 years.

Anyone who meets any of the categories below will not be automatically disqualified, but they may be asked to step down from membership of a NICE committee, at the sole discretion of NICE. Therefore, please tell us in your application should any of these points apply:

- people who are the subject of a bankruptcy restrictions order or interim order
- anyone who has been dismissed (except by redundancy) by any NHS or social care body

<sup>1</sup> GMC 'Investigation' is defined as an investigation into whether the practitioner's fitness to practice is impaired by reason of one or more of the heads of impairment set out in section 35c(2) of the Medical Act 1983

- those who have had an earlier term of appointment terminated
- anyone who is under a disqualification order under the Company Directors Disqualification Act 1986
- anyone who has been removed from trusteeship of a charity.

Any committee members or chairs who are appointed because of their up to date professional health and care service knowledge and experience and work in a regulated profession should have an active registration with the appropriate professional body when they are appointed and when their appointment is renewed. For medical committee members or chairs, this includes a licence to practise.

Conflict of interests

NICE is expected to achieve and maintain high standards of fairness in the way we conduct our business. These standards include impartiality, objectivity and integrity, and effective handling of public funds. Managing potential conflicts of interests is an important part of this process.

Managing conflicts of interests effectively is an essential element in developing the guidance and advice that NICE publishes. Without this, professionals and the public will lose confidence in our work.

We give particular consideration to interests involving payment or financial inducement or any reputational interest related to academia or published work that may be affected by the matters under discussion.

The Chairs of advisory committees are in a special position in relation to the work of their committee and have greater scope to influence the outcome of discussions. The Chair helps the committee to work collaboratively, ensures a balanced contribution from all committee members and takes decisions about the potential conflicts of interest of their committee members.

Chairs may not have any direct interests (financial, non-financial professional or personal) that relate to the services, interventions, products, or delivery of care to be considered within the scope of the guideline<sup>2</sup>. This includes a published statement

<sup>2</sup> This does not include GPs (partner, salaried or locum) with a general interest in the topic through the provision of primary care services expressing a clear opinion about the matter under consideration, which could reasonably be interpreted as prejudicial to an objective interpretation of the evidence. It may also be inappropriate for Chairs to have relevant indirect interests, including when a close family member could potentially gain financially from the person's work with NICE.

Please ensure you read NICE's policy on declaring and managing interests for NICE advisory committees before applying.

As part of NICE's commitments under the World Health Organisation Framework Convention on Tobacco Control, individuals working for, or holding office in, tobacco organisations cannot be appointed to NICE's advisory committees. (Tobacco organisations include the tobacco industry, and organisations speaking on behalf of, or funded by, the tobacco industry.) Further information is contained in NICE's statement on engagement with tobacco industry organisations.

Standards in public life and code of conduct

Committee members are expected at all times to act in good faith and observe the highest standards of impartiality, integrity and objectivity in conducting the committee's business (see appendix B). Members will be required to sign to accept the terms of appointment relating to conduct (appendix C).

How we manage your personal information

NICE is committed to meeting the highest standards when collecting and using personal information. When we ask you for personal information, we promise we will:

- only ask for what we need, and not collect too much or irrelevant information
- ensure you know why we need it
- protect it and as far as possible, make sure that nobody has access to it who shouldn't
- ensure you know that you have a choice about giving us information
- make sure we don't keep it longer than necessary
- not use your information for purposes incompatible with the reasons we asked for it .

We ask that you:

- give us accurate information
- inform us as soon as possible of any changes, or if you notice mistakes in the information we hold about you.

More information about how we process your personal data can be found on our privacy notice. Please ensure you also read NGA's Privacy Notice before applying.

Appendix B: The Committee on Standards in Public Life: the seven principles of public life

Selflessness

Holders of public office should act solely in terms of the public interest. They should not do so in order to gain financial or other benefits for themselves, their family or their friends.

Integrity

Holders of public office should not place themselves under any financial or other obligation to outside individuals or organisations that might seek to influence them in the performance of their official duties.

Objectivity

In carrying out public business, including making public appointments, awarding contracts, or recommending individuals for rewards and benefits, holders of public office should make choices on merit.

Accountability

Holders of public office are accountable for their decisions and actions to the public and must submit themselves to whatever scrutiny is appropriate to their office.

Openness

Holders of public office should be as open as possible about all the decisions and actions that they take. They should give reasons for their decisions and restrict information only when the wider public interest clearly demands.

Honesty

Holders of public office have a duty to declare any private interests relating to their public duties and to take steps to resolve any conflicts arising in a way that protects the public interest.

Leadership

Holders of public office should promote and support these principles by leadership and example.

Appendix C: Standards of business conduct for NICE committee members

1. Committee members are required to abide by NICE business standards in order to serve on NICE guidance committees<sup>3</sup>. Standards include conforming to the Nolan Principles set out in the NICE Code of Business Conduct and declaring any interests in accordance with the NICE code of practice for declaring and dealing with conflicts of interest.
2. The 7 Nolan Principles for the conduct of public life that must be adhered to are:
  - selflessness
  - integrity
  - objectivity
  - accountability
  - openness
  - honesty
  - leadership.
3. NICE business standards additionally set out circumstances in which it may be inappropriate for a person to serve on a NICE committee. This may result in automatic disqualification from membership of a committee on a temporary or permanent basis.
4. Anyone meeting 1 or more of the categories below will be automatically disqualified from membership of any NICE committee:
  - a doctor who is under investigation<sup>4</sup> by the General Medical Council (GMC), or following investigation by the GMC has had restrictions placed on their practice or been removed from the Medical Register
  - other professionals who are under investigation for professional misconduct, or have been found to be in breach of appropriate professional standards by the relevant professional body
  - anyone who has received a prison sentence or a suspended sentence of 3 months or more in the last 5 years.

<sup>3</sup> 'Committees' includes any formally constituted body involved in developing NICE guidance including advisory bodies, Guideline Development Groups, panels and guidance committees

<sup>4</sup> GMC 'Investigation' is defined as an investigation into whether the practitioner's fitness to practice is impaired by reason of one or more of the heads of impairment set out in section 35c(2) of the Medical Act 1983

5. Anyone who meets any of the categories below will not be automatically disqualified, but they may be asked to step down from membership of a NICE committee at the sole discretion of NICE:

- people who are the subject of a bankruptcy restrictions order or interim order
- anyone who has been dismissed (except by redundancy) by any NHS or social care body
- in certain circumstances, people who have had an earlier term of appointment terminated
- anyone who is under a disqualification order under the Company Directors Disqualification Act 1986
- anyone who has been removed from trusteeship of a charity.

I accept the above conditions for committee membership:
