Dear Andrew,

Change of remits

I am writing further to your correspondence requesting changes to the remit for the clinical guideline.

We have now received confirmation from the Minister that she is content for amendments to be made to the remit.

The revised remit is as follows:

- To prepare a clinical guideline on the management of deliberate self-harm (intentional self-poisoning or self-injury, irrespective of the apparent purpose of the act) to include the role of mental health professionals in ensuring service users who have self harmed receive appropriate treatment for underlying problems that may have led to the act of self-harm.

I would be grateful if you could keep me informed about timeline for this guideline.

Yours sincerely

John Sherriff
