

End of life care: Delivery of adult services for people in the last year of life
Consultation on draft scope
Stakeholder comments table 5

Please note:	Please read the checklist for submitting comments at the end of this form. We cannot accept forms that are not filled in correctly or arrive after the deadline. Developing NICE guidance: how to get involved has a list of possible areas for comment on the draft scope.
Stakeholder organisation (if you are responding as an individual rather than a registered stakeholder please state name here):	Professional Reflexology

Comment No.	Page number or ' general ' for comments on the whole document	Line number or ' general ' for comments on the whole document	Comments Insert each comment in a new row. Do not paste other tables into this table, as your comments could get lost – type directly into this table.
1	5	109	It would be a sad and retrograde step	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

2	5	109	This would be a huge step backwards. Complementary therapies have been shown to be a huge help in palliative care, improving pain levels and quality of life for those receiving it. Let's keep moving forward, not back!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
3	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and know the benefits of these treatments for everyone.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
4	5	109	Complementary therapies improve people's quality of life and emotional wellbeing. We complement western medicine, not contradict.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

5	5	109	I offer Reflexology to patients affected by a cancer diagnosis at our local hospital. I see first-hand what a difference it makes in people's lives and how it can reduce pain and enhances wellbeing during a difficult time.	Thank you for your comment. We acknowledged your experience and observations. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
6	5	109	I believe in the power and use of these treatments	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
7	5	109	Therapies have helped me, everyone should try them!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

8	5	109	Reflexology is a wonderful therapy proven in many studies to be affective and thus should be broadly accepted by the healthcare profession	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
9	5	109	I currently volunteer for a charity set up to provide complementary therapies to people who have or care for people with cancer. The benefits and comfort it gives people is immeasurable. How can this be taken away from people!!	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
10	5	109	i have worked voluntarily providing comp therapy in a palliative care setting.Th benefits felt by people in a highly vulnerable state is immeasurable.....this is a step backwards not only for complementary therapy but also for those that have to live with a debilitating disease.	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

11	5	109	I believe Reflexology can help in supporting people inn pallative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
12	5	109	My mother felt so much benefit when she was in our local hospice that i changed careers to do the same for others	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
13	5	109	I am a reflexolgist and from personal experience know the benefits of complementary therapies. Totally ridiculous is this because complementary health does not make money for the big drug companies	Thank you for sharing your experience and views. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

14	5	109	I cannot believe such a vital part of care is even being considered to be removed, what are they thinking about, maybe we should offer the decider a reflexology session and give them a taste of what can do!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
15	5	109	Reflexology not only provides the essentials of touch and acceptance for someone in palliative care, but gives the patient deep relaxation which helps alleviate any discomfort and pain... allowing rest and time and space to just be, without waiting for anything in particular. Allowing an experience of receiving, the reflexologist gently allows the patient to let go of whatever they need to, while holding them literally in the palms of their hands. It's a very safe place to be, comforted as opposed to being in 'dis-comfort'. To stop increasing awareness of this is to prevent many palliative care and hospice patients from feeling and knowing they still matter and have support, as they move on.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
16	5	109	I believe this is a wrong decision and question the reason why complementary therapies are being removed when so many people clearly benefit from the treatments, surely if a patient feels a difference this impacts how they handle and view their condition in a more positive way	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

17	5	109	I have witnessed positive results when providing Complementary therapies.	Thank you for sharing your observations. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
18	5	109	The skills of therapists everywhere improve the quality of life for so many. This move would be a step backwards, and I would urge those in charge of this decision to reconsider.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
19	5	109	I have seen first hand the benefits of complementary therapies within palliative care	Thank you for sharing your observation. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

20	5	109	I believe, after working with Complementary Therapies for over 10 years that they should play a larger role in healthcare, not less. To remove them from the NICE guidelines would be a retrograde step.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
21	5	109	This would be a retrograde step - complementary treatments of all kinds improve the quality of life for so many. Speak to the people who have been helped and supported and please reconsider	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
22	5	109	I believe everyone can benefit from Reflexology, it is a powerful holistic therapy that allows people to Relax, Balance and Heal!	Thank you for sharing your opinion. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

23	5	109	I believe it is wrong to remove complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
24	5	109	I feel, very strongly, that people should have the right to decide how they wish to be treated.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
25	5	109	Complementary therapies are a vital part of treatment for a number of conditions, it works alongside and with western medicine. Please keep these wonderful therapies on NICE register□□□	Thank you for sharing your views. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

26	5	109	Just another example of freedom of choice be taking away.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
27	5	109	Complementary therapies such as reflexology have such positive results and I believe that they should be used more, not less, alongside mainstream medical care to improve the quality of life for patients and their families. The removal of such therapies from the NICE guidelines would be a step backwards when we should be looking forwards.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
28	5	109	I am signing because I believe in the power that Reflexology has to help heal individuals	Thank you for sharing your views. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

29	5	109	I give reflexology to clients in palliative care and have seen how much it has helped them at the end of their life.	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
30	5	109	As a reflexologist, I know how beneficial it is to help with all kinds of medical conditions. The future is to work together, CAM and allopathic practitioners.	Thank you for sharing your views. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
31	5	109	I've been helped by these therapies where medication has failed (eg clearing sinuses)	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

32	5	109	Because I believe complimentary therapies has a place in medicine. I would like to think that they were available to me if I was seriously ill.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
33	5	109	Because complementary therapies are just as important as traditional medications etc	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
34	5	109	I am signing because I have been involved in supporting cancer patients and providing complimentary therapies whilst they are in treatment, remission or near end of life and I believe that the treatments they have received form me have had a huge impact on them and which had been confirmed by patients personally and by their family members.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

35	5	109	I am a reflexologist who has helped a very close friend who had cervical cancer and renal failure from the conventional treatment. Sadly she passed away last year, but I was so pleased that for the last 5 months of her life I could help with her pain relief. She was able to go 12 hours without pain and sometimes weeks without painful spasms. She was able to get up and bake and take her young son out. Reflexology was very beneficial to her. The strong doses of morphine and other medications did little to help her agony. Reflexology was her miracle relief. Complementary therapies should be encouraged.	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
36	5	109	I have studied body massage, Hopi ear candle sports massage and indian head massage. And it has helped as a person to meet all types of people of all ages. Plus I would like to further myself for a business.	Thank you for your comment.
37	5	109	This non-invasive therapy does not cost the NHS vast amounts of money.	Thank you for your comment.
38	5	109	I believe its important	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
39	5	109	I'm signing because I am a Reflexologist and I know that Reflexology and other therapies help people to feel better. My GP has treatments so I know he would agree too.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

40	5	109	Complementary therapies offer a wide range of non-invasive and effective treatments to people with a huge variety of health conditions. It is a lower cost option to over-medication, and should remain as a treatment option with the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
41	5	109	This is so important to those already suffering - please don't remove this !!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
42	5	109	I have seen first hand the benefits that Reflexology can bring to people suffering with terminal cancer.	Thank you for sharing your observation. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

43	5	109	I worked within Specialist Palliative Care providing Complementary Therapies for 12 years and have seen first hand the impact these therapies have. Not only to help ease symptoms, but to ease fear, lift mood and help a person feel normal and gain some control of their situation. To remove Complementary Therapies from NICE guidelines would be a tragedy for all!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
44	5	109	I work in palliative care and how amazing therapies are for children, young people adults and families/ carers! Making a difference to so many!!!	Thank you for your comment.
45	5	109	Complementary therapies should be available to all who want them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
46	5	109	Reflexology is great for supporting patients undergoing any form of illness because it assists the body's own healing mechanisms, lowers stress levels and aids sleep (the list is endless though) Just improving these conditions drastically improves a patient's quality of life and so should not be withdrawn from NICE guidelines just because reflexology is not a drug (as is this what NICE prefer, drug driven wellness care that supports the pharmaceutical industry??)	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

47	5	109	Complementary therapies is a valuable and essential part of any holistic health care model. It is imperative that it become more inclusive within the western medical model .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
48	5	109	Im signing because as a complementary therapist working with people with cancer. I know the difference these therapies can make to a person's ability to cope.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
49	5	109	I think complementary therapies help people and add to their quality of life. It is important to realise that these therapies are a life line to some.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

50	5	109	I'm signing this as I know from my mother and other relatives how much complimentary therapies helped their wellbeing and pain	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
51	5	109	Working in Hospice Palliative Care I see the benefits every day for CT for people with Cancer and other Life Limiting Diseases. Comments include "it is the only thing that takes away my pain".	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
52	5	109	Complementary therapies can benefit people enormously in ways that more formal medicines/treatments can't.	Thank you for sharing your opinion. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

53	5	109	Everyone who is enduring a terminal illness deserves to be treated with care and compassion. By taking complementary therapies out of the equation we are denying them the comfort and relief that they deserve and derive from these treatments and treating them as though they are of no consequence.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
54	5	109	I see how ppl benefit from complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
55	5	109	I have worked as a complimentary therapist and received complimentary had therapies, there is no doubt that if they are carried out in the right manner that they work.	Thank you for sharing your opinion. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
56	5	109	I have primary lymph oedema and there is NO MLD available to me, despite it being the only treatment for this progressive illness.	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

57	5	109	I have treated many client with terminal illnesses Cancer being one of them and these clients have found complementary therapies, primarily Reflexology to be a great help. The same to be said about clients who are ill or in recovery, the feed back of the benefits they feel immense .	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
58	5	109	I currently work as a therapist in a cancer hospital. The medical professionals directly refer their patients to us as they can see the huge benefits of patients experiencing complementary therapies alongside their conventional treatment. Patients benefit hugely. Why remove therapies? It doesn't make any sense	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
59	5	109	Complementary services offer a great service to palliative patients, ask them!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

60	5	109	I am appalled that a democratic right for UK citizens to choose the best therapy for their health is in danger of being taken from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
61	5	109	I'm signing this petition as I feel strongly against removing natural therapies. These therapies give great comfort and joy to patients not alone the benefits they bring with having a treatment. I cannot understand why a natural non evasive treatment would be considered for removal knowing the benefits and relaxation it brings to patients not only on a physical but an emotional level too.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
62	5	109	Ask the patients !	Thank you for your comment.
63	5	109	I believe theses therapies can help	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

64	5	109	I use reflexology and it works	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
65	5	109	These therapies form a vital and unique part of a patient's recovery. No price should be put on a person's health.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
66	5	109	I know complementary therapies greatly improve quality of life for all chronic illnesses	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

67	5	109	This is a vital service to many people who are experiencing terminal illness - I've been able to see the impact of this first hand as a volunteer and a therapist.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
68	5	109	I am secretary of National Association of Complementary Therapies in Hospice and Palliative Care and have worked in Palliative Care for 25 years. I have seen the fantastic benefits to my patients and think Complementary Therapies are an essential part of holistic patient care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
69	5	109	After suffering myself with breast cancer I know how important and relaxing the complimentary therapies are!	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

70	5	109	All positive and supporting actions have a place in this arena and should be managed not removed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
71	5	109	I have seen how truly beneficial and supportive complementary therapies can be on an emotional, spiritual and physical level for someone dealing with a life threatening illness. I personally think this is a disastrous decision, which will have a detrimental effect on so many people's lives.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
72	5	109	Two members of my family has benefited from Complementary Therapy during their cancer treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

73	5	109	Complementary therapies could save the NHS thousands and thousands of pounds, mean that patients leave hospital earlier and also give patients a quality of life that the NHS hasnt time or resources to help them with.	Thank you for sharing your opinion. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
74	5	109	Being a Complementary Therapist for several years I am fully aware of the importance of touch to healing on many levels. It would be a retrograde step to remove this from NICE guidelines. What is life without care and the specialities that only complementary therapies give?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
75	5	109	I have been delivering Complementary Therapies in a Palliative Care setting for 5 years both in day hospice and care at home. I have seen the benefits to the reduction in stress and anxiety in both patients and their carers not to mention the feelings of being supported and to wellbeing. These lead to better quality of life for all affected. For the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence to consider removing Complementary Therapies from their guidelines would be a negative step to take regards to the health and care for all who receive therapies from qualified professional therapists.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

76	5	109	As a professional in the field of bodywork for 41 years I see the essential benefits of integrative therapies used to complement conventional practice	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
77	5	109	Complementary therapies have a proven track record of helping people overcome issues stress, anxiety and even obesity, conditions that cost the NHS many thousands of pounds per year to deal with. Without the sort of services we (as complementary therapists) provide, those currently receiving therapy from us will now become NHS patients and the cost to our already struggling health service will increase.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
78	5	109	Complementary Therapies have helped me & saved NHS expenses!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

79	5	109	Please do not stop complementary therapies! Essential to life>	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
80	5	109	I'm signing because having worked with cancer and palliative patients for the last 8 years I know how significant a contribution we make as complementary therapists to their physical and psychological comfort and wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
81	5	109	Reflexology makes a difference to a persons health and wellbeing this is based on my personal experience of undergoing treatment for migraines, anxiety and stress and then learning to become a reflexologist and doing treatment plans which were and still are invaluable treatment for my children, one of which has autism.	Thank you for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
82	5	109	Human touch & psyche is paramount to healing not pumping a body full of drugs to help the government gain more money & less care about a human being!!	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

83	5	109	We need to keep complimentary therapy...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
84	5	109	Complementary therapy massively help the NHS in reduction of extra cost spent on unrequired surgery etc. It definitely helps in healing and recovery mentally and physically	Thank you for sharing your opinion. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
85	5	109	I'm a complemtary therapist at St Lukes Hospice and see the benefits reflexology and reiki give to patients. With all the studies that have been done I'm shocked at this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

86	5	109	Quality of life is holistic. It is not just being pain free, there is so much more to have understanding for ones situation and for someone outside of the expected medical channels who can bring something additional, something to lift the spirit, produce some positivity.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
87	5	109	A person should be treated holistically and reflexology can play a major part in a body's renewal, repair and recuperation.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
88	5	109	We should look beyond merely dishing out pills to make people feel better. Complimentary therapies give people another choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

89	5	109	Complementary Therapy is a huge part of the care plan for any Palliative care patient and is absolute nonsense to removed. Speak to the patients about the benefits. Removing these guidelines would be a huge step backwards for Complementary Therapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
90	5	109	We all deserve the right to make informed decisions when it comes to our own bodies and our health so all options should be made available. Complimentary Therapies make amazing differences to our quality of life... Let us decide.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
91	5	109	Why deprive the dying of something so fabulous?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

92	5	109	I have seen the enormous good that complementary therapists like Jill have done for patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
93	5	109	Common sense!	Thank you for your comment.
94	5	109	As a palliative care nurse, I witness every day, how hugely beneficial complementary therapies are for our patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
95	5	109	people should not be denied these valuable, life enhancing treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

96	5	109	Am angry that this is even being considered! Integration of complementary therapy and conventional medicine has come a massive long way. This would be a huge backward step.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
97	5	109	I'm signing because I have seen from close quarters the positive impact reflexology treatment has had on patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
98	5	109	as a complementary therapist in palliative care, I see first hand the enormous difference this makes to a patient's wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

99	5	109	Complementary therapies offer so many benefits, with no side effects. Please reconsider!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
100	5	109	I work as a Complementary Therapist in a palliative care setting for the last 12 years. I have seen countless times how therapies can help improve patients' quality of life, ease their symptoms, support and nurture. Please do not remove complementary therapies from NICE guidelines as this will deny access to patients who so need help	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
101	5	109	I'm a reflexologist and know that complementary therapies have a benefit to many. They have no side effects and can be used by almost everyone. Please keep them available.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

102	5	109	People with a terminal illness should have the freedom to choose any complementary therapy that will give them either physical or emotional support. Please do not take this little bit of comfort away from these people, I myself have treated a lady with terminal cancer, who said that during her reflexology session was the only time she was able to relax.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
103	5	109	I have worked in my local hospice since 2005. I see the benefits of complementary therapies on both patients and carers. I am shocked at nice decision!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
104	5	109	I know the importance of keeping complementary therapies on NICE and also raising awareness of this. There's enough case studies to support the need in a more holistic approach to medicine and there is definitely a call for it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

105	5	109	Before I retired I worked in a hospice as a comp therapist and was part of the north Herts group that worked very hard to establish standards for patients and therapists...this feels like we are going backwards. Complementary Therapy is a very important tool for Consultantso in oncology and other long term terminal illnesses to have when there is no further treatment...it helps the patient on their journey and gives help and hope for a good death	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
106	5	109	I believe reflexology makes a significant difference especially emotional well being for people suffering with cancer and many other conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
107	5	109	my sister does this at willowbrook hospice and its a relaxing therapy for those that not gone long left in life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

108	5	109	Working at a Hospice I can see at first hand the benefit of complementary therapies. This is madness!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
109	5	109	I would be proud to help anyone out with a terminal illness, if it helped them cope in their hours of need & to help their well being	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
110	5	109	I too work in a Hospice where Complementary Therapies are openly and widely used. There are a lot of patients who rely and benefit from the support that is given from receiving therapies. Please reconsider this decision.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

111	5	109	we should have options!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
112	5	109	My work colleague at WillowBrook Hospice provides fantastic therapy to people who are suffering with all different types of illnesses!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
113	5	109	Palliative care patients will lose out.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

114	5	109	I work in a cancer centre and daily see the benefits of complementary therapy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
115	5	109	I am a therapist working in Palliative care. I can see the huge benefits patients get from these therapies. Removing them from the guidelines would be withdrawing this valuable service from the people who need it the most.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
116	5	109	I believe Complimentary Therapies help many more people than have been officially recorded.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

117	5	109	Reflexology and other complementary therapies can have an amazing positive influence on well being and relaxation. This has a knock on effect to a person's outlook on life particularly when dealing with serious and terminal illnesses.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
118	5	109	Reflexology has helped me with depression and anxiety tremendously. Used along side western medicines is extremely beneficial.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
119	5	109	Patients get so much benefit from complementary therapies when they are going through the toughest time of their lives. It is outrageous to deprive them of the comfort this provides them with. I see the benefits day in day out as I am a therapist working with these people, please show your support xxx	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

120	5	109	Reflexology benefits many people including those living with cancer. As a reflexologist I have seen many positive results.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
121	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and in my experience I have seen so many people benefit from complementary therapies, more so than orthodox medicines. They should be available on the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
122	5	109	I am a convert to complementary medicine and have found it so helpful, we need both.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

123	5	109	I have experienced complementary therapies in palliative care and believe they are beneficial	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
124	5	109	I'm signing because I am a complementary therapist and know how beneficial it can be for those needing palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
125	5	109	There is too much to describe as to why I am signing. Call me. Email me. We can talk for days. Client who had a bilateral brain wash and is still alive and has minor paralysis due to the additional therapy of Reflexology assisting in his recovery!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

126	5	109	I don't agree with complimentary therapies being removed!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
127	5	109	This is essential to our patients, it helps the relax and, helps the sleep. Please don't take it away from us	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
128	5	109	Reflexology made me pain free.	Thank you for your comment.
129	5	109	It appears that the pharmaceutical industry has a vested interest against working in partnership with other therapies regardless of evidence or reported benefits We must fight to prevent the marginalisation of therapies which could work to complement mainstream medicine which identifies and treats symptoms but ignores the possible underlying causes and imbalance in the individual's experience of dis-ease	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

130	5	109	I'm a wholehearted supporter and use of complementary therapies. NICE should be looking to further integration of health treatments rather than restricting them to pharma products	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
131	5	109	This is my 12th year of working as an oncology massage/reflexology specialist in my local cancer unit. The benefits of boosting the immune system are immense.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
132	5	109	Reflexology has helped me enormously and I should imagine someone with a terminal illness would benefit and could feel much more comfortable with regular treatment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

133	5	109	I see first hand on a daily basis the impact ct has on dying patients and their families. The benefits have to be seen to be believed.. Please listen when we say that every dying patient deserves this as a fundamental part of their care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
134	5	109	The use of complimentary is invaluable to those who suffer with chronic pain who don't want to take yet another mind altering, zombifying drug!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
135	5	109	I am a palliative care nurse, the complementary therapy arei invaluable.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

136	5	109	This is an amazing part of care that patients need. It is so important.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
137	5	109	As I therapist myself I see so much good come out of many complimentary therapies both for the patients and their families - why change that , it defies all logic !?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
138	5	109	I volunteer as a Reflexologist at a Hospice which has a large complementary therapy department and the patients and carers all report how much it helps them!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

139	5	109	I work in a hospice and hear first hand how wonderful our patients find this treatment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
140	5	109	I disagree with this proposal	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
141	5	109	I believe that complimentary therapy is key in health care. Working in a hospice I have seen the benefits first hand	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

142	5	109	I am a complementary therapist working in palliative care and see the benefits of what we do everyday for our patients and their families	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
143	5	109	As a reflexologist that has worked with people in palliative care in know it helps and is a very important part of this time for all that are involved, patients, family, friends and carers alike.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
144	5	109	I believe alternative treatments are beneficial to patients on an emotion & physical level.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

145	5	109	I'm signing because I am a complementary therapist practising reflexology, future clinical training entails reflexology lymphatic drainage and oncology reflexology, patients can and do benefit immensely from complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
146	5	109	I've had cervical cancer wish I could of choice to have something like this it's sad that we don't get to know what's out there	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
147	5	109	People clearly do benefit from complementary therapies as evidenced by the sheer numbers of people that use them. This proposal is lamentable and denies people choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

148	5	109	I am a qualified nurse and a Complementary therapist! Both professions complement each other however my experience of reflexology to date has been extremely rewarding with clients benefitting from treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
149	5	109	I treat cancer patients regularly with Reflexology and Reiki and the results are incredible. The treatments really support patients through their chemotherapy helping them manage their symptoms from the chemo, and giving them more energy and something 'nice' to look forward to through their gruelling medical treatment. A client recently said to me after her first reflexology session 'Thank you I have been feeling unbelievably better Actually felt more awake and energised this morning than I have in months Thank you again'	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
150	5	109	I'm a CBT therapist and strongly believe in the benefits of complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

151	5	109	I gave up a career in Project Management to totally retrain in reflexology as a result of the significant difference I saw made to those at their wits end in desperation with pain and side effects from mixes of medications and progressive debilitating illnesses. A single parent of a 2 year old child working as a project manager, my life was put into total turmoil as was my health as I lost my husband to cancer. I owe my ability to cope with this to the fact I received regular reflexology to rebalance body and emotions. At a time anti depressant medication lost me friends and support from colleagues and in fact my job	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
152	5	109	I don't want this to happen	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
153	5	109	People can derive so much benefit, pain relief and comfort from these therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

154	5	109	I am a palliative care nurse and understand how this treatment has such a positive impact on people with terminal illness . Far from stopping it Resources need to be increased hugely ! I firmly believe if access was increased then medication costs would be reduced .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
155	5	109	I work in Palliative care . I see the benefit that complementary therapies give patients . This is very short sighted.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
156	5	109	These therapies are a crucial resorce for patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

157	5	109	I feel very strongly about this as I have seen first hand some very good results	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
158	5	109	I am a Palliative Care Specialist Nurse and have witnessed how Complimentary Therapies support the holistic care of our patients on every level.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
159	5	109	People in need,can feel the benefit of these therapies. You know it is true...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

160	5	109	This would be a move backwards. That's not a direction I want to go.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
161	5	109	I see the benefit complementary therapies have with my clients health and wellbeing. It is so more cost effective than some pharma. What is their agenda? Its not logical, I suspect powerful conventional medicine influences are underpinning this decision. So depressing.	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
162	5	109	Having experienced first hand the benefits of reflexology in palliative care for friends, family and clients, I cannot believe that NICE are planning to remove complementary therapies from their guidelines. How can they deny this group who so obviously find benefit from their treatments? PLEASE, listen and reconsider.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

163	5	109	I work in a hospice as a Registered nurse and therapist. Complementary therapy benefits patients enormously and is an important part of the care patients receive. They find it really beneficial	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
164	5	109	More propaganda all set up do the government and drug making corporations who make billions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
165	5	109	There is no doubt that complementary therapy supports to lead the Healthiest life you can ever wish for.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

166	5	109	I've seen the benefits and spoken to those who receive this. I work at the Hospice..	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
167	5	109	Cancer treatment must be for the whole person	Thank you for your comment.
168	5	109	I am a Complementary Therapist working in a Hospice. I know the value of my therapies for every patient I work with. Don't take that away.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
169	5	109	I work in palliative care and see the benefits of complementary therapies on a daily basis. It has a valuable place in the care of patients and families.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

170	5	109	I work in palliative care and see the benefits for patients and their family's.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
171	5	109	We need these therapists for palliative care patients and their loved ones . You should not rob the dignity and care from patients like this. It's disgraceful taking the service away .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
172	5	109	I have seen first hand how complimentary therapy benefits patients! It's so important!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

173	5	109	Reflexology is my passion I currently work for the harmony therapy trust and I know how beneficial it is to my clients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
174	5	109	You only have to talk to a palliative care/terminal care patient to know that complementary therapies are a special part of there journey towards end of life. It is also a big benefit to their relative and carers. Please do not remove this from the guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
175	5	109	As a Therspist who has worked with cancer patients since 2004, I have seen first hand the comfort that complementary therapies can bring to patients and their families. I feel it would be very shortsighted to remove them	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

176	5	109	NICE have obviously not done their homework, very narrow minded	Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
177	5	109	I work at a hospice and one can see what benefits a patient and family receive from complimentary therapies	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
178	5	109	A favor de las terapias alternativas.	Thank you for your comment.
179	5	109	I am convinced that some complementary therapies can enhance the quality of some lives. Acupuncture has saved me from having expensive surgery so has actually saved the NHS money. I have also had reflexology which also helped with my wellbeing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

180	5	109	Complementary therapies are needed in the modern society. They have been shown to work where orthodox treatments have not or to aid healing alongside orthodox treatments. To remove them is to deny people a choice. What reason is there to remove complementary therapies? Are orthodox treatments also to be removed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
181	5	109	Without doubt they help!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
182	5	109	Anything that eases cancers pain should be encouraged. Why would you take it away?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

183	5	109	I am a complimentary therapist who has provided comfort and healing to many people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
184	5	109	Reflexology truly works. I was healed of Fibromyalgia using Reflexologist. As a result, I became a Reflexologist to help others in their health care journey. It is a BIG mistake to remove Complementary Therapists from NICE.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
185	5	109	I believe alternative therapy helps. I have reflexology it's amazing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

186	5	109	I have seen first hand what complementary therapy can do for patients at all stages of their illness and there can be no denying the benefits.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
187	5	109	Unbelievable that NICE can even be thinking of doing this. Does patient comfort and well being no longer mean anything? Come on NICE man up and do the right thing...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
188	5	109	I work in palliative care and I have seen first hand the benefits of complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

189	5	109	its wrong to deny people their choices in life. its wrong to take away from them what they feel makes them feel better whether psychologically or physically	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
190	5	109	The guidelines of nice are so medically biased and not researched in depth	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
191	5	109	I work in a hospice and see the benefits complementary therapies can bring about . Allow people to have the choice .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

192	5	109	I am convinced that Reflexology, along with other complementary therapies, has a big part to play in supporting those nearing the end of life, our local Hospice has a fabulous complementary therapies team.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
193	5	109	I believe complimentary therapy works.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
194	5	109	I believe and have witnessed how comforting and beneficial these treatments can be for cancer patients and even those in palliative care .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

195	5	109	Firm believer in complementary therapy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
196	5	109	Complimentary therapies are important part of palliative care!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
197	5	109	This therapy makes a massive difference to patients and relatives alike	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
198	5	109	Important part of recovery for patients	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

199	5	109	I work in a hospice where 40 volunteers provided over 3500 qualified complementary therapy treatments to patients , carers and families last year. We receive nothing but praise, thanks , positive feedback and requests for further visits. We make a difference every day.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
200	5	109	I want it to stay...and improve... and expand...because its good and it helps	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
201	5	109	I am a palliative care nurse and really see the benefits of therapies to patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

202	5	109	Reflexology world great for me and I couldn't afford to pay for it privately.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
203	5	109	I feel very strongly and am able to evidence that complimentary therapy plays a huge part in caring for people who not only struggle with physical illness but those needing psychological support, particularly those with life limiting illness. Patients, family members and carers can also benefit from this truly holistic service.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
204	5	109	Complementary Therapies provide gentle, holistic, person-oriented treatment to aid healing, with no side effects	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

205	5	109	I am signing this petition because complementary therapies have an important role to play within palliative care, for patients and for the support and the well being of family and carers. I have seen through my own work what a difference these therapies can make to end of life experiences for people and how it can bring calm and reduce pain and suffering.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
206	5	109	I am signing because I am a nurse and a reflexologist, so I see the benefit of using complementary therapies with medical care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
207	5	109	Nice do not have a clue about ordinary people	Thank you for your comment.
208	5	109	Complementary therapies are bliss.	Thank you for your comment.
209	5	109	Having had breast cancer twice, complementary treatments where an enormous economic help to me	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

210	5	109	I use and share mindfulness. It works. I use reiki - not because I believe in spiritual healing, but I believe in giving others a safe place where they can let their body relax. I've been hypnotised and it worked - in 30 minutes I lost a 20 year smoking habit and haven't smoked for 15 years. Just because these things don't profit pharmaceutical companies doesn't mean they don't improve wellbeing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
211	5	109	I volunteer at Beechwood Cancer Care Centre and the patients here benefit tremendously from complementary therapies. The value of these therapies cannot be underestimated.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
212	5	109	I'm signing because I strongly believe in the use of complementary therapies and their powers in aiding the individual on their treatment journey.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

213	5	109	I do not believe that complimentary therapies should be removed from NICE and neither do my terminally ill patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
214	5	109	I'm a palliative care nurse and see on a daily basis the benefits of complimentary therapies, please don't dismiss them	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
215	5	109	Complementary therapies work but equally important is that people should have a choice about having therapies that complement mainstream medicine	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
216	5	109	The medical model doesn't cure or indeed suit all	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

217	5	109	It is very beneficial in palliative care and also helps to relieve stress	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
218	5	109	Having given massage to many people with terminal illness I know for a fact that complementary therapy makes a positive difference and can make them feel better even when the medics have said they can do no more.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
219	5	109	Complementary therapies are powerful tools for healing on many levels	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

220	5	109	I am an osteopath who has supported people during and after cancer treatment . Patients have found it helpful and comforting .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
221	5	109	I care and this is so important to so many	Thank you for your comment.
222	5	109	Complementary therapies improve quality of life, and often promote healing, which is beneficial to patients even if it doesn't deliver clinical benefits. The power of the placebo effect is huge	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
223	5	109	I strongly believe in the importance of complimentary therapy, it is not all about the drugs. As a therapist I have seen it work and bring relief for clients on numerous times	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
224	5	109	Caroline.irwin	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

225	5	109	I see so much benefit for my palliative clients receiving reflexology. Some say ' reflexology is the only thing that gets me through' and ' I wouldn't have coped without it'	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
226	5	109	It's the right thing to do!!	Thank you for your comment.
227	5	109	I think that people should judge anything until you have experienced it your self or actually understood why, its okay sitting behind a desk and looking at papers but hey lets get real	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
228	5	109	I'm a reflexologist and I have seen the benefits this holistic therapy can have on a patients psychological wellbeing. Why take that away from a person, when in some cases that is the only positive thing in their life?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

229	5	109	My sister in Law and my Aunt died of cancer, every little helps in this situation.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
230	5	109	I am a Hospice Nurse and believe complimentary therapy plays a really important part in supporting not only the patients but their families.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
231	5	109	I'm signing because it's the 21st century people and all therapy and medicines have been available for just as long. People need to have choices especially when faced with horrendous ordeals! They need what they need!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

232	5	109	Why remove this from the guidelines?.....because THEY WORK!! Unlike the chemical rubbish that's thrown at people because it keeps BIG Pharma companies in business!! I'd rather have Complementary Therapies ANYDAY than the poisons that are pushed by people who should know better! (NICE) What will be next I wonder???	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
233	5	109	The benefits of this type of treatment are so beneficial and very special to people having to face an terrible illness. Nice needs to live up to its name....	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
234	5	109	I am a cancer survivor and want others to	Thank you for your comment.
235	5	109	I recieve Manual Lymph Drainage from a fully trained Vodder MLD therapist for my head and neck lymphoedema(non cancer). My lymphoedema cannot be cured but it has been partly reversed and controlled by regular MLD. Prior to this the swelling on my eyelids and central face affected my eyesight as well as being considerably disfiguring.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

236	5	109	I am a practicing clinical therapist in cancer/palliative care and support and I am disappointed that after years of hard work therapies are still not being given the credibility they deserve. Shocking!!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
237	5	109	It is evident that by supporting ourselves with healthful activities we can reduce the strain on the NHS. By keeping professional therapists in the nice guidelines there can also be regulation. People benefit from hands on touch therapies. Reflexology in particular is noted for pain relief and sleep improvement.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
238	5	109	CT is a vital service for the patients I have worked with over the last 20 years, it relieves stress, reduces anxiety & reduces pain. Please do not stop it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
239	5	109	complementary, more an assent to help reduce pain and pain relief.	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

240	5	109	I'm a reflexologist of 8 years and have clients that keep me in business because reflexology works. It works for relief of many ailments. It would be a tragedy to disclude complimentary therepies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
241	5	109	I work full time providing complementary therapies to patients and staff in a large hospital. People call on our department when they aren't getting relief through usual channels. We are sought for pain relief, anxiety relief and insomnia help. Employees use our employee clinic to help them deal with life's stresses and physical aches and pains too. It's one of our employee benefits. People really do appreciate our services.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
242	5	109	Reflexology has shown some amazing results in clients and it would be a tragedy to deprive the people of the U.K. From this effective non-invasisive and inexpensive form of treatment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

243	5	109	I am convinced that complementary therapies(especially reflexology and massage) can have a part in enhancing the quality of life for people who are suffering	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
244	5	109	I know from experience that Complementary Therapies are very helpfull.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
245	5	109	I have personally seen the benefits of complementary therapy for a long term back problem I have, and can say it is very beneficial.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

246	5	109	There are many options for terminally ill, rather than limit people's choices, it would be a better option to alleviate their pain and suffering through alternative methods which are proven	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
247	5	109	Complementary therapies help people in palliative care in many ways. There is pain relief combined with caring touch, a relationship that builds up, and genuine care. I think taking away complementary therapies from patients in palliative care they will lose something very valuable.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
248	5	109	Alternative therapies have much to offer a sick person. Thousands of years of use make them a proven modality. Drugs and surgery are NOT the only answers (and sometimes they don't work at all). Having further (or even first course of action) modality options is important.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

249	5	109	This works. It needs to be kept for the benefits it provides	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
250	5	109	I am signing because I have a chronic pain condition , which has only improved after various attempts at trying prescription medicines from my GP, I then found a wonderful reflexologist and homeopath who worked together and now my condition is much improved	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
251	5	109	I too have treated cancer patients with reflexology so know the benefits and relief it brings.. giving relaxation leading to being able to actually sleep properly..not to mention being able to go for a wee!! Small things that mean so much to someone suffering with a terminal illness	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

252	5	109	I work in palliative care and witness everyday the benefit patients feel and report on receiving complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
253	5	109	Am a comp therapist treating cancer patients	Thank you for your comment.
254	5	109	I work in palliative care in a hospice and see firsthand the fantastic benefits that our patients receive from the complementary therapies given. I cannot believe this plan is being given consideration.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
255	5	109	I think these are good options for people like me that need them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

256	5	109	I am a clinical reflexologist and have evidence that my treatments that I have delivered to children with SEN absolutely benefits from this weekly treatment. If you would like any further information please contact me!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
257	5	109	It's been proven to work, just because science cannot quantify everything doesn't mean it should be dismissed!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
258	5	109	I work at a cancer care centre which offers complementary therapies to patients and their carers and families and have seen the incredible benefit this has in palliative care, this is such an amazing source of support and help for so many	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

259	5	109	We should be moving forward with these therapies not backwards!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
260	5	109	Having lost close family to this awful disease I understand the importance	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
261	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and have experienced first-hand the difference complementary therapies have on those having palliative care, those with dementia and their carers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

262	5	109	We need to be progressive and move forwards not take leaps backwards.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
263	5	109	If NICE remove complementary therapies from the register, it goes against all the good work that Sally Kay and her trainees have been doing to support breast cancer sufferers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
264	5	109	I've been a Reflexologist for 20 years and also offer other complementary therapies and I have seen the difference they make to people's physical and emotional well-being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

265	5	109	Complementary therapies are highly effective in the treatment of many conditions, avoiding the use of costly drugs that often have serious side effects. As a comparatively low cost option, they are also cost effective.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
266	5	109	As both a nurse and an aromatherapist I have seen how much complementary therapies can help in both palliative care and in mental health.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
267	5	109	I volunteer at a cancer day care centre. I know how much they benefit from treatments	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

268	5	109	As a nurse and complementary therapist I can see the benefits of these treatments as long as they are used professionally.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
269	5	109	I've received therapy whilst living with cancer and two major operations and I always feel so much better after these sessions. The therapists are always there to massage aches and pains that medication and pain relief can't help. Many therapist are volunteers. Please keep it in your guidelines. I look forwards to the days when I have reflexology and dread other Hosptal visits.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
270	5	109	At the end of a person's life. After paying years of NI and Tax . People should have a choice of additional Therapy (within limts) should they require it. If a Doctor or Nrse can be paid £100,000 a year. Then an Aromatherapist costing £20 for just 1 hour of TLC can be afforded. If it's about money just cut other people's pay. Limit pay to £40K-£50K a year for all.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

271	5	109	I know from family experience how these treatments have been hugely beneficial . These decisions frustrate me as the drug industry has such an influence in every facet of our lives and cause more damage with the side effects of drugs than any complementary therapy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
272	5	109	I believe complimentary therapies help you feel better and energised. They are relaxing, this can only help. I love reflexology, massage and reiki.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
273	5	109	For 20 years I have known cancer patients benefit from Natural Healing. It has given them peace of mind, the ability to cope and make life changes to help and much much more. I have sat in on meditation groups as cancer support groups and heard the testimonies of those that have benefitted from complementary therapies. All complementary therapies need to be considered to help patients deal with the enormous pressure and pain and change any disease/ condition brings not least cancer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
274	5	109	Its needed	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

275	5	109	To enhance the lives if people with cancer and other illnesses is something that should be standard care and should be given freely not taken away. Or left for charities to do.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
276	5	109	As a qualified reflexologist I see the effectiveness of this treatment on clients, without any harmful side effects	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
277	5	109	I am an aromatherapist & clinical massage therapist & know how much complementary therapies can help to support people through illness & during treatment & palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

278	5	109	Why deny a complementary therapy to someone in their hour of need, I have seen the change in people just after a 1 hour session, attitude, personality and behaviour, the smile on their faces tells the story. Please share and support	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
279	5	109	I'm a cancer survivor and we should do anything required to help people beat it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
280	5	109	I have no doubt this is all about money and drugs. Complementary medicine is the future. Functional Medicine uses it. Enlightened doctors belief in it. There is much research. It works really well much of the time. It tackles the causes. It rarely has side effects. It looks at the whole person. NICE is not nice at all! Do not get hypnotised by modern medicine people. It is amazing in acute cases, backwards in chronic disease treatment because it is ignoring the primary drivers of dis-ease: stress / emotions, lifestyle, diet. We all know the truth of this. Western Medicine continues to treat symptoms whilst keeping us hooked on drugs for life if possible.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

281	5	109	I am a reflexologist who see's how we can help these poor sick people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
282	5	109	These treatments work more so then the poison you get out of the doctor. nothing should ever be ruled out when it comes to treatment and making the person feel better	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
283	5	109	I can't see any good reason for denying this treatment, when I can see so many positives for the benefit of the sufferer. Just why????	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

284	5	109	I have been a volunteer complementary therapist at my local hospice for just over 7yrs and have seen the benefit of the therapies offered first hand. Many of the patients who have received our therapies have reduced fear and anxiety therefore reducing the need for increased pain relieving medications. Sleep patterns are improved and general well being is enhanced at an extremely fragile stage of their palliative journey. This is a right those patients deserve and should not be denied.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
285	5	109	My Mum had reflexology while she was in a hospice, terminally ill with cancer. It helped her immensely.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
286	5	109	I am a professional, fully qualified and insured aromatherapist who has seen the health benefits I can provide to so many people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
287	5	109	These therapies mean so much to people suffering	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

288	5	109	I'm a complementary therapist and know the huge benefits these therapies have on people and their well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
289	5	109	There is no doubt in my mind that complementary therapies can assist healing both emotionally and physically. It would be a very negative step and would deprive people of the emotional support that they may need and that modern medicine doesn't provide.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
290	5	109	I'm an Aromatherapist & a Reiki healer & I have seen people helped enormously with these therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

291	5	109	I BELIEVE COMPLEMENTARY THERAPIES ARE AN INTEGRAL PART OF GOOD HEALTH	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
292	5	109	I am a great believer in complementary therapy as I have seen the difference it makes to a person who is suffering from a terminal illness. It was my drive to learn about Reflexology in the first place.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
293	5	109	I'm a volunteer in day care in a hospice and see the huge benefits patients receive from complimentary therapies.I believe it plays an important part of their treatment and wellbeing and if anything should be increased not removed. This should not be allowed to happen!!!!!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
294	5	109	I am a Medical reflexologist practitioner	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

295	5	109	Complementary therapies offer an alternative to drugs, give pain relief and relieve the NHS of drug dependency in some conditions and therefore save money!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
296	5	109	The beneficial results of Reflexology treatments for a wide range of conditions is well documented.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
297	5	109	I've been a hospice nurse I know these therapies help	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

298	5	109	Isn't this about care and humanity? Surely alternative care for terminal illness is a higher priority than some other medical interventions, more for cosmetic reasons? Just wrong priorities if this is removed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
299	5	109	Even if it's the smallest thing that can help a persons quality of life it's important and should be continued, who are we to take away anything that improves people's quality of life complementary treatments have such a range of benefits and offer a different approach to medicines ect	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
300	5	109	Complementary Therapies are so beneficial to everyone, especially those of us who are not in the best of health. Shameful that this human right is been taken away from individuals to have a complementary therapy during illness. I dont think much of this organisation for making this change to their guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

301	5	109	I am both a nurse and a therapist and throughout my career have seen the value of complimentary therapies for this with terminal illness. It is extremely shortsighted to take this away and a step back for healthcare. We should be seeing more opportunity for NICE and SIGN to add complimentary therapies into various guidelines. Overall in specific areas your drug bill would reduce, people would have a greater quality o life and sense of wellbeing, and Choice (let's not forget choice) .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
302	5	109	The benefits of moving towards an integrative medical approach are well documented as being highly positive to peoples wellbeing. As well as that it makes sense financially to the tax payers of this country to ease the burden on certain medical interventions by adopting more complementary approaches...not getting rid of them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
303	5	109	Having given reflexology to cancer sufferers, I have no doubt whatsoever that they find it helpful.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

304	5	109	There is no doubt in my mind that complementary therapies are a vital part of health care and should be increased not decreased	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
305	5	109	I've used Complementary therapies alongside my role as a RGN for many years.had excellent feedback from patients families and colleagues. It would be devistating if it were no longer available .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
306	5	109	I have witnessed profound improvement in so many people lives through reflexology and other complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
307	5	109	I believe complimentary therapies are the future	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

308	5	109	I believe complementary therapies are what they say 'complementary' to palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
309	5	109	I know several people for who. Complementary therapies have had beneficial outcomes....I use them myself and have had huge relief from pain .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
310	5	109	Disease is a manifestation of imbalance of the whole. Treating symptoms solely is no longer an option, as disease remains or changes. People deserve to be treated as a whole not parts. Complementary therapists who are experts in their fields play a vital part. We need more experts, more professional therapists aspiring to create higher levels of practise.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

311	5	109	Because all therapies help . It is better to have natural then drugs	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
312	5	109	I use this type of treatment and find it a great help and think that it should be readily available along side other treamemts and medications.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
313	5	109	These things should be a given not to be fought for. This government is a disgrace	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

314	5	109	Im a clinical reflexologist and aromatherapist and during a 3 month period of doing voluntary work for Douglas Macmillan I saw first hand how these therapies benefited both terminally ill patients and family.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
315	5	109	Complementary medicine has found it's place and equal status alongside mainstream medicine, in practice and in research. It has made a huge and valuable contribution to our understanding of disease, health and well-being and continues to open up new fields of understanding and groundbreaking methods of healing. Supporting complementary medicines and therapies is a conscious choice to empower our health and address the autocracy of the pharmaceutical companies and other bodies who's ethos is profitability and maintaining states of illness. I fully endorse this petition	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
316	5	109	I am a massage therapist and work with people living with cancer. The feedback I receive is so positive and I cannot believe that NICE are considering this backward step. My clients feel a huge sense of being normal during treatments and comment on the relief from the physical pain and lack of compassionate touch during treatments and relaxation they have after their treatments as they try to find their"new normal". This really is a huge backward step in my opinion with a total lack of concern and compassion towards people at this most difficult period in their lives.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

317	5	109	The benefit complementary therapies give to when I'll is so comforting & de stressing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
318	5	109	I'm signing because I know first hand how imporyant a difference complimentary therapies make to a persons wellbeing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
319	5	109	After training as an aromatherapist and seeing the benefits both emotionally and psychologically for people this is terrible! The argument is there is no medical evidence it works.... However there is evidence that some alternative therapies benefit people in terms of stress and psychological issues that surround illnesses..... Which in turns helps the body. Also in terms of pain management. I think there needs to be stricter guidelines around alternative therapy but it needs to be on offer to everyone.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

320	5	109	I think they give marvellous support to patients during conventional treatment. We should always have a choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
321	5	109	I'm signing because I have been privileged enough to be able to have provided 1-to-1 care to people with life-limiting illnesses, in my role as a therapist (with a medical background). I have witnessed the light that goes on in their eyes when they are truly connected with as a fellow human in pain that needs care, touch, time and support - not just as a 'Ca. Liver in bed 3' or a ticking time bomb with a diagnosis over their heads that we're all scared of. Medical intervention saves and prolongs lives - but it also de-humanises them once they're in 'the system'. I cannot see how offering complementary therapies in a way that reminds them they are a wholehearted human, does anything other than help. It is arrogant to assume that Western medicine is the only answer. So what if science cannot always prove complementary medicines help - it cannot prove that they don't either!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

322	5	109	If you remove guidelines for any form of treatment be it complimentary or otherwise, it paves the way for those less scrupulous to abuse the treatments and the people being "treated." It would further send the profession into disrepute and destroy honest people's business. Those who, with or without the scientific evidence have time and time again provided a service that enhances people's well being and quality of life. Above all, even if there is no quantifiable evidence, that alone should prove the worth of these therapies and ensure that certain guidelines are in place to protect patients from charlatans. Is this not one of the reasons guidelines are in place? To ensure that therapies, medical services and treatments are practiced properly?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
323	5	109	I m a complimentary therapist and know the benefits	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
324	5	109	I am a lymphoedema therapist and I know what the difference my work makes	Thank you for your comment.
325	5	109	I am a Bowen therapist and I have seen it turn around the lives of people who have come to the end of the road with "medical" options and have exhausted all so called conventional healthcare answers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

326	5	109	Why take away a treatment that is proved successful?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
327	5	109	I'm signing because I'm a nurse in a hospice and our patients and their carers benefit hugely from all complementary therapies. Why take away something that's clearly working?!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
328	5	109	I have had some Bowen Therapy from someone who was training, this was completely new to me and I am amazed at the (immediate) results - this should be promoted	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

329	5	109	I believe that Complementary Therapies have a place in the palliative care field and to remove it from the guidelines would be depriving patients of the care they deserve at such a difficult time	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
330	5	109	Complementary therapy is no threat to conventional and brings a great deal of benefit to thousands !	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
331	5	109	I'm signing this petition because the charity I founded provides free therapy to those living with cancer or other serious illnesses. All hospitals in Kent, hospices and GPs and nurses refer their patients to us before during or after medical treatment as a means of lifting their spirits and as part of integrated healthcare helping them towards a sense of wellness and wellbeing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

332	5	109	Needs to be included	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
333	5	109	I am signing because I as an experienced Holistic therapist, Jikiden Reiki teacher and Reflexologist, I have witnessed over the last 8 + years very many clients who have benefitted from the work I do with them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
334	5	109	Because end of life care matters and complimentary therapy lets people escape from their in curable illness for a small yet important time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

335	5	109	It's an option that all people should have who have terminal illness	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
336	5	109	I believe this is invaluable	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
337	5	109	I'm signing because I think there should be a wide range of therapies available and "accepted" within the UK. Everyone is different and should be provided with a variety of options that may help aid them in their difficulties, this includes complementary therapies. I work within healthcare and have seen how beneficial they can be.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

338	5	109	It's WRONG and CRUEL to remove these.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
339	5	109	I am a physiotherapist and work with a holistic therapist, and their work is fantastic and supports ours.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
340	5	109	complementary therapies reduce healthcare costs	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

341	5	109	Holistic therapy is supportive of the medical practitioners not a cost to them as it is free from a charity and the medical profession refer their patients as it supports their road to "wellness and wellbeing".	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
342	5	109	Complimentary Therapies play a great part in the healing process in every dimension of health. Be it Physical, Mental, Psychosocial, Sexual, Spiritual or Emotional	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
343	5	109	it is stupid to remove something that works but is not costing the NHS	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

344	5	109	The work these people do is so selfless and it brings so much comfort to those who are suffering illness and terminal conditions.. their work is priceless!!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
345	5	109	I feel benefits of all complementary therapists	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
346	5	109	As a therapist for over 20 years and reflexology for more than 15 years. It helps and this clearly is a distortion of facts in order to serve the pharm and reduce holistic methods... we are not fooled by this action. I know the real reason behind many do.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

347	5	109	Ummm, are they being removed because the Government, or their friends, can't make any money on them via taxes??	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
348	5	109	I am a reflexologist and feel very strongly about this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
349	5	109	I have seen the benefits, comfort and assurance that can be given/received when someone is going through treatment for Cancer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

350	5	109	Sometimes conventional medicine can be complimented by alternative non drug therapy treats and techniques that are non medical but have a place in treating the pt in a non hospital medical environment much needed at times	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
351	5	109	I'm signing because I had to turn to complementary therapy when the NHS failed to cure my ailments. I have not looked back since.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
352	5	109	I believe in the benefits of Holistic Therapies!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
353	5	109	https://www.change.org/logout	Thank you , however we don no understand your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

354	5	109	I believe reflexology is beneficial for most ailments and being part NICE is crucial to maintain standards. I qualified in Reflexology over 26 years ago and have witnessed fantastic results.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
355	5	109	I believe these therapies help and can stop pain they dont harm so they need toncontinue.□	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
356	5	109	I am a clinical complementary therapist...i completed 3 years uni training for reflexology and aromatherapy at foundation science degree level. I have seen many successful outcomes with my therapies...they should be promoting us not dropping off!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

357	5	109	We're treating the old, the poor, the homeless, the mentally ill and the sick as an inconvenience. This is not the nineteenth century. Treat people with compassion. It's funny how money can always be found for other things.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
358	5	109	It's so badly needed It prolongs life. We all deserve the best in life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
359	5	109	Complementary therapies are pivotal	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

360	5	109	As a cancer nurse specialist and a cancer patient I have true understanding of the value of complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
361	5	109	My mum is an amazing complimentary therapist and she and other people that do jobs like hers deserve to be paid for their precious skills.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
362	5	109	I am signing this because I am a holistic/ complementary therapist and cannot express enough how this huge variety of treatments brings such wellness and wellbeing to people who so much need and deserve this treatment especially in times of a diagnosis of a life altering illness/cancer. (physically, emotionally and spiritually) Please don't remove from nice guidelines☐.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

363	5	109	This is completely ludicrous. Clearly, this is all about money and greed. Luckily, many people are waking up to what really is and isn't good for them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
364	5	109	I am signing this because over the years I have treated patients /clients with reflexology and other remedial,therapies. The benefits gained are second to none. To withdraw these valuable and beneficial therapies is depriving end of life people from some pain free time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
365	5	109	This will hinder the acceptance of holistic/complimentary therapies as an effective method of healing many conditions	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

366	5	109	This is a vital service that is needed to support people and families during most difficult times	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
367	5	109	Everyone should have choices!!!!	Thank you for your comment.
368	5	109	If no guidelines we are opening the door to charlatans and unscrupulous people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
369	5	109	I am a Nurse as well as a Reflexologist. I have worked in oncology and Palliative Care and have seen the benefits of Complementary Therapies and how it has helped many with terminal cancer as well as those undergoing rigorous chemo regimes. I feel it is a vital part of treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

370	5	109	I suffer 24/7 pain and rely on my therapies for some relief. My life would cease to have meaning without these treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
371	5	109	As a therapist for over 16 years I have witnessed first hand how much benefit people get from complementary therapies - often when conventional treatments have not worked. To withdraw them from the NHS deprives many of chance of actually getting help.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
372	5	109	I believe in complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment.
373	5	109	I am a complimentary therapist and think everyone should have a choice.	Thank you for your comment.
374	5	109	Just as medicine is a science so is Complementary Therapy. I don't dismiss medicine, I am appreciative of it, and I understand that not all complementary therapy works for everyone, just as not all medicine works for everyone, but the fact is, it DOES work. Complementary therapy is simple yet effective. It provides comfort and support. You can't get that from a drug. Don't take away from someone in their time of need the things they need the most - emotional support, a friendly face to see, a caring ear to listen, a human bond, affection, reassurance, touch and unconditional love.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

375	5	109	Options should be being added not taken away. I should have the right to the best treatment regardless of whether alternative remedies or not.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
376	5	109	I have worked within the complementary therapy field for many years and have seen the benefits to patients receiving palliative care. Patients and carers deserve high quality care and Complementary therapies are desperately needed to fill the gap left behind by nurses and Doctors who are too over stretched to be able to give them quality time and caring touch. Patients are asking for more to be available and not less!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
377	5	109	I'm not only a complementary therapist, but my husband and daughter both have cancer. We have all benefited from therapies given at our local cancer charity 'haven', feeling less stressed and more relaxed as a result.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

378	5	109	It's not all about clinical therapies; there is so much we don't know or understand, restricting access to complementary therapies reduces patient choice and future understanding.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
379	5	109	I believe complimentary therapies are invaluable in helping people, and have proven themselves many times over, and they certainly help people on all levels, physical, emotional, and mentally, and that should be encouraged not excluded, anything that helps people in any small way is a good thing and should be included.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
380	5	109	I'm signing because I work at a Hospice in Colchester as a Complementary Therapist and I have seen first hand how the patients and carers benefit from treatments, I am lost for words	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

381	5	109	I am signing because we have had success with Complementary Therapies and there are no side effects	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
382	5	109	Complementary medicine works, it gives people hope! Modern medicine has only been around 50 years and is definitely not the be all and end all.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
383	5	109	Reflexology was a great comfort to my sister in law during her cancer journey.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

384	5	109	I am one of the therapists volunteering at St Columbas Hospice in Edinburgh, for ten years now. We are valued for the work we do and the comfort we give patients and carers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
385	5	109	I'm signing because I believe patients should be given as many choices as possible when in need of palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
386	5	109	I have witnessed through my work as a Complementary therapist on cancer patients, the immense relief these treatments bring to the patient from the side effects of chemotherapy and radiotherapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

387	5	109	I have given reflexology to patients in an oncology department of a Suxxes hospital. This regular treatment had a very positive effect on the patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
388	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and I know first hand how much they help people from all works of life. It helps with peoples health and well-being, an essential part of cancer treatment. I work in a drug and alcohol treatment facility and see everyday how important this part of our treatment package is. Complementary Therapies can SAVE the NHS money!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
389	5	109	Because I believe in Complimentary Therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

390	5	109	Complementary therapies offer people a holistic, gentle and non invasive treatment to go alongside conventional medical treatment. These are particularly useful for people with terminal illnesses. Please don't let the pharmaceutical companies whitewash this very important choice for patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
391	5	109	Like many other professional therapists, I have seen the enormous physical & mental health benefits people experience from massage, reflexology & aromatherapy, practiced for 12 years & feel disappointed that the complementary side of medicine is not advancing but being pushed aside. If there were more funding for research, the benefits could be proven but research does not have to prove what millions already know from personal experience of therapies that they HAVE benefited where orthodox medicine has failed to help them manage their situation.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
392	5	109	I have seen many terminally ill people benefit from these therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
393	5	109	More choice the better!	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

394	5	109	No doubt my husband will need these services due to his cancer being incurable. I know that such therapy does help.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
395	5	109	Because touch therapies heal from within and cause no harm	Thank you for your comment.
396	5	109	Reflexology has helped me and I want others to be able to benefit too.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
397	5	109	I have a chronic illness and find complementary therapies help in many ways.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
398	5	109	Health & Care Excellence = complimentary therapies NOT chemical drugs!	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

399	5	109	I used complementary therapies in my cancer healing. It should be MY CHOICE!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
400	5	109	I am a complementary therapist working with cancer patients and am fully aware of the value of Reflexology, Reiki and other therapies when administered by properly qualified therapists. The feedback given by the patients is always positive.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
401	5	109	If it wasn't for alternative therapies I would not have relief from mental health problems.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

402	5	109	The work done by therapists is outstanding and life altering. This decision is shameful and outdated	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
403	5	109	As a former nurse now Reiki master & EFT practitioner I understand there is a place for BOTH traditional and complementary care, Please don't negate the use of complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
404	5	109	I believe we should be allowed the option of complimentary therapies . We all pay NI but some of us would rather be treated hollistically with complimentary care instead of chemicals	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

405	5	109	These treatments really work!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
406	5	109	The NICE guidelines are the building blocks on which Therapists should abide by. for the safety of the public.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
407	5	109	There is a definite need and place for this in the care of patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

408	5	109	As a massage therapist and having friends who have benefited from complementary therapies I think this is a backwards step. Those suffering need a break from the stress and relaxation as well as non drug related pain relief.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
409	5	109	It has been proven time and again that complementary therapies enhance quality of life way beyond what traditional medicine is capable of. It would be a tragedy to deny those who are suffering with any kind of disease and more so those going through the devastating experience of a terminal illness, this sort of help.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
410	5	109	Allopathic treatment works up to a point but the only way forward for health in the UK is to support the NHS by embracing complementary therapies which treat patients holistically and promote wellbeing /prevention.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

411	5	109	We should be moving forward in our medical care not standing still ... I believe east and west medicine and approached can work in harmony	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
412	5	109	As a complementary therapy practitioner I see the positive effects that these therapies give to the patient, it's above and beyond what medicine alone can do. If you insist on removing therapies from the NHS the medicinal bill increase dramatically with no real positive benefit for the patient.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
413	5	109	Reflexology can help many people with chronic health issues, addictions, anxiety, stress, etc... the list is long, without any side effect.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

414	5	109	I'm signing because I know the benefits of complementary therapies. I have had several friends who received therapies in hospital and said that it was one of the most helpful treatments and made them feel so much better and were convinced it helped them recover quicker.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
415	5	109	I am a complementary therapist who volunteers at our local hospice. I see the benefits on how it helps patients, carers and their families.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
416	5	109	I think complementary therapies can help people enormously	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

417	5	109	It's important that this this complementary therapy complements that other treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
418	5	109	I had complementary therapy from a friend when I was having aggressive treatment for breast cancer and benefitted enormously. It was not available on the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
419	5	109	Not everyone can take medication. Don't take away something that works for me!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

420	5	109	We need to do everything we can to push back on this. Everyone needs to know the amazing health benefits obtained through reflexology.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
421	5	109	I think that patient especially those at the end of life or palliative benefit from these relaxing comforting therapies to ease their pain and trouble minds	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
422	5	109	all service to help people need to continue and its just another way the government are trying to get rid of the NHS completely	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

423	5	109	Reiki and reflexology helped enormously when my husband was terminally ill	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
424	5	109	I provide complimentary therapies, to my patient's as a nurse. The stress relief and overall feelings of well being compliments the healing process.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
425	5	109	We must ensure that the important complementary therapies are kept. It would be a huge loss if Nice were to succeed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

426	5	109	I strongly believe in complimentary therapies- I have been helped by them myself after suffering from a heart condition at a young age. It can change people's life for the better. Please do not remove them from the guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
427	5	109	I have CRPS (complex regional pain syndrome) I pay for reflexology and deep tissue massage but get Accupuncture on the NHS for my long term condition. I use these complementary therapies to manage my condition with medication. A holistic approach is necessary not just the medical model.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
428	5	109	Healthcare and well being is not just about drugs. Complementary therapies can work alongside conventional treatments to the benefit of the patient!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

429	5	109	I believe complementary therapies can be enormously helpful in relieving symptoms and helping painful conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
430	5	109	I KNOW Complementary Therapies work	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
431	5	109	Members of our family have had cancer and found the therapies a huge help to them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
432	5	109	I believe in Complementary Therapies.	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

433	5	109	I'm signing because I've had so much positive feedback from clients with cancer having reflexology treatments	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
434	5	109	Cause I am an Acupuncture student and can see the benefit.	Thank you for your comment.
435	5	109	I work with cancer sufferers using complementary therapy, massage, lymphatic drainage (oedema), reflexology, massage and it has effects on their physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritual levels. They felt better, slept better, were less worried.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
436	5	109	It is time there was discussion between complementary therapists and the medical professions. There is common ground and we have been treating people successfully for years. To ban without reasonable discussion suggests NICE might be a little scared	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

437	5	109	I have had this treatment from The Harmony Therapy Trust ,and I truly benefited from it,and still do,i am sure thousands of others will too	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
438	5	109	Each patient is unique and may benefit from a variety of forms of attention. Surely it's possible to raise awareness of options without necessarily appearing to endorse or recommend them, if that's what NICE's problem is?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
439	5	109	I am an advocate of complimentary therapys.	Thank you for your comment.
440	5	109	Having worked in a Hospice in Kent for a number of years, I saw first hand the enormous benefits patients and their families received from a wide range of complimentary therapies. Removing access to these therapies is a short sighted and retrograde step and NICE will be depriving the most vulnerable and deserving patients of a valuable and vital resource.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

441	5	109	Therapies helped me through cancer treatment and I now help others. If this goes through it will open the floodgates for every charleton going. Most of us are professional and follow every guideline possible.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
442	5	109	We need to look at health prevention and support that is not drug and surgery based	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
443	5	109	Removal of Complementary Therapy would be such a loss to patients at a time when they need it most.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

444	5	109	My husband has cancer and was offered acupuncture, this helped greatly and he found it extremely beneficial.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
445	5	109	Working as a therapist I know how complementary therapies help people to overcome many illnesses far more effectively than drugs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
446	5	109	I am a firm believer in holistic and complementary therapies!	Thank you for your comment.
447	5	109	Complementary therapies make a difference to people's lives. Whether you believe it or not they genuinely do. Stop this ridiculous notion and allow those who want to make use of natural therapies to be able to. Not everyone wants to be pumped full of drugs!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

448	5	109	This move could end up costing the NHS an enormous amount of money. Complementary therapies can be of huge benefit in chronic illness, work hand in hand and support allopathic medicine, deal with side effects of conventional drugs and give access to choice for patients feeling helpless. Removing this after many years of successful hand in hand working seems like a step back into the dark ages and may put vulnerable people in a position where they are offered treatments no longer under guidelines from those less well trained and regulated. Step backwards. Please rethink.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
449	5	109	I know that both conventional and complementary therapies work! But complementary therapies also prevent!!!!"	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
450	5	109	Having provided complementary therapies to people with life limiting illness, I've only ever seen the happiness and calm it brings.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

451	5	109	I've seen the benefits of Palliative Reflexology on Cancer sufferers & survivors.....I use the technique alongside traditional reflexology with amazing results! PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE DO NOT REMOVE IT FROM THE NICE REGISTER OF THERAPIES!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
452	5	109	Because I know the benefit people get from complementary treatmentsthey tell me so!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
453	5	109	I have gained great benefit from complimentary therapy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

454	5	109	I am signing this petition because I as a therapist I believe that complementary therapies play a major role in helping with pain relief and stress in people with serious illnesses.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
455	5	109	Drugs for Epilepsy killed my liver. I do not use pills to heal what I can do myself. Natural is the best way to go. I was told I had arthritis in my feet and when I had my scan it was gone. Pills are a short term and toxic solution. As an RRPr I have tried many natural methods. I haven't had the side effects that pills have. I used an Herbalist. I became hungry and had a lot of energy. I never felt so good. I was finally alive. I use energy healing and crystals along with my Reflexology. I was having back issues and a friend gave me a treatment. I was able to go back curling. I then decided to become a reflexologist. I have helped many.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
456	5	109	I have first hand the benefits of complementary therapies. I left the nhs at retirement age to set up my own complementary therapy practice. It is now a 14 years down the line and I am still working hard. Must be beneficial. The idea of complementary therapy is to be used alongside or within the nhs so the patient gets the benefit and doesn't have to rely on drugs for so long.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

457	5	109	because pharmaceuticals are profit ventures with little interest in the actual well being of fellow human beings. Everyone must have the right to choose what remedy he/she wants to employ for his/her well being. Besides scientific research there is also human instinct and the power of belief to take into account when healing is required.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
458	5	109	Complementary therapy is the future.	Thank you for your comment.
459	5	109	Complimentary medicine fills the yawning gaps left by the legacy of alleopathic NHS medicine and drugs!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
460	5	109	As a complementary therapist who volunteers in a hospice, who sees the HUGE benefit to patients and their carers - I am appalled to read this article . Julie Moxham	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

461	5	109	My husband has MS & needs a lot of care, so every available treatment is so important to his physical as well as mental health	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
462	5	109	I believe in Complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment.
463	5	109	I complementary therapies are good for people and can work along side more modern medicine	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
464	5	109	Complementary Therapies can be an important ingredient in a person's recovery, helping to de-stress and improve the innate immune system allowing it to do what it is there for.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

465	5	109	It is essential to gave an alternative to the big pharmas	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
466	5	109	I believe they complement Western medicine.	Thank you for your comment.
467	5	109	Stop their chance of benefiting from Complementary Therapy being taken away from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
468	5	109	Feel it has real benefits.	Thank you for your comment.
469	5	109	EFT therapy for example is very effective in healing physical and emotional problems!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

470	5	109	As a therapist I have seen first hand the benefits of complimentary therapy. If it can improve the lives of people at the end of their lives don't take it away	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
471	5	109	I volunteer as a complementary therapist at my local hospice and I have witnessed first-hand the positive effect of touch therapies on patients. I choose to volunteer because I believe that we all deserve access to such therapies, regardless of our ability to pay, at the end of life. Palliative care should not just be about giving medication. It should be a balanced patient-centred approach.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
472	5	109	I'm signing because complementary therapies can bring huge relief to suffers of all conditions...its wrong to deny them of these.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

473	5	109	I Know they benefit all patients especially anyone stressed out - for example cancer care patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
474	5	109	I believe in the power of complimentary therapies used with a hospice environment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
475	5	109	As a complementary therapist I continually see the benefits they bring to those suffering from chronic and terminal illness. When I myself was diagnosed with a serious illness last year I was able to appreciate just how much they helped me. Complementary therapies should be available to anyone who wishes to use them alongside their conventional treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

476	5	109	It's essential to have a recognised alternative to the sometimes narrow, symptom-based views of western medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
477	5	109	i see the benefit that complimentary therapy gives cancer patients daily as I work in a hospice	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
478	5	109	Complementary therapies are important with huge benefits and as the name states, 'compliment' conventional medicine and treatments. Anything that relaxes people and helps to alleviate their stress levels should be acknowledged not discarded surely?!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

479	5	109	CAM therapies do have beneficial effects! It is definitely useful in patients with chronic illnesses and at the End of Life!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
480	5	109	I feel complementary therapies offer benefits to people that you just can't get from general medicine. The therapists are able to spend more time with people and able to treat them holistically not just the symptoms; which offers all round healthcare unavailable otherwise.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

481	5	109	I'm signing because I am an Advanced EFT Practitioner and Psychology practitioner too including NLP and Life Coaching. I trained as part of my recovery from ME. At the time of my diagnosis in 2010 there was very limited help from the NHS. I found a clinic that adopted an integrated approach to recovery for ME and is run by people who had fully recovered from the debilitating illness. EFT was an important part of my recovery. It has massively helped me to alleviate maladaptive stress levels to a more normal and manageable level. It has also helped transform limiting beliefs about myself and the world into more resourceful and empowering ones. I now use EFT and NLP to help transform other people's lives; to let go of anxiety/depression, fears, phobias, eating disorders, relationship difficulties, physical pain etc. These techniques are also very effective for people with cancer to help with their emotions, reduce their anxiety about their illness so their body can focus on healing. With regard to terminal cancer these tools are also effective for giving patients the opportunity to live the remainder of their life in peace and dignity as well as to manage their pain. EFT is a free tool that can easily be used by children and adults. I highly recommend NICE members try EFT with a renowned practitioner and experience for themselves the benefits of it and familiarise themselves with the research around this. They surely would change their minds and endorse and encourage complementary therapies at every opportunity.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
482	5	109	I'm signing because complementary therapies play a huge role in the modern health care system and rather than removing them from NICE there should be more complementary therapies added. Many pharmaceutical drugs are not independently tested but are handed out like smarties in their millions daily. There is no justifiable reason to remove complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

483	5	109	A friend was helped by this organisation and a friend founded it. She works tirelessly to keep it going and is appreciated by many.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
484	5	109	Complementary therapies are important and have value.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
485	5	109	I'm signing because of friends of mine have benefited from complementary therapies in conjunction with their cancer treatments, requiring less painkillers by doing so. Why is UK reducing when countries like Canada are increasing the use of Complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

486	5	109	I've benefited greatly from complementary therapies (especially acupuncture, homeopathy and osteopathy).	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
487	5	109	Having therapies like these when you are ill or recovering from serious illness is a godsend. It is relaxing and makes you feel better when you are often at your lowest point.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
488	5	109	Reflexology has so many health benefits. There is now more research and studies done to acknowledge how reflexology works. Reflexology is widely used in hospices around the world it would be crazy to remove complementary therapies from any National guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
489	5	109	I'm supporting Brenda and all her colleagues. Xx	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

490	5	109	My parents on end of life care benefited greatly from complimentary therapy it enhanced there quality of life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
491	5	109	I have seen the many benefits complementary therapies whilst working in a hospice	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
492	5	109	Complementary therapies help so many people cope with their daily lives	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

493	5	109	I am a hypnotherapist and know what benefits complementary therapies bring.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
494	5	109	When you are at your lowest and most vulnerable you need the therapies to keep you going to lift you and help you heal	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
495	5	109	I am a professional reflexologist and I know how it helps clients. The NHS play 'god' with peoples lives and think nothing of issuing 'guidelines' that they later change totally and quite often with a complete reversal of opinion. A case in point is the recent change to drinking alcohol, on minute a glass of wine per day is okay, then we can have two now we can't have any. Time and time again NHS advise has been proven to be wrong and it is time to take a stand.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

496	5	109	I'm a reflexologist and there is a need for it! Don't rubbish my qualification!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
497	5	109	The side effects of many prescribed medicines, especially when multiples are prescribed and interact, causes considerable harm. Considering complementary therapies can often be in the patients best interests	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
498	5	109	This is absolutely vital	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

499	5	109	I work with the Complimentary Therapy Team at Farleigh Hospice they are amazing and patients and carers benefit in so many ways. It's a disgrace to remove them from NICE	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
500	5	109	I know how much complimentary therapy helps	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
501	5	109	I am a complementary therapist with 36 years experience and I know for sure that they are effective and give people a choice to help themselves holistically as they "Complement" orthodox medicine or can be used alone. Orthodox medicine comes from natures roots - check out dr	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

502	5	109	I'm signing because I have seen the benefit complementary therapies can have	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
503	5	109	care benefits for palliative patients are vital	Thank you for your comment.
504	5	109	I feel these therapies offer a different option to people that complement medical treatment. They should be a part of holistic care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
505	5	109	I have been a reflexologist for over 28 years. During that time I have worked with many clients who have suffered various forms of cancer. Everyone of those clients had beneficial effects from the reflexology.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

506	5	109	I am a Massage Therapist and I help 100's of people cope with their stresses aches and pains things they tell me the Dr's have not been able to help with. Lots of whom have had reflexology which too has helped	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
507	5	109	I've been helped with complementary treatments, rather than take tablets for insomnia. It has also helped along side prescription meds	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
508	5	109	I'm entitled to have the freedom to choose, and so is everyone else. Complementary therapies have reduced stress and anxiety levels, alleviated depression and benefitted those who suffer from a number of ailments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

509	5	109	Outraged that this is even being contemplated. I have seen first hand the benefits and pain relief that reflexology can provide to terminal patients - please don't do this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
510	5	109	I know that complementary therapies have enormous value in the healthcare sector. They should be available to anyone who might benefit from them via prescription...not axed!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
511	5	109	When you have cancer you are 'done to' - making choices about feeling better empowers you. It's not all about medicine!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
512	5	109	you cant evidencebase everything. Medicine is an art as much as a science. T	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

513	5	109	I have first hand experience of the benefits of complimentary therapies in paliative and end of life care. It has been seen that these therapies help decrease anxiety and lessen the need for as much pain relief and sedation and are invaluable in this patient group.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
514	5	109	I believe complementary therapy works.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
515	5	109	I am a complementary therapist & have seen the benefits the treatments have on people with cancer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

516	5	109	I'm a nurse & I've seen patients & their families benefit hugely from complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
517	5	109	Whilst complementary therapies may not give a cure, they can and fo help patients and relatives cope with the changes they are going through.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
518	5	109	Complementary therapies help support the NHS who cannot be the sole provider of health care as demonstrated by the strain they are under.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

519	5	109	It's all about pharmaceuticals making huge profits put our peoples health rather than natural methods that are both cost effective and help support people through their illness towards recovery in partnership to conventional medicine. It gets me so angry that people find it difficult to access therapies due to financial constraints and the therapies that are offered in many medical environments may struggle to keep there services going if NICE make this happen! I've had a pleasure of working with some amazing clients with acute, chronic and end of life care and being able to help people who needed therapies to make sense of it all through their recovery or episodes. This is also my story of illness and recovery. It enabled me manage my symptoms and mood allowing me to move forward to a more optimistic and healthy future rather than being solely reliant on medications. I'm now feel very humble to share this time with my clients whatever their prognosis may be. I client said to me " I never really thought about complementary therapy treatments until my family had the news that this would be my last Christmas. I wanted to stay home for as long as I could and spend these last few special moments with my family and friends. Having treatments gave me the strength I needed to move on to the next chapter as I feel happy with my life and have no regrets. After a treatment I feel relaxed, calm and at peace".	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
520	5	109	I believe strongly in treating the mind and body together and believe there are many benefits to be gained from alternative therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

521	5	109	This decision will discriminate unfairly on individuals who are extremely vulnerable because of ill health needs . It is a seriously worrying development .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
522	5	109	As a complementary therapist and nurse I have seen the benefit of traditional and complimentary therapies enhancing people's lives.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
523	5	109	People should have access to any treatment/therapy that could help.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

524	5	109	I think this is wrong. It's seems to me to be condemnation with out investigation by some people. These treatments are being used in some cancer care hospitals to help ease stress and pain, if they didn't work they wouldn't be using it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
525	5	109	Complimentary therapies are an essential tool in the overall health of the nation and should be continued to be offered by the NHS as they are much cheaper and less invasive than many of the alternative drugs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
526	5	109	anyone with an illness deserves to be treated with all the available medication that is going to help them	Thank you for your comment.
527	5	109	I believe that NICE is a misnomer and the current regime of cost-cutting in the NHS when demand for all services is increasing is the economics of the mad house. Complementary Therapy is vitally important at a particularly difficult time in a person's life and cannot be quantified in financial terms. This cost-cutting is not targetting where the waste is at its most extravagant but at the point of service where the cost to 'real lives' is immeasurably more than any financial 'savings' The maths simply don't add up as there will be a much bigger cost elsewhere if this policy persists	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
528	5	109	I believe in a holistic approach to health and care.	Thank you for your comment
529	5	109	If we pay for this then we must need it	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

530	5	109	As a therapist I see the difference these treatments make to the patients!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
531	5	109	Massage is extremely beneficial to stressed people. Surely this is far better than drugs!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
532	5	109	All the therapies I have tried have worked for me, without side effects. They have also worked for other people I have spoken too. Surely the treatments should be investigated by people with no vested interest with drug companies. These therapies are taught at the Felindre Hospital in Cardiff because they have been proven to efficacious.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
533	5	109	I believe in complimentary medicines	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

534	5	109	Because they help with my health condition & makes a difference.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
535	5	109	We should all have choices and not be dictated to by people ignorant of our feelings	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
536	5	109	These therapies were so important to a friend of mine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

537	5	109	NICE need to open their minds not listen to drug carteles	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
538	5	109	Reflexology makes life with terminal illness bearable.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
539	5	109	Complimentary therapies should be used and recommended.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

540	5	109	I believe NICE SHOULD be the gaurdians of guidelines for all therapies, including those termed Complementary - for Public protection.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
541	5	109	I am signing because I have experienced the benefits of complimentary therapies and seen people have a much enhanced life from it!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
542	5	109	As a complementary therapist working with Cancer patients I see first hand the benefits they receive	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

543	5	109	People have a right to a choice. There is so much evidence that complementary treatments are as effective , if not more, than pill popping!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
544	5	109	I'm signing because I strongly believe in the value of complementary therapies and think their use should be encouraged and supported.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
545	5	109	I am a Complementary and Holistic Therapist in training and need NICE guidelines to give me the confidence during and after training to give treatments and to ensure and adhere to a high level of professional service and standard. Although this is evidenced and covered by my FHT Therapist membership it is very important that my do future service is recognised, supported and monitored by Medical and Health Well Being profession. Reflexology and other Complementary therapies works and can be evidenced and more Clinical research to further substantiate it's effects and outcomes on patient /client health needs to be made. I am in full support of this petition.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

546	5	109	we need this service it helps us people cope with the shok and stress of these illnesses	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
547	5	109	I am allergic to allopathic medicines. I rely on CAM to enable me to cope with my health wellbeing which would cost the NHS ten times more to look after me. I need my human rights as a patient to have a choice	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
548	5	109	I've worked in palliative care for the past 25 years... Removing complementary therapies takes us back at least 15 years. It's just wrong !	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
549	5	109	Pharmaceutical companies have an ilegal monopoly in health care business and is silently killing many	Thank you for your comment.
550	5	109	My husband has cancer	We are very sorry to hear that.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

551	5	109	I am a complementary/holistic therapist with 25 years experience. I have recently trained in Oncology massage. The majority of my clients (over 80%) have well-being concerns with most having had some experience of cancer or another major illness. They have all lost faith in the medical profession to help assist in promoting their health positively. And so, have turned to ancient methods which have existed for millenia and have proven track records but sadly whose healing benefits are discouraged by medical professionals. In a society that is so stressful and devoured of such debilitations it is a persons right to choose treatment and treatment that that individual feels works for them in providing whatever result it is they seek. Reflexology is one of those modalities that falls into such a category. It is an absurd move to remove this practise. It IS a healing therapy!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
552	5	109	I'm signing because I have cancer and we have the right to treatment that can reduce suffering.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
553	5	109	This is a vital part of holistic therapy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

554	5	109	I'm signing because I do voluntary work for FORCE here in Exeter, and complementary therapies are essential to recovery of patient and carers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
555	5	109	I am signing because I know how important this service is to terminally ill patients AND their families	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
556	5	109	Complementary Therapies have a huge impact on people's lives. It works together with conventional medicine and can be a great help in reducing stress and comforting people. As a Reflexologist I provide voluntary treatments to cancer patients and their families.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

557	5	109	The benefits of complementary therapy go above and beyond a qualitative analysis .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
558	5	109	There's evidence to support how they help patients. Patients feel so much better for having a treatment. Why cut this service?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
559	5	109	I know how beneficial complimentary therapies are physicality and emotionally and should be included in palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

560	5	109	As a homeopath I have seen many wonderful results in care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
561	5	109	Please sign and share if you believe in personal choice for the well and the ill	Thank you for your comment.
562	5	109	I gave foot massage to a freinds Dad who was terminal with prostate cancer, but it was always his feet that he said hurt him once it had got in to his bones and sprade to the rest of his body.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
563	5	109	I believe holistic therapies have so many benefits and actually help support healthcare. People get a lot a benefit from holistic therapies why remove them?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

564	5	109	You just have to look at the research done with cancer clients to realize the value and benefits of hands on as well as other complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
565	5	109	It's not 'why should it stay?' is it 'why is it being removed?' The pill producers are worried about their profits!! People are entitled to a choice. These therapies should only be removed if there is a proven reason!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
566	5	109	Complimentary medicine works	Thank you for your comment.
567	5	109	I have no doubts that complimentary treatments help many people with many different problems.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

568	5	109	Complementary therapies absolutely have a place in healthcare and should be regulated and recognised as an intervention	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
569	5	109	complimentary therapies help many people who have a variety of illnesses. Drugs aren't always the solution.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
570	5	109	Complementary therapies are invaluable to patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

571	5	109	Therapies help me greatly in life to take it away from people suffering is disgraceful	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
572	5	109	I've benefitted from such complementary therapies and know in my case they reduced my visits to my GP.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
573	5	109	I have received many complimentary therapies in the past all of which have been beneficial to me	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

574	5	109	I believe alternative therapies are a key option for many patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
575	5	109	I'm a massive supporter of alternative and functional health methods.	Thank you for your comment.
576	5	109	People should have choice in their treatment. I had ulcerative colitis for 13 years when in desperation I gurneys to other options. 6m of alternative therapy and the colitis is gone and I've not been troubled since. That was over 10 years ago.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
577	5	109	I'm a CAM therapist and do believe it helps many patient	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

578	5	109	this is appalling - I went into complimentary therapies (massage) due to being treated and cured of several ailments that doctors, podiatrists, surgeons and physios all failed with. The cost of treatments by the "professionals" was a joke in comparison to the cost of the actual cure - and a LOT more pleasant! I've worked on many cancer patients and in my local hospice (in-patients) and seen almost immediate improvements. All doctors and physios on site witnessed the Impact of complimentary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
579	5	109	I think complimentary therapies can be extremely helpful to those suffering illness	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
580	5	109	If you can make someone feel better and with evidence it works then why take away the facility. We need to keep this valid on the NICE register please. Thank you	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
581	5	109	On behalf of all the patients that benefit	Thank you

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

582	5	109	I'm signing this petition because NICE are making a massive error and they need to change their direction for the sake of healing humanity. The research is out there and it proves the Complementary Therapies do work!! Simple as!! Perhaps it's the research that scares Institutions like NICE!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
583	5	109	Complementary therapies are invaluable to many people through illnesses, injuries, mental and emotional health please keep they are needed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
584	5	109	Women I care for in a professional role have reported some great results and benefits from alternative therapies. Surely they are more beneficial and cost effective than some counselling or medications.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

585	5	109	I am a Complementary Therapies in Reiki and have had Reflexology sessions and I know that it works. All Complementary Therapies help in so many different ways and there is scientific proof of this. What are NICE afraid of and why are they now removing Complementary Therapies. Prince Charles is a very strong advocate for this cause.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
586	5	109	I know they benefit many people, on many levels.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
587	5	109	People with cancer need these therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

588	5	109	I am signing this petition because I believe complementary therapy helps people it also gives people a choice if they wish to consider an alternative option to the standard medical route of treatment of symptoms with drugs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
589	5	109	I work in a Hospice and the patients feel they benefit greatly.. its ONE treatment they look forward to..after all they are going through!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
590	5	109	Patients benefit greatly from complimentary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

591	5	109	I've given reflexology treatments to a friend with cancer who has felt very sick whilst undergoing chemo and radiotherapy and they've said how much better they feel after reflexology.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
592	5	109	Complementary therapies are beneficial to people suffering from terminal illness.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
593	5	109	I know that complementary therapy is effective for me.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

594	5	109	My wife has Mnd and uses these services at our local hospice which help with her pain	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
595	5	109	I started practicing complimentary therapies as a result of them helping me so much where prescription drugs failed me and even made me worse. NHS nice guidelines would be foolish to take out complimentary therapies when they know it helps so many.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
596	5	109	Because the positive benefits from these therapies will indirectly reduce the need for more input from Doctors and reduce the pressures on them. So cuts may not save money.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

597	5	109	I feel people have a right to informed choice about all forms of treatment and that professionals would benefit from guidance on these therapies to help improve outcomes whine these therapies are used.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
598	5	109	Pharma should not be the only choice	Thank you for your comment.
599	5	109	I use these therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
600	5	109	I was a trained reflexologist and believe the benefits of complementary therapies are profoundly helpful	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

601	5	109	I am signing because everyone should have the freedom to choose their treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
602	5	109	Traditional treatment is not always the best solution and doesn't always work. Complimentary treatment can make some people's life bearable when traditional has failed them. Please don't cut off this lifeline.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
603	5	109	COMPLIMENTARY therapies help my Lupus as much if not more than the meds, without the horrible side effects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

604	5	109	Modern medicine does not contain all the answers; it is not the 'cure all' and by removing this you are denying people treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
605	5	109	People should have a choice as to what treatment and therapy they want.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
606	5	109	I am a reflexologist and complementary therapist and I have seen first hand the benefit my treatments have given people and myself	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

607	5	109	Reflexology is used with service users in the mental health trust where I work and visibly relaxes them when their mental health dips	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
608	5	109	This is vitally important. We need to act NOW xx	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
609	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and I have helped so many clients to be healthy. Working hand in hand with traditional medicine - the definition of complimentary - don't be scared of it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

610	5	109	I think people get better quicker when they have a positive mental attitude, which is helped by complimentary therapies. They should also be allowed to make the choice themselves.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
611	5	109	I have been helped by complimentary medicine in the past, and believe it to be a useful tool.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
612	5	109	Complimentary Therapies, in the right hands, are extremely useful.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

613	5	109	I am a trained therapist and also because I have seen how so many people have responded to treatments whilst suffering from a multitude of illnesses. It works well alongside traditional medical treatments and if you will forgive the pun, complements it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
614	5	109	Why do we continue to ignore that disease has simply become a host of symptoms named and classified to fit the prevailing pharmaceutical model of treatment. We are so focused on treating symptoms we are ignoring the the issues of modern lifestyle , emotions , diet etc. We are in the midst of great change , of people wanting to take a more active role in their own healthcare and this is just yet another barrier to that driven by money . Please Nice do not ignore the role of complimentary therapies in assisting people to take a more active role and understanding of the whole.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
615	5	109	As a complementary therapist I was a volunteer in a hospice for 4 years and I know that all of the patients that visited there felt the benefit from the therapies offered. They often said that the best part of their day was receiving the treatment, be it reflexology, massage, reiki etc.,because it made them feel so relaxed and calm while they were going through such a tough time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

616	5	109	complementary therapies are essential for people's wellbeing and complement any medical diagnosis.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
617	5	109	ive been a Holistic Therapist for 30 years and have treated 100's of clients that have not been able to be helped by orthodox medicine, and have seen them not only benefit but recover. To take therapies such as Reflexology off the NICE list is beyond belief, maybe they should look at the amount of illnesses and symptoms that are caused by the orthodox medication handed out and realise the potential of people being able to access therapies that have very limited side effects but many many benefits!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
618	5	109	Complementary Therapies are just that, complementary to conventional medicine. There is plenty of evidence to support their use.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

619	5	109	I qualified as a Reflexologist in 1993 so have seen the many benefits & results from this therapy over a long period of time. Every "body" is different & orthodox treatments don't always work.....we all need to be able to make our own choices regarding healthcare.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
620	5	109	I'm signing because complementary therapies have a central role in the multi-disciplinary approach to the management of patients in their last year of life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
621	5	109	Complementary therapies are proven to provide relief in palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

622	5	109	I know first hand how these therapies help	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
623	5	109	I've used them and so have my friends they play an important part of many people's lives	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
624	5	109	It's nice a company can help people during illness	Thank you for your comment.
625	5	109	I am a midwife who provides aromatherapy - and it works!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

626	5	109	complementary therapies have important place in care and recovery	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
627	5	109	I think complementary care is forward thinking and should be free	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
628	5	109	I've benefitted from complementary therapies on many occasions and had Reflexology for 5 years after chemotherapy treatment. I'm absolutely convinced that it helped me to recover from the toxic effects of these powerful drugs and return my body to wellness. I've been a nurse for 34 years and have worked at a senior level. I also understand the rigorous nature of health research but I also believe that the lived qualitative experience of health is enormously important and as valid as a reductionist view which measures a narrow cause and effect. Many people use therapies as a part of a very holistic approach to managing their own health and the choice and support to do this is extremely important to wellbeing. I've no doubt it saves the NHS money when individuals can manage their own health through as many options as possible.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

629	5	109	Complementary therapies can be excellent for peoples well being when going through illnesses, and often work well alongside traditional western medicine. There is room in a persons treatment plan for both types of approach to help their overall health and well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
630	5	109	Both my Daughter practice reiki and a lot of people benefit from it. One also teaches Yoga.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
631	5	109	Pro choice, allow patients' to have choice, don't take away their rights to receive the treatment the want	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

632	5	109	Aromatherapist can help those are terminal ill, chronic illness and maintaining health, as well as soothe the negative emotion.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
633	5	109	Complimentary therapies have enormous benefits and there is evidence to suggest just that . NICE need to 'wise up ' and get informed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
634	5	109	Because these treatments work so well for some people,and just because we can't measure how they work doesn't mean they shouldn't be included, they are often softer and more harmonious compared to the bluntness and traumatic effects drugs and surgery canleave patients with.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

635	5	109	So many people have injuries that are not life threatening and may not even warrant a visit to their GP but they impact n that person's quality of life. As a Sports Massage Therapist and Sports Rehabilitation MSc student I see the enormous value of complimentary therapies to improve existing injuries and prevent new ones. Surely this is of value to the NHS and NICE?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
636	5	109	I have received therapies and they did me the world of good. I could afford to pay for mine, but a lot of the population cannot afford to do so	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
637	5	109	As a therapist I understand the importance of complimentary therapies to people. Having these incorporated with the NICE portfolio makes such a difference. That's is what is all about. People helping people that are trained, knowledgeable in their field and making someone feel better. It would be a mistake to eliminate these treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

638	5	109	Complimentary therapy is a necessity and helps aid recovery or relieve stress in times of need. It is also called complimentary as it compliments other interventions and/or therapy's. It is a valuable and crucial part of a lot of people's lives and should not be belittled or underestimated for its benefits!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
639	5	109	Medicine has its place but so too do complementary therapies which bring huge benefits to many, many people often enabling them to remove the pressures on the NHS by being able to reduce or even come off their drugs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
640	5	109	There needs to be more resource and ideas available to help people not less!!	Thank you for your comment.
641	5	109	I am a Reflexologist and know the power as a fellow Reflexologist found a Tumor in my brain when doctors couldn't. ..	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

642	5	109	Having worked in Pharmacy and as a complementary Therapist, I have witnessed first hand the ENORMOUS BENEFITS Complementary therapies can offer. Patience should be given the choice, it's their lives. Instead of pumping people with drugs, should they not be at least given the opportunity to try these therapies. Not all drugs work for everyone, just as not all therapies work for everyone. Many complementary therapies can help treat the cause, and not just the symptoms. Surely this is a more effective way to help patients. By removing Complementary therapies this would taking Health services Backwards not forwards. I'm guessing this has been proposed by someone who has never experienced a complementary therapy treatment of some kind. Maybe everyone dealing with this proposal should try it for themselves before making the decision, and see if they still feel the same way afterwards.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
643	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and understand the importance of palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
644	5	109	We need complementary therapies to fight the illness/disease battle naturally working to benefit the body's own immune system and bringing body mind and soul back into balance without the use of drugs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

645	5	109	I have seen to many clients benefit from this complimentary practice...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
646	5	109	I work voluntarily at Cynthia Soencer Hospice as a therapist treating patients, relatives and nurses to massage and aromatherapy. This is invaluable to them as a caring moment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
647	5	109	Complementary - as well as - together with 'science'. The value of complementary treatment lies not just in the body but in the mind - the 'will' to keep trying.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

648	5	109	Reflexology has a part to play in the overall wellbeing of people suffering from illness. Please do not take this fantastic holistic therapy away from the people who benefit from it the most.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
649	5	109	I am a reflexologist	Thank you for your comment.
650	5	109	Lorna Robinson	Thank you.
651	5	109	I have and am still personally benefiting from a variety of complimentary therapies and believe they are as beneficial if not more so than modern medicine and definitely the increasing prescribed drugs which are over priced and benefit the shareholders of big pharma companies more than the individuals.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
652	5	109	I am a reflexologist	Thank you for your comment.
653	5	109	need to be available in a controlled i.e NICE way	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

654	5	109	Holistic ways and eco' organic food with caring Aromatherapy and Reflexology Definitely helps with pain release,/relief! Also as a Therapist, they can advise a healthy & Stress release way of dealing with the fast pace off life we all lead! So it is all good positive! "We are the way we Live" Miss L, Macnab.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
655	5	109	As a retired RGN and worked for many years in palliative care the benefits from complimentary therapies never ceased to amaze me. Patients and their families benefit. The benefits can reduce greatly the need for medical input, reducing case loads for many already buckling under their overloaded caseloads. To ensure those therapies can continue surely as with everything else it needs to come under NICE to ensure safe practice!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
656	5	109	As a practitioner these therapies play such an important role in palliative care dealing with stress and anxiety and helping to lessen symptoms in many cases	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

657	5	109	I've seen the positive effect of these therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
658	5	109	I am signing because I firmly believe that prevention is better than cure. This is a view shared by many politicians as well as hard pressed NHS managers. Complementary medicine was around long before the NHS, which is hooked into BIG PHARMA. Prevention is much cheaper!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
659	5	109	I am a Reflexology Therapist and do not agree with this decision	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

660	5	109	I have experienced the benefits of complementary therapies, and believe that such a move would deter many people from seeking such treatment, and would only boost the profits of big pharma.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
661	5	109	I know just how wonderful this treatment can be . Don't deny patients this comfort.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
662	5	109	Reflexology is an amazing modality.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

663	5	109	I need them! So do many!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
664	5	109	Reflexology does makes a significant differnce to the life of patients with a terminal illness. It helps them to relax and does help with pain.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
665	5	109	I believe complimentary therapies have a huge and positive impact on people's health. Access to them should not be removed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

666	5	109	Currently receiving complimentary therapy as I'm terminally ill with triple negative cancer. Reflexology is the only thing that helps with chemo induced neuropathy and acupuncture was the only thing that stopped hot flushes. Please do not take them away!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
667	5	109	I have benefitted greatly from a number of alternative therapies, Acupuncture, Thought Field Therapy (Tapping), and Chiropractic to name a few!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
668	5	109	I work in a Hospice and I have received nothing but positive feedback about my treatments to the patients, both from the nurses and the patients themselves. The patients told me that they were pain free after treatment and it helped them to relax and become less anxious. If this service was taken away from them, then effectively you are taking away choice from people who are at the end of their lives. In my view, this is not a respectful or caring way to treat people. I beg you to reconsider this decision.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

669	5	109	As a retired comp therapist I am absolutely certain from the feedback received that I was able to make a difference with my treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
670	5	109	I think NICE are playing a dangerous game based on their connections with drug companies and should rethink this plan.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
671	5	109	I firmly believe in the benefits of alternative therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

672	5	109	As a health professional I have seen that there are many ways to improve "health". It doesn't always have to be about quantitative evidence it can be "it makes me feel better!". We are rather blinkered in health - we cannot afford to talk complimentary therapies out	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
673	5	109	I believe alternative medicine should be made available to everyone. Many more modalities should be added!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
674	5	109	I'm signing because I have seen the benefits of reflexology and complementary therapy first hand. It reduces pain, symptoms, increases quality of life, comforts those who are in need and most importantly, gives those who need someone, at one of the hardest times of their life, a peaceful and friendly touch and someone to talk to - something which I believe to be underrated.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

675	5	109	Anything that can improve a healthy life should be supported.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
676	5	109	As a reflexologist I know first hand how important this is to patients and clients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
677	5	109	Not only do complementary therapies help the patient by treating the whole body, it reduces costs to the nhs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

678	5	109	I'm a Bowen Therapist and we need guidelines for therapist to stop thecowboys	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
679	5	109	Complementary therapies can help to reduce stress and promote relaxation in many illnesses and can have a positive psychological effect in end of life situations	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
680	5	109	Complimentary Therapy is an essential non drug therapy which really helps palliative patients. The complimentary therapies can help relieve stress, pain and anxiety and is an essential treatment to ensure palliative patients during their journey receive holistic care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

681	5	109	I believe everything that helps anyone should be supported	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
682	5	109	An integrated approach which includes medical and complementary care is the best way to provide holistic, person centered treatment for patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
683	5	109	It's the right thing to do of course	Thank you for your comment
684	5	109	because complementary therapies help!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

685	5	109	I believe complementary therapies are vital to achieve good health.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
686	5	109	I'm a volunteer complimentary therapist . My work is evauble to those suffering with end of life & the families feel that their loved one receives the best care. Removing this service will not only add more stress to end of life as we also give pain management relief to take them back physiological to a place where they were at resting rather than stress and bewilderment. Please don't cut this service. As a volunteer I've had people crying at the sheer ability to learn how to relax for the very first time.....lots of people don't know how to when they are the end of life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
687	5	109	Actions like this take away people's choice. Drugs alone (or sometimes at all) don't work for everyone. We are all individuals and don't always follow the medical textbook. Complementary therapies complement (they do exactly what they say on the tin), are a lot cheaper than many drugs and can help support/ enhance drug therapy. Don't take away people's choice!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

688	5	109	Complementary therapies are an essential component of palliative care - completes the holistic in holistic care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
689	5	109	I think complimentary therapies should be available to all patients. It certainly helps with well being	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
690	5	109	As a reflexologist and holistic therapist since 2007 I love working with the NHS and being recognised for the complement my therapies can have alongside western medicine. Let's integrate not separate.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

691	5	109	I am signing this petition because as a therapist I first hand know how complimentary therapies have helped my clients. I have done therapies on people with cancer, people with disabilities, did therapies on staff & residents at a few different adult day care centers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
692	5	109	Like many reflexologists I have been privileged to work with lots of clients at end of life palliative care. It might not be important to NICE but it makes such a difference to the peace and comfort it gives to the individual at a time when all else fails	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
693	5	109	I'm signing because these therapies do make a difference and should stay	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
694	5	109	Natural therapies allow patients choices as to how they are treated	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

695	5	109	I truly believe comp therapies can help so many ailments and really need to be seen and taken serious in order to bring in regulations.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
696	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and believe that complementary therapies along with orthodox medicine help people heal psychologically, physicaly, and physiologically. There is scientific research to back this up. Such a shame to take this service away from people who truly need it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
697	5	109	I've personally benefited from various complimentary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

698	5	109	I work in a Cancer Support Centre and have seen the benefits for cancer sufferers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
699	5	109	I believe in reflexology	Thank you for your comment.
700	5	109	Why would anyone think this could be a good idea, when so many people benefit from Therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
701	5	109	I believe that so many people in pain and poor health benefit in a real and positive way from complimentary therapies - it is a huge step backwards to have their removal from the NICE guidelines in this way. What is the priority here?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

702	5	109	I myself a holistic therapist and used complementary therapies for well being every day of my life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
703	5	109	There is evidence that massage, acupuncture and some other CTs have positive mental and physical health outcomes and an important role alongside traditional medicine and mental health care. look in the grey literature.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
704	5	109	I cannot understand the rationale behind this decision. It thwarts pprogress and is an act of sabotage against a growing profession that is clearly a threat against the corporate drug companies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

705	5	109	There is always room for alternative therapies to compliment the current medical professions. Keep an open mind as what's not good for one works really well for another.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
706	5	109	I am a reflexologist	Thank you for your comment.
707	5	109	I'm signing this because just because science cannot prove things at this present time, it does not mean that it is not of benefit to the patient. Psychological benefits are numerous including relaxation and giving the patient some 'me time' and enabling them to be able to deal with their condition. Holistic care is not just the physical which tends to be what modern medicine and what NICE seem to concern them with. Please do not give up on treatments which treat the patient holistically.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
708	5	109	I use alternative therapies, especially Homeopathy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

709	5	109	This would be a step backwards in patient care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
710	5	109	For many, people complementary therapy, is what gets them through the medical procedures. When the mind and the body are relaxed the healing can be faster.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
711	5	109	I know and have felt the benefits of complimentary medicine in many differing facties. I would like to know whether the big pharmas are on NICE's back.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
712	5	109	I am training to be a reflexologist!	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

713	5	109	I believe there are positive health and psychological benefits for individuals whatever diagnosis they have.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
714	5	109	I am signing this as I lost my dear husband to cancer . He had complementary Therapies and they helped him enormously during his illness	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
715	5	109	I have used alternative therapies and know how well they can work.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
716	5	109	Everyone deserves a choice.	Thank you for your comment

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

717	5	109	Everyone deserves the right of choice especially in what could be their darkest hour. Don't take away something else from those who are facing losing so much, let them make their own informed choice, Keep all therapies visible and available to all sufferers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
718	5	109	Massage Therapy has been recommended for people with chronic pain. Massage has a long long list of benefits. I see amazing results from Massage Therapy and Reflexology every day. Big Pharma may not be happy but NICE should be acting for the people. After all there are no side effects so all in all its a cheaper option.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
719	5	109	I am a Reflexology therapist and Reiki practitioner and have seen the advantages of complementary therapies for patients who want them. I have been treating someone who is on life support for ten years and this helps in quality of life and ability to cope from day to day, not to mention friendship. I also work with Spiritual Health in a hospital and have seen the benefits of Reiki and Reflexology in so many situations. It would be so sad if these modalities were unavailable to patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

720	5	109	As a complementary practitioner I have seen the benefits my clients have received through my treatment. I have treated clients with chronic illness for the last 15 years, some of whom have received relief prior to their demise several days later. There is room for both complementary and prescriptive medicine. Complementary treatment has no side effects. Unfortunately for the drug companies complementary therapy does not generate huge profits	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
721	5	109	The removal of complementary therapies from NICE guidelines would be removing people's choice of treatment at their most vulnerable and often at the most painful time in their life. Please reconsider this proposal and understand that not all people agree with mainstream medical treatments. It needs now to be acknowledged there is a growing evidence for the use of complementary therapies in treatment for many issues and especially in palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
722	5	109	I'm signing because as a hypnotherapist I believe that a great mistake is being made removing any of the Complementary Therapies from the guidelines, we achieve far more than just taking prescription drugs	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

723	5	109	It makes a very real difference, while chemotherapy also does, 97% of the time it's a negative difference. Double standards.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
724	5	109	I am a certified Foot reflexologist and for 19 years have brought much healing to others and as massage therapy, and acupuncture and other holistic healing modalities that are out there that bring natural healing to others MUST remain and be treated with respect, and valued as the powerful way of bringing wellness to people without high costs or poisons that are prescribed that make people sicker. OUR future should be protected, and people should have free choice how they want to heal their bodies. Thank You.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
725	5	109	this is nonsense	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

726	5	109	I believe drug based medicine is. Not the only route to recovery.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
727	5	109	This should not be happening this is a step backwards. There are lots of people who have been helped by complementary therapy and this is just wrong.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
728	5	109	I am a trained reflexology st plus have used this treatment for diabetic neuropathy. Complimentary or Alternative Practices are ESSENTIAL Services.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

729	5	109	I have a friend in care and I know the value to her of reflexology and other therapy she is given	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
730	5	109	I have been a Reflexologist for 16+ years.	Thank you for your comment.
731	5	109	Anything that can help someone with pain and give them quality of life should not be taken away. Think how you would be feeling if it were you, one of your loved ones that were suffering. I'm pretty sure you would want the complimentary therapies to be available!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
732	5	109	That's asinine -- removing a huge part of what actually works for a lot of people ??!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

733	5	109	Complimentary therapies are the way forward. They should be used more often and be more readily available.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
734	5	109	I believe and have seen reflexology do so much good for folks in hospitals and end of life for their comfort.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
735	5	109	It helps people .ive used different types over the years for my family	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
736	5	109	I am passionate about my profession..	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

737	5	109	As a reflexologist I know the benefits of this therapy on people with chronic and terminal conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
738	5	109	Using Reflexology in the end stage of cancer is a comfort to the dying touch & sound is one of the few things a person can benefit from at the end stage why take it away????	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
739	5	109	I work in a hospice and know first hand how beneficial complementary therapies are for our patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

740	5	109	I'm signing this because I consider and know that complimentary medicine can ease and give great relief to those who are in pain or have incurable illnesses and this is a vital and valued service to the suffering patient.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
741	5	109	Complementary therapy may be the only SAFE option	Thank you for your comment.
742	5	109	Aren't all medical professions in 'trouble' if science and more importantly drugs companies feedback is of a greater priority than the client/patient feedback? We need to work together	Thank you for your comment.
743	5	109	I volunteer for a cancer charity and CT helps clients so much after going through such a gruesome treatment regime. CT is a huge part of cancer care. Have NICE any evidence that CT does not help ? I cannot find any evidence they have to make this decision.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
744	5	109	I am a Bowen Technique therapist, an Indian Head Massage therapist and a Body Control Pilates Instructor. These therapies work and shouldn't be taken away from those people who need them	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

745	5	109	chronic illness and peoples wellbeing requires a holistic approach. It also saves NHS money!!!	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
746	5	109	It will be so sad if people are denied the choice to use Complementary Treatments	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
747	5	109	I'm signing because I am a reflexologist & touch & reflexology are important in palliative care! Don't remove them!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

748	5	109	I'm signing because I know complementary therapies make a difference	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
749	5	109	Any therapy that helps needs to be used	Thank you for your comment.
750	5	109	Humanity.	Thank you for your comment.
751	5	109	Complementarity therapies save lives and the therapists are far more than just service providers	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
752	5	109	I am a therapist of many years and have seen how holistic treatments help	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

753	5	109	Having been hospitalised for 8 months reflexology was a welcome weekly distraction and comfort	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
754	5	109	I have worked in a hospice & seen the comfort & relief that complementary therapies bring.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
755	5	109	As a retired reflexologist I know how important CT are to people suffering from this terrible disease.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

756	5	109	Every one should have the chance to benefit from complimentary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
757	5	109	This is NOT the right thing to do. Complementary therapy is as it states "Complementary! It can SO benefit a persons recover and maintenance of optimum health.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
758	5	109	My text, Complementary Therapies in Rehabilitation sells more and more each year. More health professional curricula are teaching this material as so many patients turn to holistic therapies for relief.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

759	5	109	To stop Complementary Therapies being taken away from people with a life limiting illness also their carers	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
760	5	109	They are all beneficial to me	Thank you for your comment.
761	5	109	I have also found that patients are more calm, ENJOY, and say they're pain has reduced considerably with complimentary treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
762	5	109	Complementary therapies offer valuable and appreciated support to those who find them helpful.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

763	5	109	I am a Complementary Therapy Co-ordinator in a community Hospice, and I see daily the positive effects that the therapies provide for very our patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
764	5	109	I have worked with many cancer patients, with Oncologists support, often when they feel they have nothing positive to do for themselves, when they feel emotionally low and often when the medical profession cannot offer anything else as support.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
765	5	109	I am a professional reflexologist and I have seen how this helps many people who are suffering.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

766	5	109	I'm a therapist and I lots of evidence that my therapy has helped relieve pain and discomfort for many clients who have not found the solution in conventional medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
767	5	109	N.I.C.E is a guidance only. Complementary therapies are what they say - alongside mainstream medicine. Let people have choice - listen to the right people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
768	5	109	While having cancer treatment, reflexology was offered to me and it brought a relief to many of the symptoms experienced by having chemotherapy. It certainly enhanced my quality of life at the time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

769	5	109	Complementary Therapies have a definite place in providing a personalised treatment plan to enhance the healing process.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
770	5	109	Complementary Therapies provide patients with a huge amount of benefit both physical and physiological. Ask any patient, especially in a palliative care setting. NICE are taking an uneducated backwards step. Unbelievable outdated thinking NICE.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
771	5	109	There is so much evidence that complimentary therapies help give a better quality of life to so many sick & terminally ill patients. It is a huge backward step to remove approval.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

772	5	109	This is to disregard the quality of life of a patient and to remove a service that makes a huge difference to people. Disappointing yet again from those that are supposed to look after our health.	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
773	5	109	Complementary therapies are an integral part of living and maintaining well being in the UK and every country in the world it is vital to sustaining a healthy lifestyle. We should be incorporating complementary therapies more in our lives not less and not disregarding them in official channels. Outrageous to consider taking this off your guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
774	5	109	OPPORTUNITIES TO ENHANCE QUALITY OF LIFE IN PALLIATIVE CARE SHOULD SURELY BE EMBRACED	Thank you for your comment.
775	5	109	I know from years of fighting chronic pain and numerous medical problems how helpful and important these therapies are. Further, when you can get access to them through the NHS or at least know they do NHS work, then you know that you should have a well trained professional. Personally, I think the NHS should actively increase the use of these. How much better for the body and patient if they can get treatment from massage/accupuncture/sonic/UV etc... therapy instead of filling their bodies with with more chemicals with side affects. This is especially key for pregnant woman, children and those with contrary medication.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

776	5	109	I am a professional Reflexology Therapist and know that complementary therapies have a place in the quality of life and health care of patients with cancer. When many cancer patients are ill, they need all the gentle, hands on ministry they can get. Traditional medicine is not the only treatment that is worthwhile.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
777	5	109	I think reflexology is a valuable tool that can help many people without medication	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
778	5	109	Energy healing and reiki is helping so many people dealing with (chronic) pain, both physical, mental and emotional. CAM needs to remain and option for those patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

779	5	109	Reflexology works I have had many satisfied clients who will agree with me & case histories too	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
780	5	109	As a practising complementary therapist I have seen how clients are helped	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
781	5	109	I have used Bowen, mindfulness and visualisation techniques to help people suffering from cancer. It is gentle, relaxing and clients feel better as a result. Why take that away from them as an option? It is natural and non-invasive, I believe that people need to know about EVERYTHING out there that's available to them in this enormously stressful time. PLEASE at least display complementary therapies as an option, so that people can make an informed choice rather than an imposed one. Thank you	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

782	5	109	I have seen the benefits of complementary therapies in palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
783	5	109	I couldn't have got through my cancer treatment without complimentary therapies!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
784	5	109	I feel strongly that Complimentary Healthcare has an enormous role to play physically and psychologically in palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

785	5	109	I very much believe in complementary therapies and feel they work very well	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
786	5	109	Ask the patients what they want. We know symptoms are multi-faceted and complementary therapies play a part in supporting someone's overall well-being.	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
787	5	109	I am a reflexologist and I know with each and every client who comes in my door (and returns time again) that the treatment has a significant impact on improving their health and wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

788	5	109	I work daily with people with disabilities who benefit from the comp therapy treatments I give them. their pain is lessened, they sleep better, their digestion works better and so on.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
789	5	109	I'm signing because again NICE has no idea on what patients need in palitive care. Complementary therapists are carers and provide comfort to patients especially reflexology which is a relaxing and beneficial therapy	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
790	5	109	Reflexology is a great way to relax people and bring about general wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
791	5	109	I believe that it is enormously beneficial for all who receive it.	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

792	5	109	I am signing because I believe that Complementary Therapies are a necessity along side the NHS	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
793	5	109	So many people have benefited from Complimentary Therapies. Good health is not just about pill popping.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
794	5	109	I have reflexology and I know it works	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

795	5	109	Reflexology is important and needs to be part of wider patient choice. Why is NICE taking such a backward step?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
796	5	109	I believe Reflexology has some amazing benefits and believe in it. Our bodies have the power to heal themselves and complementary therapies help it got onto the right path.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
797	5	109	The treatment really helps. Trying to prevent people getting the help they need is criminal.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

798	5	109	WHY???? WOULD YOU REMOVE... Professional Reflexology if clear it help Terminal ill Cancer People :(:(Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
799	5	109	Doctors, Medicine & Big Pharma are not the only option. What were we doing before NHS?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
800	5	109	I'm a third year student complementary therapist and all my reflexology patients benefited from this treatment. I believe in what I do and so do my patients. The patient is the important one, ask them their opinion!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

801	5	109	I would like to think these therapies are there for people and guidelines so they are practice properly	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
802	5	109	I'm signing because I disagree with NICE removing Complementary Therapies from their guidelines. It feels as if we are receding rather than progressing Complimentary Therapies. People gave worked hard to get our therapies to where they are today. Please don't remove	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
803	5	109	I believe in complimentary medicine, chiropractic medicine has made a huge difference to me	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

804	5	109	Reflexology offers a drug free therapy that may compliment their other treatments. At worst it does no harm, at best the client has a hour of one to one individualised care, where they may feel an improvement in their well being and will receive the benefit of a pleasant relaxing therapy giving rest bite from the ordeal of chemotherapy and other unpleasant medical treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
805	5	109	you are thinking about throwing away and not allowing people access to non harmful treatments for untried, unproven, man man chemicals that actually do harm. What about the law of natural - thou shalt not harm another?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
806	5	109	As a therapist for over 20 years I have helpded many people it is none invasive and can help support these people in a positive way!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

807	5	109	I'm a Reflexologist and I KNOW it works. Statins, Anti-inflammatories and pain killers don't work and can kill you, that's what the NHS promotes!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
808	5	109	I am a qualified Reflexologist and believe the work we do deserves to be recognised.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
809	5	109	Alternative therapies make a real difference to people. They promote healthy lifestyles and concentrate on prevention of disease.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

810	5	109	People who are having palliative care find complementary therapies invaluable .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
811	5	109	I know how valuable complementary therapy can be to good health.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
812	5	109	If it helps the pain of cancer it needs to stay.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

813	5	109	I am signing this petition as I believe that complementary therapies are able to help people not only recover from their illness but help to prevent it from re-occurring. Complementary medicine can work well alongside conventional medicine	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
814	5	109	RGN nurse for 37yrs &20yrs Hospice Complementary Therapist It is vital NICE keeps us on board as CT helps pain relief,restores self esteem .etc	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
815	5	109	I too have received benefits from complimentary therapies. Just because those benefits cannot always be quantified and reduced to statistics does not mean they have no worth.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

816	5	109	As a Hypnotherapist I have seen the difference this complementary therapy can make and hence the savings it makes on the burden borne by the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
817	5	109	What utter nonsense does NICE have no sense what so ever. Have they not seen the good complementary therapies do?!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
818	5	109	Follow the money.....	Thank you for your comment.
819	5	109	It's personal choice. Some people don't respond to chemical 2 man made treatments and using 'alternative' treatments is often less intrusive	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

820	5	109	I believe reflexology can offer relief from ailments... more drug free therapies not less!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
821	5	109	It is ridiculous to remove anything from the nhs that is so benefitting to people's well being...without any side effects!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
822	5	109	How short sighted of NICE, although not surprising! Complementary therapies work, and if used properly, would save the NHS a fortune.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

823	5	109	When I had cancer I was actively encouraged by the oncology team, to take advantage of complementary therapies that were offered free at the local cancer support centre, on the hospital site. Because they knew they helped patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
824	5	109	I'm a complementary therapist myself having found it more helpful than pills for various symptoms over the years. And I am sick of NICE denying, suffering people appropriate healthcare.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
825	5	109	Bowen and other therapies provide the care and relief people cannot get from the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

826	5	109	I do not agree with removing complementary healthcare from the NICE/ system .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
827	5	109	This is so important to maintain.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
828	5	109	I am a complementary therapist, therefore see daily the benefits CAM will do.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

829	5	109	As a reflexologist for over 20 yrs ,I've worked in a hospice ,with women for fertility ,labour & birth preparation.I was also a nurse and reflexology definitely helped and supported all these people in so many ways reflexology is amazing .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
830	5	109	Integrated medicine is the only way forward. The NHS cannot cope with chronic long term conditions other than with repeat prescriptions. People need a holistic approach looking at nutrition and lifestyle as well as actually being touched through massage, reflexology or any other well respected complementary therapy. I run a really busy pain relief clinic offering Bowen, NST,EFT,Osteopathy,Reflexology,Counselling and massage. People travel upto 11/2 hours for appointments with us...that surely says something. The problem is there is only the practitioner who earns a living from complementary therapies...big pharma earns nothing from us . That's the issue here.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
831	5	109	Sometimes these are the last little things of kindness and love you can do for a fellow human being	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

832	5	109	I'm a certified reflexologist who works at a cancer institute in the Integrative Health Program. I've been working in the clinic for more than 5 yrs and doctors as well as nurses and techs encourage patients to try reflexology so they can see for themselves the positive effects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
833	5	109	Friends of mine have really benefited from receiving complementary treatments whilst being treated for cancer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
834	5	109	Humans are not just made up of flesh,bones and blood. We have a soul and energy which needs to be in balance. Since graduating many years ago I have worked both as a volunteer and paid therapist with people with cancer, Stoke, MS and just seeing the pleasure and relaxed state they leave the room is sufficient proof to keep me going no matter what the narrow minded NICE professionals say. Complementary therapies are exactly as they say "complementary" that is they work alongside conventional medicine so both the body and soul are treated. We need guidelines and continual professional training to protect patients from charlatans not greed and narrow mindedness.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

835	5	109	Complimentary therapies make patients feel better & usually have NO dangerous side effects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
836	5	109	Don't let the big pharmaceutical companies turn us all into drug addicts	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
837	5	109	i have experienced both as the client and therapist the benefits of complimentary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

838	5	109	My mum died of cancer within 1 week of her diagnosis I want others to have the opportunity of therapy while there suffering its not fair to take that away from cancer patients xx	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
839	5	109	Both as a recipient of complementary therapies and provider of Bowen Therapy and the Emmett Technique, the beneficial changes I witness that complementary therapies can encourage in myself and others are amazing ... access to such assistance must be preserved ...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
840	5	109	I'm from the UK and If I was unwell and had the option for having complementary I would take it and I'm sure many other people would.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

841	5	109	i believe these treatment provide great help	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
842	5	109	Complementary therapies have a space within people's search for health and well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
843	5	109	Complementary are so good for your health and well being. Patients need choice - This change deprives them of the very thing that is at the heart of the constitution.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

844	5	109	I believe that complementary therapies are more than just the sum of their parts - they allow people to find their own solutions and it is not healthy for people to only have a medical model of health care I am an ex-nurse and left nursing in order to empower people to take control of their own lives - it is not cost-effective for people to rely on conventional medical services to tell them how to live	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
845	5	109	I believe Reflexology and other wellness treatments are vital to healing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
846	5	109	I am currently a paid reflexologist working in and NHS Specialist Palliative Care Unit in S Wales and we have records for over 400 patients. There is a lot of support for complementary therapies for improvements in concerns expressed by patients and their general feelings of wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
847	5	109	We all need an alternative not everyone wants to rattle with tablets	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

848	5	109	I know of the benefits that complementary therapy brings to cancer patients both from my own work and indepth training of ten plus years and from that of colleagues, many of whom are working in oncology departments in hospitals. Above all else, the individual should be allowed their Right of choice!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
849	5	109	As a qualified Reflexologist I believe that complementary therapies help patients with their symptoms, pain relief and well being	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
850	5	109	I would want to have them available if i needed them. Whole body and mind care. Its about the patient.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

851	5	109	I have helped many people with complementary therapies over the years suffering with terminal illnesses	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
852	5	109	Complementary therapies have proved (often through substantiated research) that they can help alleviate symptoms and offer preventative treatments for people who have found that invasive medical treatments have not worked or are seeking an alternative. There should always be a choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
853	5	109	I am passionate about the healing benefits of reflexology and its has cured many ills under my own hands	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

854	5	109	People should be allowed choices in their own healthcare and situation. This includes complementary and conventional medicine. Let's not go backwards and take away choices from people who could benefit so greatly and improve their own situations so greatly with complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
855	5	109	I'm signing because reflexology was the only thing that helped my aunt when she had terminal ac leukaemia it gave relief where conventional pain killers didn't	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
856	5	109	As an experienced reflexologist it has been my privilege to support many clients thru difficult illnesses without exception they and their loved ones have seen the benefits of complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

857	5	109	I am a therapist working within cancer support working for a charity called cancerwise and also I work for the penny brohn. I see how of vital importance therapists are in the supporting of individuals during their journey with cancer. I see early diagnosis and end of life clients. The support therapists and therapies provide is unquestionably valid, valued and not to be underestimated. Therapeutic support is a natural and vital part of service provision. The recommendation should remain. My voice is a strong one. Please hear it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
858	5	109	I have been treating clients with terminal illness for 20 years and I know it provides huge benefits in relaxation and pain relief.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
859	5	109	Having worked as a qualified nurse for over 30 years in a children's cancer unit prior to becoming a reflexologist I have witnessed first hand the benefits of complimentary therapies for patients and their careers. There is no value you can put on relieving stress, aiding relaxation and improving a persons sense of wellbeing. Placebo effect or evidence based the positive feedback speaks for itself. The health services needs to look at the wider picture and stop putting plasters on where sutures are needed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

860	5	109	As a reflexologist, I have seen first hand how patients benefit from this and other complementary therapies. It supports both the mental and physical well-being of cancer patients and helps them deal with the toxic effects of chemotherapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
861	5	109	Complimentary therapies are a vital part of life these days. They help people in so many ways. to remove this service would be a terrible thing as it is so needed in this day and age.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
862	5	109	In my experience the feedback from pts in palliative care, its fundamental for their wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

863	5	109	I truly believe in the benefits of complementary therapy and have witnessed great results from holistic treatments for illnesses and depression especially. This has meant that people have not had to rely on drugs to feel better.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
864	5	109	I'm a complimentary therapist and feel many people can benefit from having gentle therapies to ease their aches and pains.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
865	5	109	I work as a therapist in a hospice and I feel the therapies are crucial in aiding those who are at the end of their life. I have seen how appreciative patients are, and how uplifting it is. Doctors have even said they truly feel that it benefits them and puts them at ease. Why take away something that is so important to those in need. We do make such a positive difference.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

866	5	109	I am a reflexologist and I know the treatment makes a difference to people's lives.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
867	5	109	To remove Complementary Therapies from NICE are regression and not progress. Complementary Therapies should be an option for the people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
868	5	109	I am a reflexologist	Thank you for your comment.
869	5	109	I survived cancer .Anything that can help or give hope to someone suffering from cancer is to be encouraged. After all, what harm can it do?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

870	5	109	I'm learning reflexology particularly to work with cancer patients. I'm horrified by this u-turn, particularly as the partnership for complementary therapies with NICE allows professional tracking and inspires confidence with both users and practitioners. Let's not allow such a thriving and important area of therapy to diminish through fear and greed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
871	5	109	The patient has a greater range of care to improve their health if they are given the choice to include Complementary Therapies together with their Medical Treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
872	5	109	As a professional Reflexologist i worked in a Hospice for 8 years and have seen for myself the benefits, comfort and stress relief that these treatments can bring to the terminally ill, and their carers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

873	5	109	I am signing this because reflexology is a therapy that really help on all levels and I have a few friends suffering from cancer who would benefit from reflexology	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
874	5	109	I am signing because as a professional reflexologist I have treated several people who were receiving chemotherapy and they all said how much it helped to minimise the side effects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
875	5	109	I'm a nurse who solidness the scientific evidence that reflexology can enhance an individual's health and well being. I am currently training to be a reflexologist myself and offer this free to anyone in need. That is how much I believe in it. Other complimentary therapies do not have the same scientific proof that it works.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
876	5	109	drugs can b very damaging and inferior...	Thank you for your comment

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

877	5	109	As a volunteer therapist working with cancer patients I know the benefits they can get from this treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
878	5	109	I treated a client with Leukaemia. He said how much his reflexology helped him after his chemotherapy. This treatments can help so many who are suffering to make their lives so much more bearable.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
879	5	109	As a reflexologist with many years experience, I have seen the benefits the treatment gives to clients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

880	5	109	I have no doubt that complementary medicine such as reflexology helps ease the suffering of those living with cancer (with none of the side effects of expensive drugs). Living in Bristol, I have personal experience of how friends have been helped in this way at The Penny Brohn Centre - a leading exponent of complementary cancer care which is I think referred to as The Bristol Approach. Such treatments should definitely be more widely available on the NHS	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
881	5	109	I'm signing because I am a reflexologist and believe in what it. and other therapies, have to offer to everyone.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
882	5	109	These therapies really do transform end of life care and in pain relief for chronic conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

883	5	109	I'm signing because any changes to the NICE guidelines would lead to restricted choice for those who are already suffering. It doesn't seem right to penalise and restrict choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
884	5	109	I can account of a lot of satisfied client who benefited in such a way that their health improved tremendously, because they were also equipped with simple information how to take responsibility of their own health. I also have numerous reports, of women that fell pregnant. There are one cases where I referred clients to the doctors to check out conditions such as , thyroid, colon, kidney, lung, liver & sexual organ disorders, and they were confirmed. We know we are a minority, but we are making a positive difference in this broken world. Please allow us our place under the sun as well.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
885	5	109	I have seen and read the amazing effects of complementary therapies, and I believe they really do help people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

886	5	109	As a reflexologist I've seen and experienced the benefits of complimentary therapies and the huge and positive difference it can make to someone's quality of life, regardless of how long that may be. Surely the people receiving these benefits are the proof of these therapies? Surely their voices should be listened to AND HEARD?! Complimentary is exactly what the name says. Do not remove them from NICE guidelines. Let's continue to move forward and keep offering these wonderful therapies to the wonderful people who benefit from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
887	5	109	Complementary medicine is the original medicine. More is needed not less.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
888	5	109	I'm signing because Complementary Therapies have been shown to be beneficial to so many of my clients, when conventional medicine has not been able to help.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

889	5	109	I have worked as a Reflexologist within an adult Cancer centre and a Teenage Cancer Trust unit in Cardiff. I have been privileged to have seen the huge benefits that Comp Therapies give individuals and families suffering with terminal diagnosis and treatments for life limiting disease. PLEASE DO NOT REMOVE THIS WONDERFUL TREATMENT FROM THOSE WHO NEED IT MOST!!!!!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
890	5	109	I believe in the natural way... The pharmaceutical companies are hood winking us and don't deserve our attentions as they are the corrupt ones selling us synthetic unnatural drugs grown off the back of a rats! We need change and we need it now! I vote for change and for a more non addictive natural choices ~*~	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
891	5	109	I am both a registered nurse and a registered reflexologist and can testify that using complementary therapies can help with symptom management. This is very important for people who are receiving palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
892	5	109	we make a difference.	Thank you for your comment

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

893	5	109	I'm signing because this entire proposal places professional politics before public well-being. Beneath a veneer of objectivity and "evidence " lies an extremely malevolent determination to exclude complementary therapies from both higher education and clinical practice -no matter what the public themselves might have to say on the matter.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
894	5	109	I am a reflexologist and I know it works	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
895	5	109	Sometimes you can't find relief in a pill	Thank you for your comment.
896	5	109	i am a reflexologist who knows how beneficial this treatment is in the palliative care sector.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

897	5	109	As a complementary therapy co-ordinator base in a hospice I have 1st hand experience of how beneficial complementary therapies are & how much joy & relieve compassionate touch brings my service users. Please NICE do not limit the choices of those who have little control of their condition.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
898	5	109	I am a multi-disciplinary complementary therapist and director of a complementary therapy association and a teacher. I am signing this petition on behalf of all of my clients who have suffered cancer and benefitted enormously from the full range of complementary therapy treatments available to them. Too many case studies to mention here, if this type of evidence is needed please contact me.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
899	5	109	I am part way through my training to be a reflexologist. The reason I chose to begin this career path is that I have found real and genuine relief from street through this therapy. It stops me needing to take medication and stops me from relying on medical help to get through the day. It helps me to be the confident person I am today. Complimentary means just that. For me reflexology compliments my needs and stops me being ill. It is important that these therapies are recognised for their benefits and that people can believe in their treatments for their physical and mental wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

900	5	109	I feel that reflexology enhances the quality of live for people who suffer from many medical conditions	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
901	5	109	I have been helped by reflexology	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
902	5	109	I have experienced first hand how much help complementary therapies offer, both personally and for others suffering. We all should have the choice. NICE are removing that choice and what is often a less costly therapy. Please give the public choice, after all, we pay for it!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

903	5	109	Complimentary Therapies are a very important part of helping people gain a better state of health. i am a reflexologist and have had many patients who have benefitted from having a treatment especially those with a terminal illness,	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
904	5	109	Complimentary medicine always works!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
905	5	109	I have seen up close how therapeutic reflexology can be.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

906	5	109	As someone who has been treated for cancer twice, I know the amazing benefits of complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
907	5	109	I'm signing because clients tell me how much sheer relief they get from a treatment and it shows in their faces and the way in which they walk away. Quote: 'your hands leave me pain free; it is better than any tablet'. Some people have very little to look forward to. It is such an important antidote to side effects of aggressive clinical intervention. Relaxation and the human touch are so under-rated. This plan is yet another nail in the coffin of diminishing care for patients in the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
908	5	109	I believe the general public will lose out on valuable treatment modalities and be placed at risk if complementary therapies are removed from NICE	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

909	5	109	I believe complementary therapies should be available on the NHS as they provide additional support to patients and relatives who may be going through aggressive conventional treatments. The holistic nature of complementary therapies means that the whole person is treated as in many cases the cause of the illness is different to the symptoms that conventional medicine is focused on.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
910	5	109	I know that therapies such as reflexology and healing are essential to the wellbeing and support of people in need of palliative care as well as their carers and relatives. The oasis of calm and peace that therapies bring to those in the darkest of places cannot be underestimated. I have worked with family, friends and clients through their stressful and painful challenges with cancer and chronic illness. The benefits they received included a feeling of peace, reduction in pain and other symptoms of the disease and the treatment, improved quality of sleep, more energy, a feeling of being more in control and escape from their current reality - so valuable. NICE guidelines in 2004 stated that • People affected by cancer should be offered a range of physical, emotional, spiritual and social support as well as • People with advanced cancer should have access to a range of services to improve their quality of life. Why are they now backtracking? So sad.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
911	5	109	Complementary Therapies are a vital support programme with any health issue especially cancer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

912	5	109	I truly believe alternative therapies help us tremendously	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
913	5	109	I strongly believe that these therapies do help people who are suffering with various illnesses. My stepdaughter has fibromyalgia and ME and various complications and therapy has really worked for her when nothing else has!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
914	5	109	As a reflexologist I have first hand experience of how reflexology can benefit cancer sufferers during and following their treatment	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

915	5	109	This is just wrong.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
916	5	109	It's therapeutic & beneficial - why remove our basic right to choice?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
917	5	109	I have known a lot of people who have benefited from complimentary treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

918	5	109	I am signing as I have seen the benefits of complementary therapy and having suffered cancer myself have found it invaluable as a support to the chemotherapy and other treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
919	5	109	I have absolutely no doubt that complementary therapies are an option that should not be denied to those who are terminally ill or receiving treatment for a life threatening or life-limiting illness. I speak as a therapist who has seen the benefits in a hospice setting and from my own personal experiences having been diagnosed with cancer almost five years ago. The only people who will suffer are those who would benefit the most at a time when they have little control other than to make a personal choice as to the manner in which they would like to be treated. To deny them this choice flies in the face of the basic right we should all have to have our choices respected in reaching the end of life with dignity and respect.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
920	5	109	I know through personal experience how much complementary therapies help both in mind and physically within palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

921	5	109	Complementary therapies enhance the quality of life of palliative care for patients and other conditions such as stress, depression and anxiety (as evidenced by research e.g. IoP at King's College London).	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
922	5	109	I am a complementary therapist working within community/hospital/hospice. Our work is vitally important to those suffering within palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
923	5	109	I absolutely believe in the power of loving touch and know it can bring so much comfort and benefits to cancer patients	Thank you for your comment.
924	5	109	It'll take us back 30 years to open the way for quacks and negate the professional therapist.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

925	5	109	I have only been working in a hospice environment for around 9 months but in that time I have seen what complementary therapies can do for those I've treated. It's offers not just relief from their condition but often a means of escaping their situation if only for the duration of the treatment. The thanks I have received from patients nearing end of life for taking the time to offer them some physical comfort is the most humbling of experiences and it should be available for anyone w	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
926	5	109	I am a complementary therapist	Thank you for your comment.
927	5	109	i use reflexology every week when i volunteer at the local hospice and i see the benefits it provides to the patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
928	5	109	Guidelines are needed to protect the public and professional therapists to ensure therapies are practiced properly!Enough said!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

929	5	109	Complementary therapies by definition include a variety of approaches. A strong healthcare team can bring dynamic healing and increased quality of life to individuals seeking health. Included in this array of approaches are preventative care and regular stress reduction therapies as well as more drastic measures. Because each person responds differently to each style of health care, it is imperative that individuals have access to as many approaches as possible. Please continue to keep reflexology as a part of the holistic set of options available to those seeking health. Also, if the question is whether or not reflexology has scientific evidence backing its efficacy, there are hundreds of studies around the world supporting this modality.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
930	5	109	I am a reflexologist and have seen how beneficial a session can be. I work with hospice clients all the time and they really love the relief from pain.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
931	5	109	I support you!	Thank you for your comment.
932	5	109	I am a reflexologist and fully support this petition. Complimentary therapies provide relief and support to clients who have conditions treated by the medical profession. This lessens the burden on the health service and therefore this reversal of guidance does not make any sense when the NHS is totally stretched.	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

933	5	109	I have heard that nice are considering removing complimentary therapies. As a district nurse I met several patients who's only relief from certain symptoms was their therapies provided privately or through palliative care centres. I feel that the qualitative evidence is there and should be documented. Yes there are a lot of variables, but so are the with all qualitative research. Patient comfort, physical and mental wellbeing should be considered.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline. Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
934	5	109	I believe that reflexology helps those suffering from illness (whatever type), to relax, feel better and manage the illness more effectively.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

935	5	109	I am signing this because I think it is very small minded of anybody to not know that Holistic Therapy is the first step to good health. Modern Medicine is the second when the Natural way is not enough. Or people just want to live longer. Which has its own drawbacks because now there are to many people, so the planet is suffering and dieing as a result. Modern live has taken so much from us already. We need to get back to mother earth before its to late !!! And let all things die naturally for there time. Jill :)	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
936	5	109	I have been a reflexologist for over 20 years and supported many people through their cancer treatment and seen how it has helped them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
937	5	109	I'm signing because it is ludicrous to remove Complimentary Therapies from NICE register - they have always worked symbiotically with all holistic, traditional & Western medicine...offering so much with the healing of the mind, body & soul - PLEASE KEEP ON REGISTER!!	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

938	5	109	Complimentary therapies can help everyone!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
939	5	109	They do no harm only help, so what's the point! I've had complimentary therapies on a number of occasions and they've helped me. Surely the priority here is to help people?!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
940	5	109	I am a reflexologist . I have been in this field of work for 10 years and know the benefit it can bring to people in many ways. It would appear to discredit the professionalism of reflexology and other valuable therapies if NICE removes therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

941	5	109	Complementary therapies are a huge part of health care and well respected	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
942	5	109	I'm a Practitioner who sees the difference complementary therapy makes to individuals on a daily basis. Whether it be relief from physical symptoms, or perhaps more importantly for some, a deeper emotional response in supporting their health and wellbeing. It's a vital support for so many, and it would be incredibly short sighted to remove such a valuable resource from the guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
943	5	109	I'm signing this because in the treatment of illness, people should have access to every modality that can help them. I've used reflexology with cancer patients and as a minimum it provides comfort and relief, but often helps alleviate the severity of other symptoms. Just because there isn't a lot of controlled research into its effectiveness doesn't mean it doesn't work!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

944	5	109	I am signing because I have been involved first hand in seeing the results of treating people who are on the cancer journey. It is very rewarding to see how much the clients benefit and so look forward to receiving their treatment from caring, well qualified practitioners. I believe that you need to look at the well being of the whole person if you want to help someone feel better. Complimentary therapies can, with using the right therapies and people , do this.	Thank you for your comment Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
945	5	109	We know CT's work	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
946	5	109	I have seen the benefits, as a practitioner of reflexology.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

947	5	109	I am signing because complementary therapies improves the qualities of peoples lives. The public have a right to choose how they treat themselves.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
948	5	109	I believe that complementary therapies, professionally delivered are an irreplaceable contribution to healthcare.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
949	5	109	Who should dictate that complementary medicine doesn't help!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

950	5	109	Complementary therapies not only treat the physical body, they work on the mind and the spirit of the patient too, and as such can be greatly uplifting in times of dire need.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
951	5	109	I am signing because I know that complementary therapies like Reflexology can be a really important tool in palliative care - it relieves stress which helps with all discomforts and helps the patient cope with what is happening to them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
952	5	109	I'm signing because I am a Complementary Therapist and its wrong to take people's Right to choose. I have helped many people and work to 'Complement' conventional medical practise's.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

953	5	109	I believe that reflexology can be very beneficial in palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
954	5	109	As a reflexologist I have seen how people benefit from complementary therapies. It is vital that this option is kept open to the public	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
955	5	109	I have experienced and heard from others the great benefit of receiving reflexology.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

956	5	109	I am a therapist who treats many patients, briefed and carers who ALL benefit from complimentary therapies, physically and emotionally, allowing them to cope better with the affects of cancer, cancer treatment, caring for someone suffering from cancer & treatment and dealing with bereavement.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
957	5	109	Cancer patients are very vulnerable and often pain ridden and this is one of only a few THERAPIES that the Hospitals and Cancer Charities will allow Cancer patients to experience. It helps the patients so much and to deny the sufferers this BENEFICIAL therapy IS scandalous.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
958	5	109	I have found complementary therapies to be of great help relief and calming for people with cancer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

959	5	109	I work in the health care profession and have seen the good it does	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
960	5	109	I have personal and professional experience of really positive outcomes for reflexology.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
961	5	109	It is clear that in many cases/ sufferers drugs do not help where a complementary treatment does. Complementary treatments tend to deal with the route cause not just the symptoms. They help people to cope with short and long term illnesses and with terminal illnesses without recourse to expensive drugs and repeat visits to hard pressed GPs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

962	5	109	I think it is wrong to remove Complementary Therapies from NICE as there is most certainly a place to work alongside the medical profession. Reflexology has so much to offer and helps so many people physically and emotionally. I see so many improvements in the people I treat within my practice of 16 years. Therapists must be properly qualified, and those that are, only do good and complement the medical professions diagnosis. I think it would be a huge miss to an overloaded NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
963	5	109	I know that some complementary therapies work - as both a receiver and giver - look at the evidence for each one before you dismiss it!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
964	5	109	I am a retired Reflexologists and I know the benefits my clients, friends and family have recieved. I have monthly reflexology sessions which keep me healthy and enables me to enjoy my life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

965	5	109	I'm signing because I have used complementary therapies and am a Reflexologist, Hypnotherapist and Masseur and have given comfort and support to others.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
966	5	109	Complementary therapies have played a useful part in palliative care for many years and need to continue as part of the serve NICE oversees.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
967	5	109	We are not persuaded by our decisions in healing like the drugs companies are, drugs mainly mask pain, not healing!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

968	5	109	My late mother had breast cancer and Parkinson's Disease reflexology really helped her. My late husband had pancreatic cancer and massage helped him to sleep in the last months.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
969	5	109	I have worked with many terminally ill patients in cancer care centres and hospices and they have really benefited from complementary therapies. If anyone doubts this - please go into a hospice and ask the patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
970	5	109	As a nurse and patient, I know it works and mainstream medicine complements.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

971	5	109	Alternate therapies have helped me more than any other method always had to pay private, reflexology, acupuncture, homeopathy, all brilliant , should be more funding not less !!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
972	5	109	I have many a client who have experienced relief be it from pain; stress or anxiety through Reflexology treatments, so they don't need to be convinced of its effect	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
973	5	109	it is ridiculous to even consider removal of alternative therapies that provide so much help to so many!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

974	5	109	I'm astonished at this decision. When I read the email from the CNHC it stated that "NICE is currently reviewing its guideline for "Improving supportive and palliative care in adults". How an earth does removing complementary therapies improve this!! This is a huge step backwards when we should be moving forward. As a newly qualified level 5 Reflexologist, who did specific training on treating patients for cancer and palliative care and understanding how this could make such a difference to them, I am very disappointed. I sincerely hope NICE take these petitions and comments seriously.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
975	5	109	REFLEXOLOGY IS GREAT AND REFLEXOLOGY REALLY WORKS! :)	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
976	5	109	As a volunteer I work with cancer patients offering many different complementary therapies. The removal would be a travesty and a tragedy. Patients have so much clinical touch, it is important that palliative care includes therapeutic touch too. It works and is so valuable to those who receive it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

977	5	109	Don't take away what little comforts people in palliative care have.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
978	5	109	I have complementary therapies weekly as I have cancer and benefit hugely from it and think it would be a great loss to cancer care nationwide.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
979	5	109	I'm signing because I believe in Integrated Medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

980	5	109	People should be able to have choice around their mental and physical wellbeings. There is much evidence to prove complementary medicine is a cost effective and viable option and takes away from the stress on the NHS!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
981	5	109	I find these therapies very beneficial. I am a cancer survivor.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
982	5	109	After going through Breast Cancer and being lucky enough to have free Complementary Therapies, I realise how important it is to be able to have them for both healing and pain relief.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

983	5	109	These therapies are a huge support to cancer patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
984	5	109	In the past I have treated many cancer patients at the Hospice of St Francis or in their home and all have received benefit	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
985	5	109	I have given Reflexology treatments to several people coping with cancer as well as many other pathologies. In every instance the treatments proved beneficial in one way or another. To deprive people from using or hearing about Complementary Therapies is appalling.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

986	5	109	I know reflexology has a good effect on people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
987	5	109	As an Energy Practitioner and Life Coach I see everyday the benefits that these complimentary medicines have to alleviate all manner of symptoms of disease and stress and anxiety, it is the way forward and hugely beneficial.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
988	5	109	I'm signing because being a dedicated qualified Complementary therapist buve this action will be detrimental to the public	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

989	5	109	I am a reflexologist & have treated many terminal people with good results	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
990	5	109	As a practising reflexologist I see many clients gain physical & psychological benefits from reflexology treatments & I am aware of many cases where people have gained respite from cancer symptoms (in particular) following therapy sessions - I see no reason why this potential health benefit should be removed from the care agenda available to patients, present & future.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
991	5	109	these therapies are invaluable to those who benefit from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

992	5	109	I am a reflexologist and have used this therapy with great success. I am also qualified in RLD which is clinically proven (Cardiff University - Sally Kay) so how can it be ignored?!!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
993	5	109	Reflexology has been around for 5,000 years. It's proof is in how it makes you feel holistically. It is a fact that we all survived without drugs for thousands of years because of natural medicines. It has huge benefits and compliments orthodox medicine very well. The only people that I can see who would not benefit from Reflexology are the Government lobbyists from Pharmaceutical Companies as they only do things that have a big price tag. They are targeting Homeopathic and Herbal Medicine too. These therapies were here way before chemical pills with huge side effects that make people worse and keep them drug dependant. It is a money spinner for investors to keep us dependant on drugs to make themselves richer. This is a disgrace and must be stopped.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
994	5	109	I have several clients who were able to avoid surgery on their feet because they say after receiving 8 sessions the pain was gone. Im concerned that the world is going backwards, i hear so often "the dr says they have to cut to fix the problem. Why not let a complimentary method be applied first and surgery last. Anymore its surgery first, sad day when care of our bodies is decided by others. Complimentary therapies need to be an option and approved by Dr's, please dont abandon what is working.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

995	5	109	several of my friends have benefitted from Reflexology so much during treatment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
996	5	109	I work in a hospice and day care setting with palliative care patients. I have had excellent results from everybody I have worked with, always from relaxation and sometimes due to giving them pain relief, reduced lymphoedema, reducing anxiety, improving appetite, and improving sleep patterns. Quality of life is always improved, even when the condition has deteriorated. I use aromatherapy, reflexology and reiki. Patients can be very nervous about allowing someone to massage or treat them, and removing this from the guidelines could have a detrimental effect on patients who may not seek these therapies if not on the guidelines. You would be doing the patients a disservice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
997	5	109	I have studied and practised holistic / complementary therapies. I have also received these therapies too and they are wonderful. People should have the choice. Medication isn't always the only answer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

998	5	109	I'm signing because I feel there is a real need for Complementary Therapies. I have used complementary therapies for many years because, for me, they have proved hugely beneficial in so many ways, for mind, body & soul.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
999	5	109	I strongly believe that it will negatively affect those who are terminally ill.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1000	5	109	I know that they help, do not put people off from trying complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1001	5	109	Complimentary Therapies can achieve massive amounts of pain relief, comfort, support, hope, and care, independently or along side traditional medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1002	5	109	As a natural therapy practitioner I believe everything has its place. From 15 years of experience I have witnessed the positive affects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1003	5	109	Complementary therapies should be used MORE in the NHS not less! Don't let Big Pharma take away our right to wellness for the sake of lining their pockets!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1004	5	109	i have worked in a hospice for 7 years and i have seen first hand how patients benefit from complementary therapies both physically and mentally. please dont let this service fall by the wayside you may need it yourself one day. complementary therapy is powerfull stuff it lifts the spirit of a woman living (yes living not dying, you have to live with it first and cope with the terrible side effects) with cancer when u teach her how to disguise loss of lashes n brows and take care of her skin she feels normal again and ready to face people!, massage gives more movement to those suffering with motor neurone disease, it provides total stillness in huntingtons disease, c/tharapies help reduce blood pressure, aid restfull sleep,eases pain and discomfort, aids wellbeing. its vital for our health. please sign this petition. thank u.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1005	5	109	Reflexology is worth keeping	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1006	5	109	I'm a holistic therapist	Thank you for your comment.
1007	5	109	I have worked with many cancer sufferers in my career. Complemetery treatments made a different to these client by helping to improve there overall well being and help most importantly with there relaxation! Sufferes of cancer have very few days where they can actually switch off and forget that they are seriously ill! Patients deserve the right to be treated and has anyone asked them what they would like? Would they get rid of complementary treatments in there care plan?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1008	5	109	I have seen teh reduced stress a session can cause and reduced stress is better immunity and better survival mechanism.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1009	5	109	Comp therapies give a poorly patients a chance to breath, if you breath you feel better, emotionally, physically and spiritually .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1010	5	109	After 35 years experience as a health journalist and first Chair of the Guild of Health Writers, I know that complementary therapies are of enormous benefit in treatment and also, very often, general wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1011	5	109	Anyone who is suffering from, or knows someone who is suffering from a long term illness can see the benefits of complementary therapies. Compassionate listening and tender touch on a body racked with pain is so soothing and relaxing and helps enormously to enhance the benefits of allopathic treatment and increase the quality of life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1012	5	109	I'm signing because I am a qualified Reflexologist and I have seen the benefits of my work in the private section, witnessed the therapy's beneficial effects and I am about to become a volunteer with a local hospice to provide this therapy to the in and out patients suffering or recovering from cancer and other life threatening or life limiting diseases. Please do not remove Complementary Therapies from your guidelines. The loss of the benefits from Complementary Therapies would be enormous to those who benefit from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1013	5	109	The NHS is poor at healing, concentrating all facilities on curing - or not. The complimentary therapies save the NHS a huge amount of money by alleviating pain, restoring whole body function and supplementing palliative and terminal care, If an evidence base is the argument for discarding these then why are we investing in the debacle that is primary care? A full range of services including complementary therapies is the sign of a modern healthy society. It would be foolish and irresponsible to discard these.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1014	5	109	I'm signing because I believe options like reflexology etc should be available to complement the more established medical treatments. Many people will benefit from having this alternative available.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1015	5	109	This short-sighted move will only prolong the misery and pain of many thousands of people. Why would you do that?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1016	5	109	Some complimentary therapies are healing and powerful	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1017	5	109	I'm signing because complementary go beyond just looking at physical symptoms. They touch people in many ways, psychological, emotional, relieve their anxieties, without the use of chemicals, and as such should be a part of any treatment for cancer patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1018	5	109	Complementary Therapies are in high demand in a supporting manner to many people who are either battling a life challenging illness or are supporting a family member through serious illness & treatments for this.....we aim to support ALL people.....we DO support & help ALL who need us!!! Please reconsider this move to remove Complementary Therapies from NICE .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1019	5	109	I see first hand the relief that cancer patients get from having some very light massage. Some report feeling refreshed, relaxed and sleep better at night, some just have a huge boost to their shattered confidence levels.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1020	5	109	These are important additions to the care of people in this country.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1021	5	109	I use complementary therapies myself. These therapies have been around for hundreds of years and they work on our energy system.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1022	5	109	I feel that anyone has the right to this treatment if they feel a benefit from receiving it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1023	5	109	Complementary Therapies give the best feeling of contact and wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1024	5	109	I know that having Reflexology or massage helps people who are ill..	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1025	5	109	Complementary therapies should be increased, not reduced. They help on so many levels. If this goes ahead it is a backward step and patients will suffer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1026	5	109	I'm signing because I believe complementary therapies are extremely good for healing and general well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1027	5	109	I am an osteopath - there is fair evidence for treatment of back pain with osteopathy - why withdraw it?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1028	5	109	As a qualified reflexologist, I know that complementary therapies provide invaluable support for thousands of people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1029	5	109	My health has been greatly enhanced through receiving complementary therapies. As a therapist i also witness firsthand the benefits to those who have received them. NICE are under estimating the benefits of such therapies & probably because of the lack of scientific authenticity.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1030	5	109	I too have worked at a Hospice and in private practice where reflexology is nothing but a good and effective tool	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1031	5	109	I don't agree this should happen, my reasons are endless	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1032	5	109	An holistic approach to help a person as a whole does entail a variety of traditional therapies. mind body and spirituality.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1033	5	109	I'm signing because people get relief from professional reflexology when ordinary medicine practises have failed them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1034	5	109	As a qualified hypnotherapist and having personally experienced complimentary medicine I am highly supportive of its value in addition to conventional medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1035	5	109	Therapist, hypnotherapy, acupuncture, massage.	Thank you for your comment.
1036	5	109	I am a therapist at the sharp end	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1037	5	109	As a psychotherapist I know the value of complementary therapies for helping people deal with anxiety and depression alongside a psychological process.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1038	5	109	It's outrageous...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1039	5	109	Complementary therapies help many people, including my clients for hypnotherapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1040	5	109	I feel complementary therapies are very helpful.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1041	5	109	I have been a therapist for more than 20 years and have run a multi disciplinary clinic offering a range of therapies for over a decade to 1000's of people; also a module for student doctors in partnership with Oxford University. I have no doubt based on my experience and feedback from clients of the extensive benefits of CAM. The right to access all beneficial medical and health modalities must continue to be supported by NICE through the ongoing inclusion of the guidelines	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1042	5	109	I work as part of a team of complimentary therapists at The Rowans Hospice in Waterlooville. We offer our services for free to palliative care patients because we can see how much difference it makes. To remove complimentary therapy from NICE guidelines can only be a backwards step and a demonstration of ignorance.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1043	5	109	The feedback from cancer patients I've voluntarily treated at my local hospital is overwhelmingly supportive and positive. It's the same with the ex-servicemen with PTSD that I work with. I'm sure that the NICE proposal is driven by finance and alternate therapies are an easy target.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1044	5	109	There is no doubt that complimentary therapies have a place in our healthcare system. I will be treating a young person for a social phobia tomorrow whom the NHS has failed. She is only one of several such people with problems that are easily treated with complimentary methods that I've had to help because the "approved" treatments haven't helped. I'm not a threat to the NHS or my clients, I just have to clean up after it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1045	5	109	I have seen the difference that complementary therapies can make to someone who is suffering.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1046	5	109	I work with cancer patients and the amount of relief complementary therapies gives is immense. As long as they are carried out by properly trained and registered therapists they need to be kept on the list.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1047	5	109	Complementary therapies should be available	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1048	5	109	Many people derive benefits from complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1049	5	109	Im a reflexologist and i see how it helps cancer sufferers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1050	5	109	As I am a reflexologist and know the benefits for patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1051	5	109	I am signing this because I am a Clinical Hypnotherapist and also practise EMDR. Most of my patients would get nowhere if they relied on the NHS. I and my fellow Hypnotherapists working in the private sector remove a great burden from the NHS whilst providing relief to patients that they would not otherwise get.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1052	5	109	Complimentary Medicine is an essential part of healthy living.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1053	5	109	I am a holistic therapist and strongly believe we play a major role in health and healing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1054	5	109	I have used complementary therapies successfully for both preventative treatment, early treatment of ill health, including those associated with, mental, emotional and physical distress. Please do not withdraw your support from these essential therapeutic aids.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1055	5	109	Nice one NICE, NOT!!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1056	5	109	I believe that complimentary therapies work well for many disciplines within the NHS and are cost effective and safe to use. As you are the gold standard of care, it should include therapies which have additional benefits.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1057	5	109	Because Hypnotherapy IS NOT "alternative treatment" , it is Psychotherapy and therefore Medicine, and because "alternative therapy" always has at least psychological reasons to be effective.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1058	5	109	In my experience, people receiving palliative care (I have done reiki and hypnotherapy with terminally ill patients) have greatly benefitted from complementary therapies. These types of therapies are very successful in alleviating stress and pain for patients, and can be of comfort. It is so short sighted to purely want to rely on medical interventions in palliative care. The key is in the word COMPLEMENTARY - these therapies complement traditional medicine and are NOT an alternative to them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1059	5	109	I have used hypnotherapy to help people suffering from cancer as proven by Professor Leslie Walker of The University of Hull and many others with experiments in the 1990s	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1060	5	109	The medical profession has forgotten the essence of science	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1061	5	109	I have seen how reflexology has helped those suffering terminal illnesses.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1062	5	109	I am a qualified hypnotherapist and believe that complementary medicine is an essential complement to allopathic medicine and in some cases can avoid people needing to self medicate.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1063	5	109	I believe that reflexology and other complimentary therapies help improve a patients health and well-being. I also believe that NICE should embrace a holistic approach to treatment/interventions rather than only promoting a medical model.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1064	5	109	Complementary medicine works	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1065	5	109	Not only do I see how hypnotherapy helps people live through their serious and life limiting illnesses, I have also been on the receiving end of reflexology and Reiki during my treatment for breast carcinoma and I truly know the worth of supplementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1066	5	109	I am a clinical hypnotherapist and registered nurse. I have seen the psychological and physical benefit complementary therapies bring to people. The U.K. has a severe lack of mental health services. Complementary therapies go some way in filling that gap. We need complementary therapists to be regulated to ensure best practice. Until that occurs NICE guidelines go some way into providing empirical evidence and guidance to the public.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1067	5	109	I saw how much complimentary therapy helped my mother control the pain that drugs alone could not.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1068	5	109	This would be a step backwards not a progression.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1069	5	109	Keep commentary therapy the value is immense	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1070	5	109	I firmly believe in Holistic medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1071	5	109	Thousands of patients who benefit greatly from Complementary medicine should continue to have access to Complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1072	5	109	Complimentary theorpies bring pain relief. The well being of the patient should come before all else.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1073	5	109	People are not just an isolated sickness. People are whole and therefore need complimentary treatments to treat their whole beings, mind and body, spirit and genuine hearts. You can't isolate just a bodily malfunction, the whole person is connected.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1074	5	109	I am in agreement with the petition	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1075	5	109	Complementary therapies are a cheaper alternative to regular pharmaceutical treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1076	5	109	Complimentary therapies help millions of people and deserve a greater than current status, please read book. Bessel van der kolk "the body keeps the score" US doc and psychiatrist has shown complimentary therapeutic care paramount in recovery from PTSD. Read the evidence	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1077	5	109	I use complimentary therapies every day in my professional practice. It works!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1079	5	109	My husband died last year at the age of 51. He had cancer and spent the last two and a half days of his life in a hospice. The journey to death is one we only experience the once thank goodness. The strength of will and character to go through that journey alone with dignity and in peace must be almost unbearable at times but the dying have no choice. They can't change their minds. So to remove any help to support these victims on their lonely journey would be cruel. Who can judge what is right and wrong until they are the one who is dying.	Thank you for your comment and for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1080	5	109	It works forme	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1081	5	109	We can not take choice away from people,	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1082	5	109	Complementary therapies should remain a consideration by NICE.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1083	5	109	I'm training to be a nurse and I'm a reflexologist and I have seen how effective complementary therapies are for patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1084	5	109	I believe alternative therapy should not be taken off, it is non evasive and can be extremely effective to many patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1085	5	109	I believe that the scope of care is better served especially when it comes to cancer care with this included	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1086	5	109	I have been a reflexologist for many years and helped them ease the pain and worry at the end of their lives. I believe everyone should have a choice about how they can supplement their allopathic care with complementary care. There are increasingly more studies being published that state reflexology works as a complementary therapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1087	5	109	Perhaps we can't claim to cure problems, but we can certainly make sufferers feel better or reduce their pain when we treat them. Why should NICE get to deny ill people an alternative opportunity to be released from their pain, even temporarily, especially when conventional painkillers might no longer touch the sides of it...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1088	5	109	Therapy of ANY kind should not be discounted, I know that from personal experience. No 'traditional' cure has aided me, however, hypnosis, meditation and good old fashioned love has given me my life back.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1089	5	109	I am signing because as a Clinical Hypnotherapist and Energy Healer I have been witnessing some incredible results from patients who embraced complementary medicine in conjunction with traditional medicine. It's the difference which makes the difference (Prof C Pert)	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1090	5	109	Women have always used complimentary therapies and will continue to do so. As part of a midwife's toolkit it is an invaluable and cheap option to offer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1091	5	109	Because western medicine isnt the be all and end all..	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1092	5	109	What about our FREEDOM OF CHOICE.. LEAVE US ALONE BIG PHARMA AND NANNY STATE. MANY PEOPLE ARE DAMAGED BY ALLOPATHIC MEDICINE.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1093	5	109	Big drug Companies are interested in one thing only....££££!Comp therapies treat tge whole person and are the way forward-and drug companies dont like this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1094	5	109	My mom was a terminal cancer sufferer and these therapies are absolutely vital!	Thank you for your comment and for sharing your experience . Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1095	5	109	Complementary Therapies replaced the NHS treatments suggested for my serious condition, where would I be without them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1096	5	109	Complimentary therapies are an important part of health and well being and should not be sidelined or ignored.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1097	5	109	Treatment is not all about drugs, the personal touch is so important.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1098	5	109	I am signing because I know how beneficial Complementary Therapy is to patients and their relatives during this very difficult journey.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1099	5	109	As a hypnotherapist and practitioner of NLP who has had (breast) cancer, I can truthfully say that the techniques I learned have proved invaluable to me and to others I have helped.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1100	5	109	If the NHS is about helping people through illness whether physical or mental, NICE must recognise the value of a treatment that includes real, timely and positive physical and psychological results without adding any pressure on doctor's time or costs of medical prescriptions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1101	5	109	I believe that it is important to allow patients to have free access to as many therapeutic approaches as possible	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1102	5	109	This should never happen!! people are allowed to have a choice	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1103	5	109	I am signing because I work for the NHS as a therapist and I regularly include complementary therapy such as mindfulness. It allows a holistic approach that is so often missing in the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1104	5	109	I am a therapist and day spa owner and see for myself everyday how customers are assisted on their path to good health everyday. If they did not feel the benefits of these complimentary therapies they simply would not keep returning for more treatments. That says if all. Let's make decisions based on wisdom and understanding, truth and experience NOT based on control and greed. Please share with others to sign this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1105	5	109	I believe that complimentary therapies can contribute greatly to the quality of life and wellbeing, particularly when people are at there most vulnerable. Complimentary therapies form a valuable part of any palliative care package. The Complementary and Natural Healthcare Council (CNHC) established a National Voluntary Register with Department of Health funding and support to ensure high professional standards and protect the public under the jurisdiction of the Professional Standards Authority for Health and Social Care. Is this being ignored?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1106	5	109	I'm signing because it would be a tragedy &, a very short-sighted decision to remove Complimentary Therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1107	5	109	I am a qualified hypnotherapist who believes in the efficacy of complimentary therapies in all aspect for health & well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1108	5	109	Palliative care should offer the choice of all reputable therapies including herbal medicine and hypnotherapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1109	5	109	This is ridiculous. As a holistic and complimentary therapist. Complimentary therapies are our future.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1110	5	109	I am aware of the huge benefits Complimentary Therapies from to peoples health and general well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1111	5	109	Complimentary therapies are used in all aspects of health care. It's choice. It's safe . It helps	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1112	5	109	People should be given the choice of complimentary therapy and if would actually save the NHS money, due to the fact we treat the whole person and listen!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1113	5	109	I believe that end of life care should include all therapeutic approaches to ensure the very best treatment of patients is achieved	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1114	5	109	I'm signing because as a Complementary Therapist in training, i have seen the benefits of therapies on clients where had they not had complementary therapy treatments, they would still be suffering. Treating the client as a whole is paramount to their health and wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1115	5	109	Complementary Therapies are a wonderful addition to health care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1116	5	109	Why deny anyone in need something that will do no harm?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1117	5	109	Complementary therapies, as the term suggests, are needed BECAUSE they are complementary!! No brainer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1118	5	109	reflexology has a part to play in healthcare	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1119	5	109	I believe many people with life limiting conditions benefit from palliative care from the complementary field.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1120	5	109	I'm signing because as a Complimentary Therapist I know first hand the power that a range of treatments have. Hospitals use Reiki for women who are having IVF and also patients undergoing heart operations. Maternity units are using reflexology to help patients with labour. Complimentary Therapies have a huge amount to offer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1121	5	109	I believe in cam therapies and feel they support my clients vital peogress toward health awareness	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1122	5	109	I believe that these therapies offer relief to those suffering from both minor and major health issues.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1123	5	109	Complementary Therapies play a pivotal role in making someone well, when other avenues have failed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1124	5	109	I am a complementary therapist	Thank you for your comment.
1125	5	109	I am a CAM practitioner and have worked successfully with many clients. We need the guidelines to keep clients safe from non professionals	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1126	5	109	Because therapies are important and beneficial to quality of life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1127	5	109	Complementary Therapies can give people who are chronically sick, mentally ill or dying the help, time and therapeutic interventions which our doctors, nurses and consultants cannot give whether it's through lack of time, lack of knowledge or lack of training. If you ask anyone that's ever been in the sad situation of having to deal with a family member or a friend who is sick or dying and they have had this type of help I would say 100% of them would agree us complementary therapists that are properly trained are as invaluable as doctors and nurses in helping them to have a better quality of life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1128	5	109	The clue is in the title - complementary - they work hand in hand with conventional medicine and are so beneficial - no doubt the large drug companies disagree.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1129	5	109	Working with cancer patients you get a great insight into how beneficial complementary therapies can be for someone	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1130	5	109	I have worked as a volunteer in a local hospice to see the benefits the patients have when receiving complementary treatment whilst going through their personal journey.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1131	5	109	It's essential that we have a varied compliment of therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1132	5	109	I am a complementary therapist	Thank you for your comment.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1133	5	109	I would like to see complementary therapies remain on the NICE guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1134	5	109	Complementary therapies is our future. There is lack of care and understanding in Western Medicine leaving patient with confusion treating only side effects. Patients left behind with confusion however complementary therapy mind, body and soul- the whole person.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1135	5	109	I know from personal experience how much these therapies can help & therefore consider them to be a vital part of treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1136	5	109	Complimentary therapy is helping millions of people and safer than all the medication out there! It's a necessity to keep it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1137	5	109	We should have the right to choose. Why restrict something that benefits people - just because big pharmaceutical companies can't put a price on it. This is an age where we are realising more of our natural capabilities which should be encouraged.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1138	5	109	I believe patients/clients are the best judges of whether complimentary therapies help them or not	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1139	5	109	I gave treatments at a Hospice for some while and know that therapies are invaluable in palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1140	5	109	I am a clinical hypnotherapist and am no doubt that I have a positive impact on my clients with pain, anxiety, depression, weight loss, smoking cessation and more, this is both rash but also indicates the lack of understanding or willingness to consider alternative therapies when treating people's conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1141	5	109	i am a therapist and my treatments have benefited 100's of people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1142	5	109	Outrageous! This benefits so many people that need it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1143	5	109	Because Complementary therapies do not cost £millions in death and damage and compensation unlike drugs and vaccinations.....Save money through the cessation of iatrogenic disease....	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1144	5	109	We should not be dictated to. It's our illness....our choice. Why are they taking this option from us now, when it's been available for years? Are they worried holistic treatments work!?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1145	5	109	Complimentary therapies are the future, it is all about money from the drug companies!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1146	5	109	I have had excellent results using Reiki as a complimentary therapy alongside clients medication	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1147	5	109	These therapies are the future of healthcare.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1148	5	109	Im signing because complementary therapies complement and support people who are ill. Ok you can fill them full of NICE approved drugs, and in addition to that people must have the choice to complement their well being with whatever helps to take away the pain, make them feel better. Bodies do not just consist of bits and pieces which can be fixed independently of each other, bodies are completely linked together with subtle energies, emotions, thoughts - mind body linkages and sometimes a drug cannot reach the parts a complementary gentle therapy can. Give people the choice to choose what they think will help themselves. When we are ill we shouldn't be forced to hand over that bit of our body to be fixed for us, we need to be able to be involved and choose what suits us . The body has an intelligence of its own and we need the option to work with our bodies as well as the medical practitioners to do what we think is best for ourselves. NICS has son right to take away our choices.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1149	5	109	Complementary therapies are an essential part of maintaining well being, ailments prevention and relief from a variety of conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1150	5	109	I have experienced such treatment and benefited from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1151	5	109	Complimentary therapies have helped me so much, and lots of other people I know. We should be able to have choices with our health and well being, and not be forced to accept drugs that have side effects	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1152	5	109	Complementary therapies are needed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1153	5	109	As a health professional I think there are so many benefits to complimentary therapy and feel doing this would be very detrimental to people's health and wellbeing! Thus costing the NHS even more in the long term	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1154	5	109	NICE should strongly support guidelines for complementary medicine to protect patients from charlatans. We are now in 2016 and could complementary medicine please move forward with the help of NICE to make sure the guidelines are adhered to.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1155	5	109	I am doing my dissertation on complementary therapies & feel that they a both natural & helpful. We should not be deprived of them in our time of need!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1156	5	109	I work as a volunteer therapist with Macmillan and see the benefits of complimentary therapy in all who receive it in the centre.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1157	5	109	complementary Therapies are an important adjunct to the health service.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1158	5	109	I'm an holistic therapist and I see on a daily basis the benefits that complementary therapies have on a clients health, & overall well being	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1159	5	109	Nature vs Chemicals? Nature all the way.....	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1160	5	109	I fully understand the benefits of complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1161	5	109	I'm signing because as a complimentary therapist I know first hand the benefits received from Complimentary Therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1162	5	109	I believe alternative therapies work and usually more than the conventional treatments!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1163	5	109	I believe it is very important for reflexology to be part of the NICE system - both in order that patients have the reassurance of NICE approval and can access the service through the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1164	5	109	I believe very strongly that Complementary Therapies work and play a valid part in healing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1165	5	109	I find this incredible and can't believe there isn't some nefarious reasons underlying it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1166	5	109	Next week I begin my role as reiki therapist along with reflexologists at the St Margarets Hospice Yeovil - complementary therapy should be available to all patients it benefits them no end. Please sign... For further reference to healing in hospitals see the Sam Buxton Sunflower Healing trust and the great work Angie and Graham are doing x	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1167	5	109	Complementary therapies and dietary changes have made all the difference to the quality of my life, where pharmaceuticals have largely done nothing - and I think that Government lobbying by pharmaceutical companies has far more to do with this decision than any "objective weighing of evidence".	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1168	5	109	Complimentary therapies are exactly that-their place is to compliment and add to conventional medicine,both are necessary.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1169	5	109	I believe that alternate therapies such as reflexology, hypnotherapy etc have proven to be very beneficial and giving relief in many chronic illnesses and there is more and more evidence to back this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1170	5	109	I am signing because I know that people need complimentary therapies as one of their choices. In time it will be the number one treatment for most illnesses.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1171	5	109	I totally believe in complementary therapies and I think they can help many people. The treat the person holistically, looking at the causes rather than the symptoms. Further, they make a difference without side-effects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1172	5	109	I am a hypnotherapist. NICE has been looking at the supportive care needs of people with cancer and those important to them. These include their social well-being and their psychological and emotional well-being. I know from my own experience, and that of others, that hypnotherapy has helped people in such situations, and believe strongly that hypnotherapy, at least, is a complementary therapy that should be considered by NICE when looking at the care of these people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1173	5	109	We all need at times complementary treatments along side medical treatment if need be. Drugs are not always the answer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1174	5	109	I worked as a massage therapist in a hospice and know what a difference all our complimentary therapists made to the lives of our patients and their families. Anything that helps a person relax to manage their pain, both physical and mental has got to be worthwhile.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1175	5	109	These therapies benefit the patients...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1176	5	109	It would be devastating for the industry and the many patients that benefit.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1177	5	109	Reflexology gives the patient a wonderful opportunity to relax and helps them to escape from their anxieties.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1178	5	109	I believe we should be encouraging more use of complimentary therapies not giving reasons to avoided it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1179	5	109	I believe in alternative therapies as the true healing potential	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1180	5	109	Complementary therapies really help in the healing process.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1181	5	109	It is absolutely mad to remove complementary therapies - let's not help people with pain - lets pump them full of even more drugs!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1182	5	109	Choice should be possible, otherwise we will be a police state in no time!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1183	5	109	I believe in reflexology	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1184	5	109	We live in a democracy and people should have access to complementary options for their treatment. Mainstream medicine simply does not give all the answers for everybody.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1185	5	109	Holistic therapies have benefited many people including myself	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1186	5	109	My partner with kidney cancer has received complementary treatments during his treatment, it helped him both physically and mentally. It helped him feel 'normal' something sadly lacking at the moment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1187	5	109	Reflexology can enhance the life of patients suffering from cancer. It is a holistic therapy which can work along side conventional medicine helping the patient through a very difficult and emotional time. Why would anyone deny someone who is suffering so much a treatment that may bring relief from pain and peace of mind at the most challenging time of their lives? Please reconsider and give reflexologist a the chance to help those who are suffering. It can do no harm so please give it the chance to do some good.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1188	5	109	Positive human touch is the first thing we yearn for after birth. It is the most incredible form of therapy which can ease and prevent so many conditions	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1189	5	109	As a therapist of 14 years, I have witnessed many positive responses to treatments. This is about personal choice. Complementary therapists are not charlatans but dedicated professional caring people delivering important and beneficial treatments	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1190	5	109	It is a crying shame that NICE are planning to remove complementary therapies from their guidelines. I have benefitted so much from them and I know plenty of others that have too. Until the medical profession are able to think outside the box and recommend complementary therapies, many people will continue to depend upon drugs unnecessarily, thus perpetuating the hold that the pharmaceutical industry has on medicine today. I am not a crank, and fully appreciate the amazing things modern medicine does achieve, but I also know that the NHS could save millions of pounds by rethinking their approach to the treatment of many common ailments and recommending complementary therapies. NICE is not helping but hindering.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1191	5	109	Industrialized medicine is about money, and isn't always effective. All should have freedom to choose the therapy they prefer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1192	5	109	These are a vital part of health and wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1193	5	109	I've seen (and recorded as a professional) the benefits and changes complimentary (holistic) therapies invoke. The good old one such as Reflexology and Massage and certainly newer ones cannot and should not be withheld from someone's healing process. These therapies calm the mind, the body and the spirit allowing healing to happen quicker and better than just hoping with medication and surgery.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1194	5	109	As a massage practitioner I believe Complementary Therapies are very powerful and act well as supportive treatments. I help many people, on a monthly basis, to maintain sanity and their health and wellbeing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1195	5	109	As a clinical hypnotherapist I believe that complimentary therapies should stay within the NICE guidelines	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1196	5	109	CAM support provides positive benefits to those in need	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1197	5	109	I am signing this because I have worked for both a hospice and a cancer care organisation and seen what changes I could achieve, where the medical profession could not help.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1198	5	109	I am signing as a I a practicing complementary therapist within my local hospice and know without a doubt that the service we offer provides dignity and choice and a patient empowered treatment plan with effects that promote respect to the individual at end of life or for managing a life threatening situation	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1199	5	109	Reflexology can make a difference!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1200	5	109	I think it is important to keep complementary therapies in NICE guidelines for cancer care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1201	5	109	Patients value these therapies especially in oncology and palliative care where they offer comfort and quality of life. Dying and suffering is bad enough don't make it harder!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1202	5	109	People with many illnesses could and should benefit from complementary therapies and this in turn would save our health service millions . This is a very short sighted view.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1203	5	109	Holistic care is fundamental to successfully treating patients and enabling them to manage their conditions. Complementary therapy is simply another aspect of that holistic treatment, why would NICE not recognise that?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1204	5	109	I have known several people who have benefited enormously from having complementary therapies while being treated for cancer. NICE seem to have a very narrow-minded attitude to care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1205	5	109	Many therapies are crucial to the well being of 1000s	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1206	5	109	I'm signing because I believe that complementary therapies are invaluable in palliative care, both for the patients and their families	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1207	5	109	I have no doubt that complimentary therapies work and should continue to alongside mainstream. I suffer with fibromyalgia and find its the only things that helps and keeps me going.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1208	5	109	I know how effective complementary therapies are from my own experience. They save the N HS millions every year.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1209	5	109	My father benefitted from reflexology when old and ill. I now rely on osteopathy to help relieve my back pain.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1210	5	109	There are many different types of healing and wellbeing that are nothing to do with synthetic pharmaceutical drugs. People should be given all the options and decide for themselves not railroaded into believing there is only one way to relief pain, symptoms and disease.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1211	5	109	I'm signing because I was really helped by complementary therapies when I was diagnosed with breast cancer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1212	5	109	Complementary therapy gives patients a feeling of well being. Massage has so many benefits being hands on giving patients a sense of worth that no matter what their body externally looks like they are still a person worthy of touching. The benefits of relaxation and that patients can talk or not, there is no expectation other than to allow the person to feel better.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1213	5	109	Complementary therapies give people a chance to have healing, relaxing treatments whilst having the time to be listened to by empathetic ears. A very important part of the therapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1214	5	109	Orthodox treatments for cancer can be very toxic which can in itself cause patients to deteriorate. Complementary Therapies can build vital energy, immune and nutritional status and research shows can increase survival. They can also greatly increase quality of life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1215	5	109	there is no doubt that the right complementary therapy supports morale, well being, and conventional treatment. It will get people out of hospital quicker, and they will require less intervention from the health services, ultimately saving the NHS money	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1216	5	109	As a professional herbalist I am concerned at the erosion of public accessibility to complementary therapies. Removing complementary therapies from the NICE guidelines would represent the closing of another door on the right of every individual to choose the type of healthcare they want	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1217	5	109	Complementary therapies can benefit clients with cancer hugely, by alleviating side effects of treatments and improving well being	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1218	5	109	I am a hypnotherapist and have worked as a volunteer for a cancer charity based in a major hospital for over ten years and have seen the amazing difference complementary therapies can make to cancer sufferers. I have also carried out scientific research (overseen by NHS ethics, hospital R&D and a major university) which demonstrated the value of hypnotherapy in the this patient group.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1219	5	109	People suffering Cancer need therapys to help cope with the fear & the terrible side effects of treatment, as well as the fact that their life may be coming to an end - these people NEED therapy!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1220	5	109	There is more to health and treatments than just medication. Whilst there is a place for them in today's society and they do save lives, there are so many side effects to medication that we also need to explore and use an alternative holistic approach. People should be able to choose how and what treatment they receive.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1221	5	109	if this goes ahead it gives the message that there is no place in medicine or health for this class of treatments. As everybody is different, it should add to a doctor's, indeed everyone's, options, rather than restrict us all to big money-grabbing pharma	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1222	5	109	Complementary Therapists give patients time and support - often giving the patients lifestyle advice which helps to keep people healthy and out of doctor's surgeries thus reducing NHS costs...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1223	5	109	Because I believe in complementary Therapies. Its been proved for centuries that it works. Why would anyone want to take away the choice of treatments. There is a place for allopathic treatment but there is a place for complementary treatment too. If you don't give people a choice of their chosen treatment you just feed all the pharmaceutical companies to give us all kinds of chemicals. What do you choose chemicals or natural treatment? NICE please reconsider your decision.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1224	5	109	I regard this as a retrograde step by NICE and possibly the thin end of the wedge in respect of future anti-complementary medicine decisions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1225	5	109	The usefulness and success of complementary medicines, as well as that of the 'main stream', largely medication based medicine, should be acknowledged by NICE. One approach is never enough.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1226	5	109	Patient choice is essential. Complementary therapies are safe, effective, side-effect free, cost effective and have provided much relief for many people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1227	5	109	I believe complimentary therapies shouldn't be removed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1228	5	109	I have been helped immeasurably by Complementary Therapies and as Therapist it is invaluable.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1229	5	109	I know loads of people who have benefited from a reflexology treatment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1230	5	109	People need to have autonomy over the choices they make for their own health. To remove these safe and healthy alternatives removes choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1231	5	109	As a complementary therapist I have personal experience of helping people and can see the benefits of using complementary therapies. I see that NICE have kowtowed to the 'drug' companies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1232	5	109	Complementary therapies can benefit people considerably and this represents a backward step.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1233	5	109	Alternative therapies have a huge impact on those individuals receiving palliative and end of life care. They provide relief from symptoms at a time when quality of life must be maintained at the highest level so patients can have a stress and pain free journey. Removing these therapies would do each and every palliative patient a great injustice and rob them of comfort and dignity that they could of had.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1234	5	109	To lose complementary therapies from the NICE guidelines would be a retrograde step.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1235	5	109	Complementary therapies are an essential support to traditional medicine and it would be a travesty to deny people the opportunity to access these	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1236	5	109	Because I am a therapist myself and I know the power this treatment can have in helping people with health conditions and relieving their symptoms.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1237	5	109	Working in a hospice where complementary therapy is a recognised part of holistic, person centred care from early diagnosis to end of life care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1238	5	109	I have received many benefits of complementary therapies, as have my clients, family and friends when medication has become counterproductive.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1239	5	109	I have seen the relief that reflexology, massage and aromatherapy have helped people deal with their illness. Has anyone asked these patients what their view is. I'm sure many of them would prefer to be without the harsh drugs and treatment they undertake.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1240	5	109	People should be given the opportunity to use all possible options in looking after their health. Many complementary therapies are well-founded in research and benefit a huge number of people, both physically and psychologically. To remove this option or endorsement of this option is not in patients' best interests at all.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1241	5	109	I have personally witnessed how reflexology can help those in palliative care. When conventional medicine can no longer help, it is complimentary medicine that can help the person get through the last stages of their life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1242	5	109	My mother suffers from fibromyalgia and the only way she is able to get through her worst days is reflexology.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1243	5	109	People should have choice and control over how they treat themselves. The "medical" establishment has way too much control and the fact is so many more die and are harmed of their "cures" than through complementary medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1244	5	109	I believe the patient should be given every support to find peace and calm during those difficult days. That is mind and body support.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1245	5	109	I believe complementary therapies have a roll to play in healthcare alongside mainstream medicine	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1246	5	109	Traditional medicine, for that is what these are, offer many holistic benefits enabling people to make choices about their own healthcare and well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1247	5	109	I firmly believe in the benefits complementary therapies and the human touch can give all people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1248	5	109	My friends and family have received Reflexology and other complimentary therapies over the last 25 years and they have recovered from diseases and disorders including IBS, Hypertension, Depression, Anxiety attacks, Insomnia, Fertility issues, acid reflux, urinary tract and bladder and bowel issues.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1249	5	109	Once again freedom of choice is being taken away by the vested corrupt interests.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1250	5	109	Volunteers in hospices make a difference and are unpaid. Complementary Therapies are part of an enlightened medical future. Energy medicine so why are you holding back progress.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1251	5	109	Most of us volunteering in hospices are unpaid and feeling pretty undervalued now by NICE. We make a real difference. Complementary Medicine is the future, modern medicine is just catching up with the bigger picture of what makes us malfunction, energy medicine, nutrigenomics etc are the future so why NICE are you holding back the future?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1252	5	109	Most of us volunteering in hospices are unpaid and feeling pretty undervalued now by NICE. We make a real difference. Complementary Medicine is the future, modern medicine is just catching up with the bigger picture of what makes us malfunction, energy medicine, nutrigenomics etc are the future so why NICE are you holding back the future?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1253	5	109	I've seen the very real benefits patients and carers receive through the dedicated work of complementary therapists. It really is a disgrace that access will be denied people at this time of their lives.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1254	5	109	I am a qualified and experienced practitioner with 20 years and many consultations and treatments behind me. I would not have continued with my practices if I had not seen (and continue to see) such excellent results. To remove complementary therapies from your guidelines shows, not only a lack of insight and awareness but also a degree of arrogance.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1255	5	109	I am a palliative care nurse in hull and witness 1st hand the benefits of complementary therapies that are used. Our patients show only positive results from their treatments which creates a feeling of wellbeing among them. These therapies encompass holistic care that is provided to our patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1256	5	109	Often there are few treatment options with palliative care so I feel it is very important to offer patients as much support as possible and this should include all alternative therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1257	5	109	I am a reflexologist and know from many years' experience how much it can help people. I have lived through cancer myself so also have first-hand experience of the benefits of reflexology and other complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1258	5	109	As a Hypnotherapist who volunteers at my local Hospice I see the help and benefit of many types of complementary therapy. The patients gain is what counts.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1259	5	109	We are all human beings and are all different. Therefore, the treatment options to heal, support and assist patients undergoing cancer therapy should be part of an individualised treatment package, which in many cases should include complimentary therapies when it is in the best interest of the individual patient.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1260	5	109	there is plenty of evidence that CAM therapies increase vitality, reduce toxicity and may increase survival in cancer. They can also enhance the patient's response to orthodox treatment. Not forgetting increasing quality of life. Need I say more?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1261	5	109	Being a doctor and using myself complementary therapies through my life and having excellent results in treating various symptoms, I can only militate forever for using those therapies. A treatment of a disease it's not only about taking drugs, there is also an energetic and emotional disturbance in the body where the complementary therapies have most of the time better results.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1262	5	109	I have worked both as a volunteer and complementary therapist in palliative care for many years. I know first hand from the patients that the benefits they gain from receiving complementary therapy are enormous. They report they benefit both physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually whilst dealing with the challenges they face throughout their cancer journey,	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1263	5	109	Complementary Therapies are what they say.....complementary, not instead of. They have an important part to play in the health of many patients especially in the field of palliative care where they really achieve much appreciated and acknowledged benefits. This is widely known as evidenced by 1000's upon 1000's of "service users"/clients and enlightened medical practitioners in diverse fields. Come on NICE, don't take such a powerful voice and therapeutic support away!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1264	5	109	People should have freedom of choice, not just orthodox medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1265	5	109	Complementary medicines are widely used because they are more natural and safe than their pharmaceutical counterparts as well as being effective.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1266	5	109	Complementary therapies are excellent and should be more widely available.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1267	5	109	ii DO NOT BELIEVE THIS TO BE IN THE BEST INTERESTS OF PEOPLE IN THE UK WITH ILLNESSES LIKE CANCER .....	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1268	5	109	I firmly believe that complementary therapies offer a real alternative to the drugs that are routinely thrust down patients throats. I am very concerned that many people never get to see alternative possibilities and if these are written out of the guidelines there will be even less incentive for them to be used, which would be a crying shame.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1269	5	109	The standaard of evidence for "scientific" medicines is often not as good as it's painted - negative results going unpublished etc. Also, people are going to use complementary treatments anyway, because they are perceived to improve quality of life - it's better that there is a dialogue between the medical and complementary health practitioners so that side-effects of interctions etc can be minimised.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1270	5	109	I am a Bowen therapist who has also been involved in helping people with Cancer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1271	5	109	I am signing this because I work with comp therapies in palliative care and see the positives of it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1272	5	109	I have had the privilege of helping people nearing the end of life by using my Alexander Technique teaching skills to impart a sense of peace and show them ways to reduce unwanted tension.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1273	5	109	Reflexology can be of great help to those suffering with cancer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1274	5	109	I believe in the value and efficacy of complimentary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1275	5	109	It's vitally important and valuable on so many levels...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1276	5	109	It would be short sighted to remove complementary medicines from NICE	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1277	5	109	My cousin had teenage cancer. At the London hospital she was offered reflexology and it was calming for her. She was 18 when she died. Had no hair, no toe nails, her face was deformed due to the sarcoma. Why remove something beneficial for QOL? Why just administer chemotherapy that would save her life anyway? Why burn her face with radiotherapy but not offer sleeping tablets for insomnia? Managing illness benefits from the inclusion of patient led therapies that feel good. It is not expensive, it is kind and has positive effects. There is a lot of practice where there is no evidence of effectiveness but still something is better than nothing. Offer choice.	Thank you for your comment and for sharing your experience . Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1278	5	109	Complementary therapists are a vital ingredient in the healing process because they give time and loving attention.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1279	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and have helped people who have been suffering. Reflexology is a touch therapy that allows the client to relax, whilst being treated in a loving and nurturing manner. It is a time when the client can share worries or stories if they so choose or quietly doze as it is a special time that the therapist dedicates especially to them one to one. Reflexology and many complimentary therapies helps the patients on many levels emotionally, physically and mentally and very much compliments the Conventional medicine and care the patient is receiving. I have many friends in the profession and a large number of us often work on a voluntary basis. Please don't take this comforting and beneficial integrative therapy away from those in need at a crucial time when they need it the most.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1280	5	109	There are many benefits to be gained from alternative methods of healing. Proven time and time again. Namaste	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1281	5	109	Palliative patients benefit from complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1282	5	109	I am nurse and totally feel these therapies make a difference	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1283	5	109	As a cancer patient who benefitted from complementary therapies I urge NICE not to do this. I want to see all cancer patients across the UK be able to benefit from this type of service. There needs to be guidelines so that patients can be sure they are getting good quality treatments and can trust the therapists who treat them. Patients need a choice and deserve to get the best.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1284	5	109	Having been a practitioner for over 40 years, I can hand on chest say Complementary Medicine is one of the most cost effective and safest treatments around today.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1285	5	109	I'm a therapist and understand its necessity in healthcare	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1286	5	109	I am a Reiki practitioner who cares about keeping standards high for the benefit of everyone involved.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1287	5	109	I've worked in a cancer care setting as a complementary therapist since 2002 and seen the benefits that it has given to many patients. Obviously the people who are saying that it should be removed have never had a life threatening disease and known the stress and anxiety that this can bring on. Complementary therapies help patients to help them stay calm and relaxed to get them through some of the gruelling treatments they have to get through. Have a heart and don't take something away from the patients that they find beneficial.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1288	5	109	As a Reiki practitioner I have seen first hand the benefits derived by giving Reiki to patients with cancer and many other diseases. It helps them to relax and have a much better quality of life to the very end. Instead of considering taking this facility away we need to be expanding until every patient who would like CT has the opportunity to do so.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1289	5	109	These services are invaluable and are qualitative not quantitative	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1290	5	109	Complimentary services are literally a lifeline to patients and forgotten carers going through the hell of fighting cancer. Please invest do not make the cancer journey tougher for people than it already is♥☐	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1291	5	109	We should all have the choice and many people have benefitted far more from these therapies than conventional medicine. Using complimentary therapies help people and therefore we should encourage more opportunities to receive these treatments and certainly not prevent people from being able to receive them! NICE please keep Complementary Therapies in your guidelines - for the health and wellbeing of the nation!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1292	5	109	Care provider for cancer related patients and clients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1293	5	109	My mum would be far worse off if it was not for CT.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1294	5	109	Complementary therapies assist patients to relax have less stress. It is wrong to withdraw something that will assist particularly the terminally I'll leave this legend relaxed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1295	5	109	Don't take this away please	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1296	5	109	I strongly feel the complimentary treatments I received alongside Cognitive Behavioral Therapy contributed strongly to my recovery from severe anxiety and depression.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1297	5	109	I am passionate about complimentary therapies...they are a very important part of healing and wellbeing....and could in fact take a lot of pressure off of the health service which we know is struggling with over work ...if people can access these very supportive therapies ..their lives would be vastly enhanced...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1298	5	109	As I sufferer the treatments need to stay. Please	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1299	5	109	I work in palliative care and there is no doubt of the difference that complementary therapies make to the patients. It eases their end of life and brings immeasurable comfort, peace and relief from the pain and fear that this phase so often brings. It seems like madness to me to even think of removing it - why on earth would you???	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1300	5	109	Complimentary therapies have a profoundly positive impact on those who receive treatment. Free of toxins and deeply relaxing, these treatments have very few, if any, side affects. They should be promoted, not removed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1301	5	109	I can't believe the pettiness of this, who would wish to deny such relaxing and soothing experiences to people being ravaged by cancer and its treatment. I used to love my reflexology sessions, at a time when I felt so ill and desperately tired all the time and everything tasted horrible, it was one of the few things that I could enjoy. Please don't do this, surely improving the well being of vulnerable patients is essential for them to have any quality of life. If cuts need to be made, make them somewhere else, alternatively, close tax loopholes for big corporations and individuals, and then there won't be the need to make any cuts in the first place.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1302	5	109	The availability of complementary therapies which have been proved to be beneficial to so many patients should be increased, not removed!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1303	5	109	Complementary therapies have made my life worth living	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1304	5	109	I have stage 4 cancer and I think these alternative treatments are very important for people who benefit from them. It's important that conventional medicine works alongside alternative treatments which have a valid place in medical practice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1305	5	109	This is too valuable a service to be removed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1306	5	109	People with cancer suffer enough why take something from them that helps them cope with the side affects of chemo and radiotherapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1307	5	109	I have benefited physically and psychologically from complementary therapies. To dismiss or exclude them is to take away relief, comfort and hope from those in need.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1308	5	109	The benefits that patients and carers receive from complimentary therapies during treatment is just amazing and much needed. They are the glue to the holistic patient approach	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1309	5	109	I believe complementary therapies should be accessible to all	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1310	5	109	I have benefitted immensely from holistic health practices. The evidence is incontrovertible because it is mine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1311	5	109	I'm signing this petition because I know what a difference relaxation can make to pain and what a difference these therapies make to those in acute distress.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1312	5	109	I'm a Reiki practitioner at a Hospice and Cancer Centre and I know from feedback what great results it gives the recipient not just for relaxation and improved sleep , they have more energy ,nausea and sickness goes ,pain goes	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1313	5	109	I believe in the benefits of complimentary therapy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1314	5	109	I myself have had breast cancer and benefitted from complementary therapies. I am a Holistic practitioner too and know the benefits	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1315	5	109	Being a reiki practitioner, I know the positive benefits complementary medicine has on many people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1316	5	109	These therapies are a hugely important part of pain & stress relief for terminally ill patients & should continue.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1317	5	109	People with dementia especially benefit from complementary therapies , leave well alone!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1318	5	109	I am a practitioner of Ayurvedic Healthcare	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1319	5	109	I know that Complementary therapies in many forms are supportive of end of life care. They go beyond the pharmacologic into the energy and spiritual aspects of care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1320	5	109	I am signing because I have used and benefited from complementary therapies and play an important role in the wellbeing of huge number of patients, especially in palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1321	5	109	Health and care would automatically include complimentary therapies. Please do not exclude them as they are invaluable.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1322	5	109	Natural ar;e the only way our bodies have a chance of recovery	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1323	5	109	The NHS needs to provide care and support for patients, not just drugs	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1324	5	109	Complementary therapies can be of enormous help and support.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1325	5	109	I volunteer in a hospice as a CT therapist. I have no doubt of the value of CT's to both patients and carers in helping them manage what they face, quite apart from any relief from symptoms, Improving sleep, sense of wellbeing and offering a place to 'be'. Such a backward step.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1326	5	109	I know that complementary therapies help an awful lot of people especially those who would rather go down this route than the medical route.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1327	5	109	i have worked with cancer patients for 8 years as a complementary therapist. We not only sooth patients with gentle massage but also teach patients how to deal with stress that they face with each day - without filling them full of pills. Our treatments support the patients, we have the time to really care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1328	5	109	I have seen the benefits complementary therapies have given patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1329	5	109	I am a firm believer in alternative and complimentary therapies. Medical science only knows what it thinks it knows, which you can be certain will be very different 20 years from now. Until the turn of the 19th century Doctors believed that infections and diseases were carried by smell alone. Meantime, they themselves infected their patients with dirty instruments!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1330	5	109	Complimentary medicine is an invaluable resource and comfort particularly at this acute period of life,	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1331	5	109	Because I am a holistic therapist	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1332	5	109	there is so much evidence for comp therapies so why do they want to do this...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1333	5	109	CT's can form a foundation for helping a person to recover.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1334	5	109	Trust me if you were in constant pain you would appreciate the help that drug free complementary therapy provides	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1335	5	109	Complementary therapies are essential. They help heal the mind/body and spirit that conventional medicine cannot reach and aid wellbeing. Removing them is so shortsighted.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1336	5	109	People should be able to choose these therapies if they want to. How is removing them of any help whatsoever to a terminal cancer patient?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1337	5	109	As a complementary therapist who volunteers in my local hospice I am constantly being told how much the non invasive treatments we give help relax our patients often giving them a peaceful nights sleep.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1338	5	109	I have and am benefitting directly from complementary therapies and request that Complementary Therapies feature in the NICE Guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1339	5	109	As a reiki therapist I have worked with people with terminal cancer and found this and any holistic treatment to be very beneficial. It provides great relief a sense of peace and empowerment over what is often very evasive treatment. To remove complementary therapies from the guidelines would be an absolute tragedy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1340	5	109	I'm signing here because I see every week how complementary therapies can help and support people with cancer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1341	5	109	You need guidelines in every branch of medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1342	5	109	Complementary Therapies has as much right to be a choice of treatment alongside any medical intervention NICE should not limit a persons pathway to healing in this manner.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1343	5	109	I have worked for 20+ years as a genetic research scientist in pharmaceuticals across all major disease areas. There is no doubt that chronic conditions either start or are exacerbated by stress and poor diet. This affects inflammation levels as borne out by gene expression studies. I have first hand experience of complementary therapies alleviating symptoms such as chronic pain conditions in many people, meaning they do not have to take pain killing drugs which have serious side effects such as renal cell carcinoma (long term use) , liver damage , stomach ulcers. Complementary therapies will remove the burden of chronic conditions from the health care service and be far more cost effective. There is no doubt that complementary therapies enhance quality of life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1344	5	109	For thousands of years we did not have anything BUT complementary therapies ...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1345	5	109	End of life care for should be holistic and nurturing. If you agree, please sign the petition xxx	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1346	5	109	Complementary therapies are crucial to our health, care and wellbeing. Do not deny people the opportunity to benefit from these powerful treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1347	5	109	The Western medical model requires profound rethinking (and unhooking from Big Pharma). The proposal to remove holistic therapies - which embody a wisdom Western medicine has lost - is a retrograde step, arising from ignorance, politically and financially fuelled. It has nothing to do with the interests of the human beings using NHS services. NICE is not fit for purpose.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1348	5	109	I have experienced the effects of complimentary therapies in my life on my person and they were wonderful and gave me so muvh more than just relief from pain, I was moved to engage deeper with life to look after myself in ways that improved not just my health but also my sense of overall wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1349	5	109	Signing because the stranglehold of the drug companies needs to be loosened, and the complementary therapies being more holistic (rather than just sticking a plaster on you and sending you away) offer an indispensable service.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1350	5	109	I have 15 years experience of Reflexology. For me, it is the most helpful and wonderful of treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1351	5	109	People have the right to choices in healthcare. Healthcare is more than absence of symptoms it's about increased wellness.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1352	5	109	It makes no sense when complementary therapies of all sorts can support recovery from and living with illness. They are humane and person centred and allow a patient/client to receive ongoing positive attention. Is this proposed NICE policy the result of pressure from the drug companies I wonder.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1353	5	109	I am a reflexology student and feel it is very important for patients to have the option of complementary therapies on the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1354	5	109	As a Reiki practitioner with experience working with in palliative care, I firmly believe access to complementary therapies is essential for those with life limiting conditions and those at the end of their lives	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1355	5	109	I believe treatments such as reflexology and reiki may not completely cure but certainly can help you through the process and maximise your wellbeing during a stressful time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1356	5	109	Pharmaceutical medication does not treat everyone's illness, ailment, condition and the side effects of medication can have side effects. It is important to have choice. Complimentary Therapies can be vey effective for some people and a healthier option. They work in a holistic way which can be more effective.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1357	5	109	Complementary therapies have really helped to improve my health where conventional medicines haven't touched it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1358	5	109	I'm signing because every day I see people benefiting from complementary therapies and know from personal experience and my extensive training that they are effective and beneficial.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1359	5	109	Its very important to many people that they are offered alternative forms of therapy that actually do work for many such as Reiki, massage etc	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1360	5	109	There are many of us Reiki practitioners who would agree that reference to complementary therapies should not be removed from NICE guidelines	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1361	5	109	I work in palliative care and see the enormous benefit that complementary therapies offers to our patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1362	5	109	Complimentary treatment has been proved to help prevent suffering.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1363	5	109	I am an holistic healer and the benefits are so vast and all-encompassing particularly in people who otherwise only receive touch to be poked, prodded and have medical treatment. Complementary therapies do exactly that - they complement the recipient's other treatments but so much more than that, they complement and enhance their lives.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1364	5	109	complimentary medicine has cured me when drugs etc could not!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1365	5	109	If it helps then we should use it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1366	5	109	I know how important these therapies are in end of life situations	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1367	5	109	I'm signing, because very soon it will be the pharmaceutical companies ruling the world and anything vaguely natural or healthy will go by the wayside, this is not how humans are meant to live.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1368	5	109	Complementary Therapy are good sources of support for those with various illnesses.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1369	5	109	Complementary therapies are a part of the future of medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1370	5	109	I am a cancer survivor	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1371	5	109	Complimentary therapies helped with my side effects after cancer treatment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1372	5	109	As a cancer sufferer who also has lymphodema the help and relief provided by complementary therapies went a long way (and continues to do so) to get me through the symptoms of the chemo, radio therapy and coming to terms with dealing with the aftermath. Can't put s price on how much this helps.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1373	5	109	The 21st Century requires 21st century thinking, being and doing. Complementary medicine sits squarely alongside natural and medical health, care and wellbeing solutions and offers a far more palatable, affordable, understandable and welcoming mix to the concerted effort to establish true, transparent and open self care and user choice. We need to finally take the holistic medicine and holistic treatment appraoch, incorporating and accepting people's right to determine the shape and look of such delivery.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1374	5	109	After cancer surgery aromatherapy helped my recovery	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1375	5	109	I believe this is a very short sighted view. There is firm qualitative research that CAM can and does make a big different to patient's lives	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1376	5	109	I'm a complimentary Therapist and we need recognition not ignorance from the orthodox medical world	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1377	5	109	It certainly helped me after surgery, had wonderful massage and reflexology. It helps with all the treatment required for treating cancer,	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1378	5	109	People are multidimensional and CT help people with emotional /spiritual issues that are not so easily captured by current research methods of RCTs etc. This is a desire by a faction of science to restrict people's choice to only have the treatment they say they can have irrespective of patients wishes. To say they will not support research in this field goes against the ethos of science and research. Removing the patient voice goes against all current moves in healthcare. This is about control and power - not about caring for people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1379	5	109	As a doctor I believe in treating the whole person and as that is the focus of many complementary therapies I think they can be extremely helpful.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1380	5	109	People have the right to a choice in their health care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1381	5	109	Every one should be able to choose freely what health care they wish.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1382	5	109	I signing because freedom of choice is part of what makes us human and allows us to decide for ourselves what we engage in. To take that freedom away is called dictatorship!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1383	5	109	I believe that everyone has the right to choose the healthcare that they deem best for them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1384	5	109	Complementary therapies do not replace medical treatment, the work WITH medical treatment to improve results and healing. Do not make these important techniques and vital assistance harder to access!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1385	5	109	People have a right to choose their own health care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1386	5	109	Alternative therapies saved my life, literally!! Medical Practitioners had no real treatment options left for me, other therapies stepped in and helped, I'm still alive 20 years on and working full time! Without the alternative therapies as Professor of Endocrinology said I'd be dead in 3 months! That was 19 years ago! Keep available please!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1387	5	109	I disagree with complementary therapies being removed from the NICE Guidelines. Complementary Therapies offer huge support at a time when patients require it most.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1388	5	109	I spoke yesterday to lay minister to a local hospice who was extolling the benefits of the complementary therapies offered there.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1389	5	109	In palliative care and in all healthcare it is important to allow patients a choice of treatments and complimentary therapies play a role in this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1390	5	109	Oncology have for a long time been a part of NHS much more accepting & utilising complementary healthcare therapies. Unfortunately therapists often may be unpaid volunteers. Therapists need to be equally valued alongside other healthcare professionals.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1391	5	109	Patient choice and overall effectiveness should be respected.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1392	5	109	The benefits of complimentary therapies are self-evident in palliative care. No mention in the guidelines will open the door to many more scurrilous and unregulated treatments being offered.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1393	5	109	Up to 60% of any therapeutic effect can be mediated through so-called 'placebo' dynamics. Many conventional medical and complimentary interventions are but the rails on which these dynamics run. And, right now, in today's increasingly industrialised NHS, the humanity is being drained from even medical interventions. To deny patients access to humanistic and effective palliative interventions at this point is inhumane - and this is even before any evidence of positive effect of complimentary therapies and therapists are factored in. There is more to life than RCT- driven medicine....simply reflect on statin prescribing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1394	5	109	People should have to right to all options of healthcare.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1395	5	109	I'm signing this as a physiotherapist who also practices craniosacral therapy which works on pain-sensitive fascia. Many palliative patients choose to have craniosacral treatment as it is so gentle and receptive to the whole person. Please let them have this opportunity.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1396	5	109	I passionately believe that complimentary therapy treatments make a significant positive impact on a patient.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1397	5	109	I know many people who have been helped as I have myself. Very many people in the hospice where my late husband was treated were helped and found these types of treatments so very helpful. Take a few not needed managers away from posts that don't need to be there and keep these wonderful treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1398	5	109	Please open your eyes to treating the whole person. Support for complementary medicine is increasing and I as a craniosacral therapy practitioner see so many positive results. Work with the associations that regulate their professions, try the treatments for yourselves and let's move forward with treating the whole person and the cause of their condition. I treat doctors and nurses too so they are not all blinkered.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1399	5	109	It is of vital importance that terminally ill people receive all the help they can get, be it emotionally or physically; Why discontinue something which has helped for decades; one would be doing a disservice to people who are critically ill.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1400	5	109	I think we need choice to be able to use complementary therapies and Nice should invest in providing the evidence -	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1401	5	109	The anecdotal evidence and my personal experience is sufficient for this work to be properly investigated by NICE and for them to realise the efficacy of the complementary health work.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1402	5	109	Without complementary therapy for my young baby she would have died.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1403	5	109	CT is a great healing tool that NHS needs to work with-	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1404	5	109	I believe comp therapies are truly effective and life enhancing and should be widely available for everyone.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1405	5	109	Complementary therapies have been hugely beneficial to me, and this opportunity should be available to all.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1406	5	109	I am a homeopath and see the enormous benefit that it offers my patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1407	5	109	I believe that choice is everyone's right & if you feel better that's good	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1408	5	109	As a professional therapist I have seen first hand the difference holistic therapies can make to the lives of both the patient and their family members. I cannot understand why these therapies are being removed from NICE Guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1409	5	109	on what justification and evidence are NICE suggesting that complementary therapies aren't of benefit to people.....OH, silly me, I forgot it prevents the pharmaceutical companies making profit if people are treated with natural therapies to get well	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1410	5	109	I'm signing because I believe in the freedom of choice - western chemical medicine does not have all the answers and I have seen the positive effects of complimentary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1411	5	109	Complementary therapies should be an option for those needing palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1412	5	109	I'm a massage therapist and massage can help SO many reasons and people-not medicine from the doctors!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1413	5	109	I think it's important that people can have the chance to use complementary therapy alongside conventional treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1414	5	109	I'm a massage therapist who believes complimentary therapies can help people involved in coping with serious illness.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1415	5	109	I am signing because I know first hand how valuable complementary therapies are and have been to my own well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1416	5	109	I have benefited from alternative therapieswhen the doctors offered me no help apart from addictive pain relief....	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1417	5	109	Complementary Medicine and traditional medicine make for a truly holistic understanding and support for the patient	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1418	5	109	I've personally benefitted from reflexology and other complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1419	5	109	I believe complimentary therapies are beneficial to well being	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1420	5	109	I know personally how helpful complementary therapies are in improving the quality of life of those with a terminal illness	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1421	5	109	I am a therapist who has work with clients with cancer and have seen the benefits of therapy as a complimentary therapy in addition to medical treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1422	5	109	I believe that complementary therapy are NOT PALLIATIVE , complementary therapy are helping lots of people easing their suffering and enhancing their quality of life , The National Institute for Health and Care Excellence should know better than removing Complementary therapy from their guide lines	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1423	5	109	complementary therapies have saved my life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1424	5	109	This is absurd and so sad. I know first hand the enormous contribution complementary therapies make to improving the quality of life of those with a terminal illness. Please help and sign the petition. A potential future of palliative care relying only on pharmaceutical drugs and surgery is very bleak indeed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1425	5	109	Why would they do this when so many people gain enormous benefit from Complementary Therapies especially those receiving palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1426	5	109	I work as a nurse and have witnessed many beneficial outcomes such as pain relief and improved function from professional and reputable complimentary therapists. It is simply negligent and irresponsible to not support the integrity and intergration of complimentary therapies and to think that the current accepted medical practice is the only way when it clearly it is not.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1427	5	109	This is IMPORTANT for humanity	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1428	5	109	I have benefitted from homeopathic treatment when going through the menopause and my husband benefits from it for his arthritis treatment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1429	5	109	Complementary Therapies are so incredibly beneficial to cancer patients. I have offered them to cancer patients at a local hospice and all my patients were grateful - welcoming this type of support at a difficult time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1430	5	109	this is a major support for people and it should not be underestimated! i have worked first hand with the terminally ill (acupuncturist and massage therapist) and it offers care and support which is vital	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1431	5	109	I am a qualified reflexologist and volunteer every week in a local hospice treating patients suffering from a variety of terminal illnesses. From the regular comments from both patients and nursing staff, there is no doubt that receiving a complementary therapy treatment is hugely beneficial in easing patients symptoms such as pain, congestion, constipation (often caused by prescribed drugs), boosting circulation and improving breathing to name but a few. Complementary Therapy also promotes relaxation and calms patients fears - all invaluable at such a difficult time. To remove the option of complementary therapy within the palliative care setting would be a tragic loss to a huge group of vulnerable people, now and in the future. Please don't let this happen.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1432	5	109	When we trim life down to only what can be statistically charted and filed and written into reports we start to meet the needs of governing bodies while failing to meet the needs of people. I trained in complementary therapies after the NHS having failed to provide a pathway, drug, scan or surgery to fix me were happy to sign me off to feel ill and in pain every day on my own. Nothing to do with them. Complementary therapies haven't 'fixed' me, but they make the illness easier, bearable, they help me to relax and cope, they provide the care of the whole person that the NHS with its increasingly tick box and pathway and bureaucracy centred approaches cannot meet alone.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1433	5	109	Medicine could do with a bit more integration with Complementary Therapies. They help, they assist, they work alongside other treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1434	5	109	To think only manual therapy has no place in helping treat a range of dysfunctions is like assuming you can make bread by just putting all the ingredients in a bowl. I suggest the decision makers find a friend or loved one with a chronic pain condition and see what helps. Pills, surgery or manual therapy. Just as we find out a huge amount about the fascia the door should not be closed on progress	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1435	5	109	I have seen FIRST HAND with more people than i can count ovey 25 years, the incredible and positive impact with frail and fragile patients. DO NOT TAKE AWAY THEIR HOPE & HEALING! !!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1436	5	109	I have seen and felt the amazing results of complementary Therapies!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1437	5	109	I was dx'ed w/ Chronic autoimmune disease	Thank you for your comment.
1438	5	109	I'm signing because complimentary therapies helped keep me sane and healthy whilst caring for my mother. Don't take the opportunity for that resource away from others who need it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1439	5	109	I'm signing because I've experienced beneficial results from complementary therapies and believe they should have the support of NICE guidelines	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1440	5	109	Until Western Medicine has all the answers to our illness and diseases, we have a right to choose complimentary therapies that support our medical approach. To deny this without proper consultation or consideration of all our complex health requirements is a crime against humanity. We have a right to choose the treatments that support us most to deal with our ill health and to cut the access to complimentary medicine will put further enormous strain on our already over burdened national health system.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1441	5	109	Patients freedom of choice must be honoured. Do not remove CT's from palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1442	5	109	Everyone should have the choice in the health care that they receive.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1443	5	109	I have personal experience of the benefits of alternative health care, I know people who work in the alternative sector, and I know people whose suffering has been alleviated by it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1444	5	109	Free will, self responsibility and personal choice is important in health care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1445	5	109	I have treated people in ICU with Craniosacral Therapy with very positive results. Whats your reasoning behind this move NICE?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1446	5	109	We are people not robots. We pay our taxes. We should have a choice as to what makes us feel better and not what government and BigPharma "think" will make us better.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1447	5	109	I believe that treatments like these are sometimes needed to improve the quality of life for some people- not only can they aid physically but also with mental wellbeing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1448	5	109	I work as a complementary therapist in a hospice. I know from personal experience the benefits that patients receive - often more successful than medical interventions	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1449	5	109	The NHS is paid for by the public and should provide the public with the service it wants, not the service that the pharmaceutically-driven medical establishment favours. This is the NHS mandate.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1450	5	109	This is something that shouldn't be taken away.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1451	5	109	I have received highly beneficial cam in the past. It works and often treats the root of an issue rather than just the symptoms	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1452	5	109	This shouldn't be taken away from us.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1453	5	109	I believe in the holistic approach to end of life care which combines the best of medical knowledge with the calming and relaxing use of complementary therapies should the patient request them. Freedom of choice for patient would be undermined. Also, by sending therapies 'underground', poorly trained and unscrupulous people may thrive and it undermines the training and professionalism of genuine therapists.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1454	5	109	People should have the freedom to choose for themselves.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1455	5	109	As a complementary therapist, I know how effective many therapies are at helping people through a very difficult time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1456	5	109	For my Daughterx	Thank you for your comment.
1457	5	109	The benefits of complementary therapies have a long history and are undoubtedly beneficial in a wide range of ailments and as preventative treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1458	5	109	My sister used the therapeutic route to support her in dealing with cancer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1459	5	109	I am a complimentary therapist with 30 years experience and I know how much these therapies help in all aspects of conventional medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1460	5	109	I'm signing because I don't want Complementary Therapies to be removed from the NICE guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1461	5	109	Holistic Health is the key to wellbeing - each treatment complimenting the other - how can something that has been proven to aid recovery be removed - it makes no logical sense - it's worked for me and millions if other people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1462	5	109	Another case of the big pharmaceuticals winning again if this goes ahead. If complimentary therapy gives people some relief and self respect then it's worth every penny. I bet it doesn't cost anything compared to what they pay the big boys for their toxic drugs!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1463	5	109	These therapys have helped me	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1464	5	109	Both my Mother & Fiance just died of Cancer & complementary therapies were the only pleasure & relaxation they had (And myself as their carer!)	Thank you for your comment and for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1465	5	109	My friend has terminal cancer and the therapy she has improves her quality of life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1466	5	109	Complementary therapies may not cure an illness but they certainly make it easier to bear and therefore it is essential that these are maintained for the terminally ill	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1467	5	109	All the treatments are vital an better for u instead of drugs	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1468	5	109	I'm signing because these therapies have been proven to provide relief, calm and reassurance to people at the end of their lives. Why penalise people who are already facing enough?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1469	5	109	I am an Aromatherapist and work at the South East Cancer Help Centre in Purley. We receive referrals from The Royal Marsden Hospital and other hospitals. I'm also a member of the CNHC which was set up by the government. This proposed move to remove complementary therapies from the NICE Guidelines is devaluing our work generally. Will it also affect our referrals ? Not many therapists are aware of this potential change. Individual therapists can not voice their opinions to NICE either as you need to be an organisation and a registered a stakeholder to even voice your opinion. This is yet another cynical move in stopping availability of complementary therapies in general.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1470	5	109	Oh dear ! whatever next ! we all deserve to feel better and less stressed. We don't all need medicine. This is so sad.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1471	5	109	This is just wrong! I've worked as a complementary therapist as part of an NHS run outreach cancer support team for the last 4 years. The patients get so many benefits from receiving these therapies - a sense of well-being, reduction in anxiety, sometimes even reduction in pain to name just a few. How can there possibly be any justification for removing such a valuable service from palliative care patients?!? Especially when most of the therapists offer their services for free and are all vetted for qualifications, DBS clearance and indemnity insurance before they're even accepted into wards. It's costing the NHS a minimal amount yet providing an absolutely invaluable service. Unbelievable proposal ! Bureaucracy at its worst!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1472	5	109	I know how valuable complementary therapies are for cancer patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1473	5	109	I know complementary therapies have helped me and my clients. They're an important alternative to conventional therapies, but ones that also work alongside them so effectively.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1474	5	109	I believe touch has an important health benefit for patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1475	5	109	From my own experience I can certainly say that complimentary therapy helped me when drugs did not!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1476	5	109	It's needed for cancer sufferers	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1477	5	109	Complimentary therapies are a very important part of palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1478	5	109	NHS own research has show a marked reduction in falls in older people who do Tai Chi, as well as having benefits in overall fitness and mental well-being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1479	5	109	My aunt is currently benefitting from these treatments	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1480	5	109	As a volunteer Spiritual healer working in two cancer support centres I see the beneficial effects that healing has on both patients and carers. Also, unlike drugs, the energy transfer that occurs during the healing session has no side effects as the body will only accept what it needs and no more thus preventing any possibility of overdosing. To prevent access to spiritual healing would be a retrograde step.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1481	5	109	If this goes ahead there will be many therapists out of very much needed work and also people will not have the freedom to choose how they want to be treated , so the dictates of one will affect the many . I say NICE is not a word I would use for this so called caring organisation and hope that someone will smell a very dirty rat before its too late. If our government lets this happenwhat next I ask ?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1482	5	109	The bennifits of some kind hands and other therapies offer support csn only help people during horrid and stressful times.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1483	5	109	I believe complementary therapies can be a powerful support alongside conventional medicine	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1484	5	109	This is absolutely ludicrous! There is a growing body of scientific information showing the many benefits of Complementary Therapies in easing the suffering of those with cancer. Please don't take this off the NICE register!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1485	5	109	These complimentary therapies are so important to our well being. Please keep the welfare of patients at the heart of an NHS we can be proud of.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1486	5	109	I have witnessed these therapies working. Complementary Therapies are the future medicine, without which life would be shorter and a harder journey to travel.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1487	5	109	Im signing because I use complimentary therapy and practice it. It helped me avoid major spinal fusion surgery and reduced my sickness absence from work.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1488	5	109	we need to check and stop government controlling us	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1489	5	109	I have personally benefited from alternative therapeutic approaches and would hate to see them removed as options for others.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1490	5	109	mainstream medicine does not hold all the answers , and complimetary therapies bring healing and wellbeing in a way that drugs do not!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1491	5	109	I am a reflexologist and I have seen the Therapy help so many people - even if it gives relief for a short time then it is worthwhile. It helps mind, body & spirit.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1492	5	109	Complementary therapy should not be just a privilege, it's a necessity.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1493	5	109	if I could count how many times my clients have thanked me for turning their lives round, it would be an understatement. The important thing is to recognize use what is best for the client.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1494	5	109	I have seen the beneficial results of complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1495	5	109	Complimentary therapies work for many people and should be kept on the list	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1496	5	109	The suggested action is ridiculous and will deprive many of real options	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1497	5	109	Complementary therapies helped me when I had cancer. Any treatment that helps should be paid for under the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1498	5	109	I am a reflexologist striving to raise the profile of my profession.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1499	5	109	I am a passionate holistic health therapist who has worked with clients for 14+ years providing not only reflexology, but several other holistic health modalities, and has seen the powerful and positive healing affects that reflexology and other therapies is able to provide.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1500	5	109	Complementary therapies, carried out by properly qualified people, provide immeasurably to the wellbeing of members of the public, let alone those requiring palliative care. It would be a huge mistake if NICE were to remove them from their guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1501	5	109	I have seen and been told first hand of benefits of complimentary therapies to people managing chronic conditions, terminal illness and general wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1502	5	109	many complementary therapies work better than conventional medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1503	5	109	Another cost cutting measure, at the expense of the patients quality of care. Abolishing NICE would be a good first step instead, along with the 'Middle Managers' Accountants, and 'Benefits' such as private health care/company cars and the like.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1504	5	109	Holistic Therapies make a difference	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1505	5	109	Because therapies of any kind that can provide relief for people at end stages of life you be on offer...not required, or forced, disallowed, but offered, out of kindness and respect to all...allowing them the choices they wish as a gift to them of the greatest service.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1506	5	109	Complementary therapies are most important especially in end of life. Where the usual methods fail, these therapies improve the quality of life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1507	5	109	Considering the extent of research evidence - some of it from very well controlled studies - , it appears unreasonable to remove complementary approaches from the NICE guidelines for palliative care. There is no treatment (including drug treatments) that works for all people under all circumstances - and some people benefit a lot from complementary health approaches. I do hope this proposal will be rejected and complementary health approaches will not only remain, but become even more utilized as effective methods for improving quality of life and health outcomes of patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1508	5	109	Complementary therapies are a vital part of improvement to the quality of life for the so many people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1509	5	109	these proposals take away the basic human rights of choice!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1510	5	109	It's simple - Reflexology helps with all levels of well being.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1511	5	109	I'm a complementary therapist, and quite frankly I smell a rat, and it smells like Big Pharma. No offense to the noble rat. If most of the therapists are volunteers, what is your argument against providing space for a support mechanism that has made such a positive difference to people's lives (end of life or otherwise - basically aren't we all palliative cases..?! No one here is Benjamin Button!)	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1512	5	109	I have signed this because I do voluntary work where I see Cancer patients receive complimentary therapies all the time and I know that the therapies help them immensely, both physically and mentally.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1513	5	109	From personal experience, I know the benefits complementary techniques can have.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1514	5	109	My 70 year old Dad has already experienced and benefited from several sessions of Reiki. Who decided it has no benefits?! He felt them, and I saw them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1515	5	109	This is the most powerful and empathic form of healthcare for dying people - don't take away their choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1516	5	109	It is through ignorance that these therapies are not being funded. It is time to look and understand the relevance of all kinds of alternative treatments for illness. The drugs companies make millions from treatments that damage the natural balance of the whole body. How do you educate all these people to re look at the whole concept of treating the whole person.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1517	5	109	The removal of complimentary therapy from palliative care is a truly retrograde step - these therapies are proven to help and support people at the most difficult time of their lives, we need to treat people with terminal illnesses with compassion and love - by taking away this type of help we can no longer call ourselves a civilised society!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1518	5	109	We should all be allowed to pick what treatments work for us best. There has been proven results in the benefits of Complementary therapies , and even just for relaxation, as it helps the body destress. I wish the politicians and governing bodies would stop being influenced by the drug companies, as there are better treatments out there, apart from drugs. Also, Complementary therapies, help to take the strain off the NHS	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1519	5	109	As a complementary therapist I have seen the benefits and comfort these treatments bring	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1520	5	109	We need to move forwards with healthcare choices, not backwards.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1521	5	109	I offer free therapies to people with cancer, it is a must.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1522	5	109	Alternative therapy is the way forward for health. Popping pills is not working this just dumbs down pain and does not deal with the underlying cause.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1523	5	109	I have benefited from complementary therapies where orthodox medicine has failed to help me. You can't treat people like machines. We need to be looking at holistic approaches as proved by Dr Bruce Lipton's work. I am a complementary therapist.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1524	5	109	I am a Reflexologist and believe that it is a viable modality that helps every person that receives it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1525	5	109	As a Refoexologist it is paramount that we promote safe practice in an environment where the general public has access to natural treatments alongside synthetic treatments universal medicine should be for everyone!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1526	5	109	These services are what I use for my "health care". Proactive, supportive and so much more.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1527	5	109	Complementary Therapies are an important part of all humans health care. Orthodox medicine does not serve everyone, we need choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1528	5	109	Reflexology can benefit so many and give them quality of life and therefore needs to be available to those who need it most.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1529	5	109	I'm signing this because I know the power of complementary therapies and the positive change they can make in people's lives!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1530	5	109	I trained in reflexology, aromatherapy, massage and nursing in UK in the 1980's and have a great deal of pleasure helping patients to feel comforted, less anxious and less pain during difficult times in their lives. A wonderful "hands on" and soothing tool in todays busy and technical health service.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1531	5	109	This is a retrograde step as trhe complementary therapies do so much good and with NO bad side effects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1532	5	109	I have cancer and rhumotoid arthritis and reflexology helps me a great deal	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1533	5	109	choice, GP's are increasingly unaccessible and many alternative and complimentary therapies have been around a lot longer than GP's!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1534	5	109	As a Sound Therapist I firmly believe that there is a place for Complimentary Therapy within the NHS. Ultrasound is already used for a specific purpose - open minds and reach the full potential of sound to heal.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1535	5	109	As a CPCAB trained Counsellor AND Complimentary Therapist I see first hand the difference to quality of life and general wellbeing that both approaches hold.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1536	5	109	Complementary & Alternative Medicine (CAM) needs to be recognized worldwide as an option for people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1537	5	109	Iniquitous meddling with effective treatments based on perceived modern medicine is best.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1538	5	109	When I am dying I think I should quite like to avail of complementary therapies. When is there possibly a better time for it???	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1539	5	109	This is more to do with corporate greed and pharmaceutical companies holding people to ransom keeping them in a hellish 'sick' cycle. This should be about health, prevention of illness and management when symptoms cannot be reduced. It should also provide people with options to manage their circumstances and a lot of people will choose CT's. CT's that have been around a lot longer than modern medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1540	5	109	I strongly believe in complimentary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1541	5	109	I have paid privately to use alternative treatments and found them to be a great relief. I therefore also believe these treatments should be available free to people who are unable to pay.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1542	5	109	I am a Reiki Master who has seen first hand the difference Reiki can make to those with a wide variety of ailments and conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1543	5	109	I am a therapist and have used complimentary therapy with cancer patients in the voluntary sector and they found it beneficial	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1544	5	109	I am a CT practitioner	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1545	5	109	I have no doubt about the effectiveness of Reflexology and other therapies - the benefits received and healing experienced.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1546	5	109	I am both a cancer px and reflexologist, I also work with people with MS. I can not stress enough the benefits of reflexology, this is a must not an optional extra.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1547	5	109	I am a therapist who has treated patients in a hospice and have seen how they have benefited.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1548	5	109	Complimentary therapies are the best thing to enhance to quality of life of cancer sufferers due to their non-invasive methods.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1549	5	109	People should have the right to holistic therapy as well as normal hospital treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1550	5	109	I have seen the benefits of Complementary Therapies used in hospices by seeing first hand the effects of therapies on patients, family members and primary carers. It provides relief from difficult symptoms, anxiety and stress for patients and family members. There is also plenty of research carried out showing the benefits of comp therapies in palliative care. If I, a friend or a family member was to require hospice care, I would hope that the option to receive therapies like massage, acupuncture, meditation for stress relief and reiki were available to help cope with the challenges of palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1551	5	109	I am signing the potion because I believe that complementary therapies can and do enhance quality of life!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1552	5	109	it is needed, it is valued, it works.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1553	5	109	People should be able to have a choice. Complementary for me every time	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1554	5	109	These therapies help my grandfather before he passed on. When I was studying to be a complementary therapist I volunteered and saw the difference it made to patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1555	5	109	Conventional medicine can't treat my sister, who is in chronic, relentless pain and has just been told by her GP that it's "probably because of existing health issues, so we can't do anything." They've said they'll get someone to call her re prices for acupuncture - my sister and countless others would not have thought of alternative therapies as a viable way to tackle their health issues when nothing the NHS can provide can help. This move is unwise, I feel.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1556	5	109	Removal is a huge step backward in community healthcare	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1557	5	109	i devoutly believe that complementary therapies are crucial to recovery of all sorts and particularly in recovery from cancer. sb	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1558	5	109	This decision has nothing to do with health and everything to do with making pharmaceutical companies rich.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1559	5	109	I am a self employed therapistI provide end of life to older people and older people living with dementia.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1560	5	109	My sister has benefited from alternative theopies in the past	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1561	5	109	It makes sense	Thank you for your comment.
1562	5	109	I believe that these CAM treatments confer benefits irrespective of the current level of accepted bio-medical evidence.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1563	5	109	I am a retired therapist and I understand the good it can do	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1564	5	109	I'm signing because it is essential that complementary therapies exist alongside conventional medicine as it speaks to the body as a whole rather than just isolated parts.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1565	5	109	As a cancer sufferer myself I received great relief from reflexology sessions offered at my cancer support centre	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1566	5	109	I am appalled at this proposal and at the attitude it indicates. Orthodox medical practitioners have a great deal to learn from complementary therapists.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1567	5	109	Reflexology has its place in the modern world	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1568	5	109	To remove complementary therapies without explanation or exploration dismisses the obvious palliative benefits. To also remove the inclusion of user involvement in service planning seems absurd.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1569	5	109	I work in the nhs and complimentary therapy. Many many people show proven benefits from complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1570	5	109	You are not putting the patients first!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1571	5	109	I have seen first hand with my clients and with my own health just how effective whole body treatment with Alternative therapies are.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1572	5	109	These therapies offer only positive benefits and I would welcome them if I was end of life. Shame on you - you'll be dying one day!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1573	5	109	I am a cancer survivor and I found complementary therapies helped me massively in so many ways and on so many levels	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1574	5	109	When a dear friend of mine was dying from cancer, the treatments she received in the hospice made a huge difference to how she felt. It gave her something for her, to look forward to, to help ease her pain. How dare anyone deny people the gift of human kindness, compassion and time. The rules are really stringent of who can give treatments. She lived for another 12 years, much longer than anticipated due to this extra support, and most of these years were quality ones that gave her more spending time with her family and getting to watch her children grow up, and see her daughter get married. She died a few weeks after, but those sessions helped give her more life and extended it.	Thank you for your comment and for sharing your experience. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1575	5	109	Complimentary therapies, are natural & work well alongside any medical treatments, people should be given the option of them, as we all have free will, infact these essential therapies obtain remarkable results	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1576	5	109	I see every day the benefits that cancer sufferers get from my massage treatments. It would be a huge step backwards to stop recognising the enormous value complementary therapies can have on the lives of patients and carers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1577	5	109	Im a therapist, but also have therapies. They benefit people greatly whether well or ill. Cancer patients benefit greatly from complementary therapies and thry work well along side any medication or treatments that are needed and give thrm a better quality of life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1578	5	109	Complimentary therapies really work, are safer than medication and don't have side effects	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1579	5	109	My wife, daughter and myself have all benefited from Complementary Therapies when the NHS has been unable to offer treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1580	5	109	I know the complementary therapies have an important role to play in helping patients cope with stress and pain. I personally would like to have access to them in times of illness.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1581	5	109	Because I am a kinesiologist, a complementary therapist	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1582	5	109	Complementary therapies play such an important role.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1583	5	109	As a Shiatsu practioner I know how effective shiatsu and other complementary therapies can be , especially for things not normally dealt with by traditional western techniques	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1584	5	109	How tragic that Nice is trying to bulldozer all those wonderful therapies that connect body and soul in the moment it is most needed .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1585	5	109	This is shameful to be removing some of the best support to help manage the dreadful cancer disease.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1586	5	109	I am planning on doing complimentary therapies and have seen how much it helps people at all stages of life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1587	5	109	I believe in the power of alternative therapies and would like the accessibility if I was to be become seriously diagnosed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1588	5	109	We must have other choices besides allopathic medicine. Other choices work!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1589	5	109	Having volunteered as a massage therapist in a hospice myself, I have seen how powerful it is. Complementary therapies aid and uplift the patients and their carers and it would be criminal to rob them of this experience. Those who are in pain and discomfort with a terminal illness deserve, at the very least, to have somebody come in and give them a therapeutic treatment that is pure and drug free. The personal touch of complementary therapy has an immense positive impact and cannot be overlooked or underestimated.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1590	5	109	I am a therapist and this is wrong	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1591	5	109	As a therapist myself, I think it is important to people with life limiting conditions are treated the same as everyone else and complementary therapies can offer emotional support and help ease some side effects and symptoms	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1592	5	109	I have brought up 5 healthy children using complementary therapies and I use them myself. I have found its benefits outstanding without worrying about side effects	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1593	5	109	As a complimentary therapist for over 20 years,I have first hand experience of the benefits to patients	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1594	5	109	Complementary Treatments play a very important part in health care and well-being - it should be available for anyone who chooses it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1595	5	109	These therapies are highly effective and usually have no side effects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1596	5	109	So people have a choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1597	5	109	I think CAM is important in palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1598	5	109	Complementary therapies work! Dont let them be taken away!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1599	5	109	as a soul midwife and a nurse have seen the benefits that it gives to people at the end of life and also when pain that cannot be controlled by drugs get great benefit . i have also had acupuncture which sorted out a problem that could not be fixed by the normal nhs services this is a really important part of keeping the nation well and less than most drugs with less side effects	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1600	5	109	Complementary therapies make a significant positive difference to patient quality of life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1601	5	109	I am signing because I am also ART Regd Reflexologist	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1602	5	109	We need the choice!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1603	5	109	Complementary therapies are so beneficial, what more needs to be said... well maybe i could say complimentary therapies for hospice users is like Icecream for those on a diet of lettuce and carrots, 'Good for the spirit'.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1604	5	109	I have first hand knowledge of how beneficial CT can be to sick people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1605	5	109	I am both a giver and receiver of complementary therapies: they are just that - really HELPFUL complements to standard western medicine. Please don't dismiss them out of hand.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1606	5	109	I use complimentary therapies in cancer patients and with other long term conditions and see the huge benefits and choice it provides the patient and their carers. There is research proving the benefits, we train and study hard to understand and work with the complexities of conditions to safe guard our clients. Don't take this choice away from them by removing it from NICE guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1607	5	109	It's important to provide complimentary therapies to everyone!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1608	5	109	I have been a volunteer CT at a hospice for 9 years and truly believe the impact on well being at very vulnerable times cannot be overstated.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1609	5	109	I'm supporting this petition because Sue asked me to and she's always seemed completely trustworthy :)	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1610	5	109	I am a trained therapist and work with people with life limiting conditions and I can tell you as well as the people who receive the therapy that it works	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1611	5	109	My aromotherapist helped me recover from a breakdown using aromatherapy massaging which felt much better than the anti-depressants I was prescribed by my GP. She has helped me recover to full health using aromotherapy treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1612	5	109	Alternative treatments can be very beneficial and I personally have received good healing from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1613	5	109	I'm signing because I have been fortunate enough to receive complimentary therapies, and they have been extremely beneficial in counteracting some of the nasty side effects experienced with traditional cancer treatments.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1614	5	109	complementary therapies help so many people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1615	5	109	Please help stop us from having the choice of benefitting from the Complimentary Therapy being taken away from us	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1616	5	109	its a backward step	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1617	5	109	I've used CT for 25 years and they've helped where Medicine has failed. I can't think of anything worse than palliative care without them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1618	5	109	I believe that we should not underestimate the benefit that complementary therapies can give to individuals.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1619	5	109	As a retired GP I believe that complementary Therapies ease suffering and with osteopathy and acupuncture are evidence based.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1620	5	109	So many people benefit from complementary therapies. Why would anybody want to take that away?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1621	5	109	I'm signing this petition as a cancer patient and a complementary therapist. Allopathic medicine has its place, and it has side-effects - complementary therapies do a huge amount to counteract side-effects that can be physical, mental and emotional.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1622	5	109	I am a cancer survivor and I feel strongly the benefits of reflexology are second to none.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1623	5	109	I know how beneficial complementary therapies are and it is scandals to remove them from patients who would benefit so very much. Where had the care gone? !	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1624	5	109	It's absolutely shocking that comp therapies be taken away from palliative care when there are so many benefits for patients!!!! Disgusting!!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1625	5	109	It's about choice!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1626	5	109	If the Government REALLY wants to save money on the NHS, they can just abolish it. Yeah, RIGHT, we're going to allow THAT to happen!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1627	5	109	I'm a complementary therapist, as is my partner, as is my sister and as are numerous friends and colleagues. I'm also a Soul Midwife. Conventional medicine doesn't have all the answers, rarely looks at a person holistically and struggles at the end of life. Complementary therapies have such an important role in the health and eventual gentle death of each and every one of us. It will be a travesty if they are bulldozed into oblivion by NICE.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1628	5	109	I give therapies to the seriously ill and received and continue to receive many positive feedback on how it helped either with their motor nerone, me, ms, spinal stenosis, cancer and not only the ill; their carers and family.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1629	5	109	I beleive in the effectiveness of complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1630	5	109	Complementary therapies work	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1631	5	109	I believe that complimentary therapies relieve symptoms and help with enhancing quality of life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1632	5	109	These "complementary" treatments provide hands on therapies to people who are usually offered nothing but drugs - the touch of another human is very special - but the touch of a gifted "complementary" therapist is a lifeline - healing the spirit and often reducing pain and even reinstating a feeling of love and wellbeing. Everyone deserves to enjoy the gift that these therapists impart and the healing that cannot be measured in any way other than the way the patient feels.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1633	5	109	Complementary Therapies offer people the reassurance of soothing touch; relaxation & relief from pain naturally via the release of endorphins. Many people want & choose to have these therapies & it is unfair to take that choice away from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1634	5	109	There is more to treating people than pills	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1635	5	109	I believe terminally ill patients need a range of therapies to maintain their quality of life and to reduce pain.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1636	5	109	I'm signing because I have been working with cancer patients for the past 14 years and see the benefits they get from complementary therapies. For example: reduction of pain, better sleep at night, reduced stress, better bowel movement, being able to cope better with chemotherapy and much more.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1637	5	109	Conventional medicine is important but it does not cover all situations and can at times be detrimental to health	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1638	5	109	People should be given the choice of the treatments that they wish to receive. Complementary Therapies are just that - COMPLEMENTARY to any main stream medical treatment, not instead of. I understand that there is a need to protect people from charlatans, but what of the Therapists who have trained long and hard to enable them to help people? If the guidelines are removed then it would send out a message that they can not be trusted.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1639	5	109	I feel that complimentary therapies can help patients feel better and work alongside modern medicine	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1640	5	109	I would like to make sure that people at the end of life care aren't deprived of the option to receive complementary therapies which are so vital for the day to day management of the excruciating pain associated with having a terminal illness.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1641	5	109	I'm signing because I'm a volunteer Complementary Therapist at St Joseph's Hospice. Our work means a lot to our patients. We provide comfort and quality care. Our patients mean a lot to us. Our work deserves to be valued by NICE.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1642	5	109	I've signed because 'more drugs' is not always the answer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1643	5	109	I do not feel cancer patients should be denied Complementary Therapies .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1644	5	109	It's very important for patients to be given to be the choice of what care they have	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1645	5	109	Complimentary therapies compliment and existing system and need not be removed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1646	5	109	Complimentary therapies can make a huge difference in symptom control. They need yo stay in the guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1647	5	109	Because reflexology has helped me and my husband, given us hope more than our Drs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1648	5	109	I am a reflexologist and know the real benefits of complementary therapies. They need to be offered to patients as an option for their treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1649	5	109	I have no doubt of the benefit of reflexology having seen the effect of my sister when she was in intensive care with leukaemia. She was on a life support machine at the time with a terrible lung infection. It was extraordinary to see the effect of reflexology on the rate of her breathing- it became slow, deeper and much more productive. Having been a cynic, I was completely converted seeing these results.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1650	5	109	We need to consider the human being as holistic, not comprised of individual parts that need fixing but a complex whole that requires balance. Complimentary medicine supports patients in ways that conventional approaches fail to meet. Removing it from the NICE guidelines serves to limit the health and wellbeing of many individuals who may not be able to get this support otherwise.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1651	5	109	I have provided complementary therapy in the healthcare sector for 18 years with amazing results with people living with mental health, learning disabilities and dementia. I also provide massage training for health care professionals to enable them to have a person centred approach when providing daily care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1652	5	109	NHS trusts are forever trying to save money by cutting back on staff and axing services etc however In offering Acupuncture and other medicines on the NHS much money can be saved at a fraction of the cost whilst people are taught good dietary and lifestyle practices thus avoiding many preventable diseases. Please sign to have choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1653	5	109	Only a fool would stop these therapies!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1654	5	109	I'm signing because we are getting great research that proves the power of these complimentary therapies for people. We should be looking for an all encompassing solution not just a pharmaceutical solution.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1655	5	109	I am a Reiki Practitioner and have seen the benefits of Reiki in palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1656	5	109	My daughter in law provides fantastic help to patients in a hospice	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1657	5	109	Complementary therapies are safe, effective and have worked for me and my family	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1658	5	109	As a holistic and energy worker I know both personally and professionally how important energy and holistic work mentally, physically and spiritually. This is short signed and uninformed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1659	5	109	I am a Therapist and complementary therapies are so valuable	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1660	5	109	Supporting people through stressful times when medical staff are already under so much pressure surely is a blessing to those all around. Plus have many benefits along side medicine. Are the pharmaceutical companies really feeling that threatened?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1661	5	109	I was lucky enough to enjoy complimentary reflexology when undergoing chemotherapy and it really helped, so I would like others to have the same opportunity!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1662	5	109	I believe Complementary therapies are an essential service supporting patients in palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1663	5	109	I like to think we give people the opportunity to explore all avenues when it comes to health and pain management. Traditional and complementary medicines should both be available options as many people have seen the virtues of each.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1664	5	109	I believe and have experienced close hand the benefits of CAM therapies in palliative care and the evidence base albeit not huge definitely supports CAM benefits for these patients. Lack of funding makes evidence hard to establish.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1665	5	109	Because I believe this will make a difference	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1666	5	109	Complimentary therapies make a difference to terminally ill people. Ive seen them work	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1667	5	109	Pharmaceutical companies do not have all the answers ! They just have all the money !	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1668	5	109	As a Holistic practitioner myself I also have seen first hand the positive effects Reflexology has had on my clients as well as my colleagues, some of whom work with the terminally ill, and I firmly believe it has its place firmly fixed as a therapy, this only leads me to believe that money is the driving force behind this decision.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1669	5	109	Think complementary therapies r important	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1670	5	109	Complementary therapies have helped where modern medicine has no answers. I have a condition where the cause is unknown and it cannot be cured. I also feel that people are individuals and should have choice. The term complementary says it all they should be used to support medicine	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1671	5	109	This is absolutely ridiculous.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1672	5	109	Complimentary therapies offer effective value for money treatments often using a holistic approach which not only treats specific condition, but has potential to prevent other related illnesses and their consequent disabilities and promotes good health usually with no side effects and lower safety risks than many conventional treatments . It doesn't make sense for such an influential organisation to remove them from their guidelines. Listen to your patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1673	5	109	People deserve choices. At this stage of ones life to be able to have a treatment that is possibly a hands on therapy, relaxing, offering pain relief/support ought to be a right.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1674	5	109	Practiced reflexology for the past 7 years and my people in east appreciate our service it helps them to destress and pain management	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1675	5	109	I believe they should still be included as they offer other forms of therapy that people find valuable alongside other therapies! Any help must be a good thing and more importantly an option for people!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1676	5	109	I feel complementary therapies are a very important part of palliative care for patients and their families	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1677	5	109	I am an Energy Healer working with 7 therapies that improve peoples live. When someone who was so depressed last June tells you at New Year I have changed their life and they now have a life to live, how can NICE stop the guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1678	5	109	I fundamentally believe in patient choice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1679	5	109	As a complementary therapist, I have witnessed so many with serious illnesses benefit from getting this kind of support	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1680	5	109	I believe complementary therapy has an important place in healthcare.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1681	5	109	I'm signing because of the amazing benefits of complementary therapies. I have seen the benefits first hand as a therapist and patient.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1682	5	109	this possible decision is a step in the wrong direction. From personal voluntary experience offering Reflexology in a hospital ward in Brighton for older patients. So much benefit is gained on many levels ,and drug free no side effects!.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1683	5	109	Complementary therapies are so important for those suffering from cancer. It seems ludicrous to take that away from those in need.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1684	5	109	I am a reflexologist and reiki practitioner and was aiming to do voluntary treatments for cancer patients when I retire from my NHS job	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1685	5	109	To remove complementary therapy is outrageous and simply cruel. So many people suffering from terminal illness or who are in constant pain benefit in ways which are impossible to evaluate unless you are one of those people. I despair at the NICE proposals	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1686	5	109	Complementary Therapies used in the correct way will assist the NHS reduce their budget overall (e.g. use Functional Medicine/Nutritional Therapy for Chronic Diseases - arthritis; rheumatism; cfs) and also reduce lost work days (e.g. use osteopathy for back pain). Some joined up thinking and rearrangement of appointments will also help - treat the whole person at once not in systems (e.g. more multi discipline approaches)	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1687	5	109	I am signing because as a practitioner and a patient, I can see (from both sides) just how invaluable complementary therapies can be to a person's whole wellbeing - especially as a cancer survivor, where there is precious little support for us once treatment ends	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1688	5	109	Complimentary therapies are very helpful especially to the vulnerable	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1689	5	109	Complementary therapies help people heal and teach them how to provide healing modalities, themselves. They can also help teach their children to remain calm, not to let anxiety rule their lives.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1690	5	109	I feel strongly about reflexology as a complimentary treatment	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1691	5	109	I have used Reiki on people at the Dr Kershaw's Hospice where Reiki and other complimentary therapies are used on a daily basis. This has been of great benefit to them and their families. It helps them with the stresses and strains of their loved one being in the hospice. It helps patients with their symptoms, makes them more relaxed and comfortable, aids their sleep and fatigue. Why oh why cant you leave well alone... People who take this up really need it. There is a lot of data to support this.... just look at it. Thank you	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1692	5	109	I have worked as a complementary therapist in a hospice setting for the past 8 years. I work closely with a multi disciplinary team consisting of medical staff, counsellors, psychologists, social workers and complementary therapists to develop an individual holistic treatment plan for each patient and their families. I feel very privileged to work in this environment and be able to offer treatments to both patients and their families. Complementary Therapies can give patients a sense of control and choice throughout their illness. What a shame that NICE do not value Complementary Therapies as much as their patients!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1693	5	109	Any complimentary therapy in today's society has its place as a contribution to modern approaches to palliative care. It should always be an option made available to clients to enhance wellbeing and pain relief.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1694	5	109	I have seen firsthand how helpful Complementary Therapies are, and I feel it is ridiculous to even consider removing them from the guidelines	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1695	5	109	I have more positive experience of complimentary therapies than the pharma solutions of current medical dogma	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1696	5	109	I know the power of complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1697	5	109	Science is important but limited. There is more beyond what can be weighed and measured.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1698	5	109	Everyone deserves the power of touch!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1699	5	109	I'm signing because I sincerely believe in the role of complimentary therapies in helping alleviate the suffering of people at with terminal illnesses at end stage of life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1700	5	109	i have had acupuncture on the NHS but this was shut down to save money as i cannot afford to have this done private it means i am missing out on the help this gave me	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1701	5	109	Treating many clients successfully and there is no doubt that is working in many level.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1702	5	109	I use complimentary therapies as they include meditation and mindfulness exercises - these are being introduced by open-minded and open-hearted people to benefit everyone. It is sad that NICE is being run by closed minded people who want to remove clean, non-evasive healing practices from their guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1703	5	109	I'm signing Bec I believe this should not be removed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1704	5	109	Reflexology has been a life line for me since I was 8 years old. It's the only thing that keeps my 3/4 of a kidney in working order. I'm now 36, and learnt for myself that keeping up with my treatments is vital. Twice I have lapsed treatments due to time and money and have ended up in hospital with septicaemia! Due to the benefits that I have experienced, I trained as a reflexologist 20 years ago and have over 70 clients that all share my same views. How anyone can say it doesn't help people and that it shouldn't be recognised by NICE is beyond me. Take the time to listen to the thousands of people that it has helped and see for yourself.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1705	5	109	I'm signing because of the amazing benefits of complementary therapies. I have seen the benefits first hand as a patient and practitioner.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1706	5	109	I am a complementary therapist who currently volunteers in a hospice, I see such a huge benefit to what we give to the clients even if it's just allowing them to feel relaxed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1707	5	109	Should not this be the decision of the terminally ill not some governing body? It makes no sense	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1708	5	109	Complementary therapies are the building blocks of health and wellbeing	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1709	5	109	Studies show time and again that the prognosis for people who receive CAM therapies alongside hospital treatment is that they recover faster, need less time in hospital beds, and need less conventional pain relief. Keep CAM therapies in the NICE protocols please	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1710	5	109	I am a Holistic Therapist and I base my work on scientific facts and peer reviewed research. Why should I not be taken seriously in my chosen field of study. I have my V.T.C.T. and am working on my degree (I have taken a break in this to further my business but will be going back). I also have an A level equivalent in Nutrition. I pride myself on the quality of care and information I provide my clients. It is not quackery!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1711	5	109	I'm signing because I believe the pharmaceutical industry I'd exerting pressure to ensure natural therapies don't detract from their vast profits by reducing the need for chemicals sold under the guise of cures	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1712	5	109	I Know first hand people who have benefited by having the various holistic treatments available on offer, and to withdraw them would be a ludicrous idea!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1713	5	109	Cancer is a horrible decease and I feel theses treatment help you forget about it for the moment..if we can't help someone with this kind of decease who can we help...you try living with it...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1714	5	109	I see the benefits Reflexology gives to many individuals and there family especially in stressful times.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1715	5	109	I recently had the privilege to treat my sister, at home, in hospital and in a hospice - she preferred my brand of reflexology which calmed her down and relaxed her as well as reducing the lymphoma she was suffering - I treated right up to her passing -	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1716	5	109	I'm signing this as I have seen first hand the benefits of many complementary therapies both as a nurse incorporating them into my practice and as a therapist over many years .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1717	5	109	I do not want complementary Therapies to be removed from NICE Guidelines	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1718	5	109	I've worked in the Cancer and Pallative care world for 11 years and and extremely appreciated by my clients and provide a very hard and needed role.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1719	5	109	As a Reflexologist and member or the AoR (Association of Reflexologists) I am dismayed by this intention to remove Complementary Therapies from the NICE guidelines. This action will completely ignore the very important supportive care that Complementary Therapies provide in palliative care. Why would the powers that be decide to remove a service from the NICE guidelines that supports and comforts a dying person? To those powers that be, my message is " Please look deeply within yourselves and search for some compassion and empathy. One day it might be you "	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1720	5	109	This would be taking a step backwards in health and care excellence, pain can be treated with complimentary therapies without the nasty side effects that prescription drugs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1721	5	109	Complementary therapies help everyone and should not be removed	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1722	5	109	In my work, I treat the cause first, therefore alternative therapies of every kind are imperative. Western medicine is for symptoms only or trauma. Even my own Dr's surgery advocate alternative medicine, therapies BEFORE popping pills!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1723	5	109	Complementary therapies have helped me time and time again where doctors and modern medicine have failed. Complementary therapies treats the cause of a problem which has lasting effects which actually saves the NHS money. Often modern medicine will only mask a problem and not treat the cause.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1724	5	109	Complimentary therapies are so beneficial to everyone in general. Especially healing the body, mind and soul. Very powerful with helping the body recovery from illness and a joy to those passing over.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1725	5	109	I think complementary therapies are a really important part of addressing individual's holistic health and as such, the government should support the provision of them to everyone.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1726	5	109	I'm a volunteer complementary therapist in my local hospice and the patients love the therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1727	5	109	I'm signing because without complimentary therapies I would have not have coped with my horrible cancer treatment and made such a good recovery. There should be more not less.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1728	5	109	Think of the patients this would adversely affect. Reflexology makes a positive difference to people's health.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1729	5	109	I know how much of a difference complementary therapies can make to people in acute chronic pain	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1730	5	109	I have first hand experience of how much difference complementary therapies can make.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1731	5	109	I have a firm belief in the benefit of complementary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1732	5	109	I strongly believe reflexology makes a difference and can change lives for the better.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1733	5	109	I am a complementary Therapist who works in palliative care. The people myself and my volunteers treat say they benefit enormously from it. It helps them to relax and also helps with the process they are going through in conjunction to the help and care they receive from the medical profession. How can it be said it is not a valuable aid.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1734	5	109	I believe people should be allowed to choose. Alopahatic medicine does not have all the answers.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1735	5	109	I m a professional reflexologist..reflexology is an amazing support to everybody.great for cancer patients/ at the last stage of life...shortly everybody has to get this amazing benefit and support	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1736	5	109	I believe in the benefits of CT for Palliative Care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1737	5	109	I have seen the difference this wonderful healing therapy can do, and having experienced Reiki myself all through my Chemotherapy helped me so enormously. It is so important this is offered to all those who desperately need it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1738	5	109	I am a Reiki and Spiritual Healer and have seen first hand the support we give to patients, their carers and families and to the medical staff who work with them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1739	5	109	I believe in an integrated health approach for the long term wellbeing of all patients, not just ones who can afford extra treatments	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1740	5	109	I have seen at first hand the huge benefit people get from these therapies. To cut them is ridiculous for the small amount of money it will save.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1741	5	109	reflexology keeps me pain free where all other remedies the doctors prescribed did nothing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1742	5	109	As an R.G.N of 30 yrs and also a complementary therapist,I know the benefits of therapies in terminal illness . It's a real shame that this country can't see the broader scope for care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1743	5	109	This is outrageous!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1744	5	109	more complementary therapies need to be recognised & can work along side conventional medicine.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1745	5	109	I'm Reflexologist	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1746	5	109	I believe that other therapies should be available to people who are ill	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1747	5	109	I am a foot and facial reflexologist and I believe this is a terrible decision with negative long term implications for all concerned	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1748	5	109	I am currently working on placement in a hospital stroke ward and the patients absolutely love these treatments and find great pain relief and relaxation from them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1749	5	109	People need to be able to make an informed choice!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1750	5	109	I believe that complementary therapy is beneficial to people suffering from cancer and other illnesses. This is an infringement of an individuals human rights, to take away alternative healing therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1751	5	109	Sometimes this is the last source of help available to people who are terminally ill. It is wrong to take choices away from people and I've seen people get better amazingly quickly with the use of complimentary therapies, simply from the mindset change to a more positive outlook.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1752	5	109	I'm signing because massage in any form is about touch and showing someone you care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1753	5	109	I'm signing because I believe alternative therapies are very successful and would actually save the NHS money.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1754	5	109	I believe complementary medicine has a lot to offer alongside modern medicine. I find the lack of belief amongst the political and NHS hierarchy disturbing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1755	5	109	Complementary Therapies are just that, complementary. They work so well with mainstream medicine. NICE invest rather than disassociate, we'd be looking at a healthier and happier world.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1756	5	109	Touch therapies have been useful for thousands of years and are still just as useful today. Do not take away treatments that have no side effects and you know that there are many studies that show beneficial results from Complementary Therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1757	5	109	As a Reflexologist myself . I know Reflexology is enormously beneficial to many people, and have witnessed amazing results. People must have choice with regard to their treatments not be dictated to in this way.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1758	5	109	I have worked as a Complementary Health Therapist in the Palliative Care Team at Edinburgh's main hospital for 7 years and work as part of a team of other therapist. This service has been invaluable to patients and a huge support to relatives too across two main hospitals in Scotland's capital city.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1759	5	109	I have had a number of benefits from a number of therapists where the NHS couldn't or wouldn't help.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1760	5	109	This type of treatment for someone with terminal cancer is so important. My husband recently passed away he suffered with Kidney Cancer, he had reflexology at regular intervals and I can only say he used to come home very relaxed and would get some we'll need sleep. T enable him to relax and help control his pain . I would recommend it as part of treatment.	Thank you for your comment and for sharing your experience Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1761	5	109	I believe complimentary therapies help a lot of people cope with many serious illnesses and aid the body ability to allow prescribed medication to work. It is complimentary not alternative we work alongside and with the medical profesion	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1762	5	109	Medical pain relief of any form be it physical or mental is beyond cost	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1763	5	109	Compimentary Therapies are the way forward. NICE are going backwards!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1764	5	109	I have absolutely no doubt, after over thirty years of association with a Cancer Help Centre where complementary therapies are used on a daily basis, that there are huge benefits to the NHS in continuing this association. Complementary therapists are an inestimable resource for patients, and undoubtedly ease suffering, lessening the burden on orthodox medicine. .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1765	5	109	I am a complementary therapist having trained for over 3 years in reiki, Indian head massage & clinical hypnotherapy. I have seen first hand the support these therapies can give to patients & their families; the improvement in their psychological well-being & ability to better manage & cope with their conditions...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1766	5	109	I am a Shaitsu practitioner and have seen the most amazing results from treatments time and time again. People need choice in how they manage their own health and Complimentary therapies benefit people without side effects.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1767	5	109	Alternative therapies help thousands.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1768	5	109	I work with the elderly and so, so much good comes from complimentary therapies!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1769	5	109	These therapies are priceless to cancer patients. I wonder how many on the NICE panel have actually had cancer? I have and anything that helps you through such a devastating time is worth fighting for.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1770	5	109	I am a Complementary therapist and Hypnotherapist. I work with clients on a regular basis including a special needs client at his Residential Care home. I have attended clients in Intensive Care and Care homes and seen results...why on earth would you consider this ? ..it doesn't make sense ☐	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1771	5	109	I am a Manual Therapist and I feel strongly that complementary therapeutic massage and other therapies are of huge benefit to those suffering from several illnesses and their families and carers. I have had several of these people (cancer patients and those around them) who say the massage and wellbeing felt around it has been invaluable to them at a time when really needed. I understand the qualitative measuring of benefits to people is difficult to do however just asking cancer patients and vulnerable people (those suffering varying degrees of stress to mental illness) that complementary therapy has been available to and helped , will show its massive need and benefits. We can't get rid of this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1772	5	109	My parents have both benefited from complementary therapies whilst terminally ill. It has made a huge difference to how they feel.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1773	5	109	Complementary Therapy also has a firm place in preventative medicine. By using acupuncture I am taking up less NHS time in the long term.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1774	5	109	Complementary therapies may not cure but they definitely improve quality of life and that aids recovery.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1775	5	109	I'm signing this petition because this is a short sighted, cost cutting exercise which tries to excuse its rationale by disputing the therapeutic value of CAM. This stance ignores the real value of the preventative value of CAM. I know from what my clients tell me that can gain much more from my holistic approach to them and their health than they would from their GP experience	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1776	5	109	The attempt to dismiss Complementary Therapy as a legitimate and needed approach to health care is like saying we should only have one way to approach our health and wellbeing. This is plain wrong. There is so much evidence from so many people of the benefits of complementary therapy, this legislation is clearly an attempt to undermine this and I wonder what personal interest is at stake in this occurring.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1777	5	109	There is a need for complementary medicine and it is proven to work.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1778	5	109	I'm signing this because I know, from personal experience, how very effective "complementary" therapies can be.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1779	5	109	I am a complementary therapist	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1780	5	109	Alternative therapies is truly respecting & allowing a patient to relax mind body & spirit.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1781	5	109	We need complementary therapy, there are other ways of helping 'the body' along with medicine. People want and need the changes.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1782	5	109	Cancer patients deserve more care not less! Totally disgusting!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1783	5	109	Complimentary therapies have helped me personally in many different ways including navigating a tough pregnancy .and a very poorly newborn. Reflexology and kinesiology continue to help maintain health and wellbeing in me, my family and I recommend it to everyone! How ridiculous to even consider removing it!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1784	5	109	CT work for many reasons including pyschoneuroimmunology...why are we going backwards in our knowledge?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1785	5	109	It's necessary	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1786	5	109	Complementary Therapies enhance the quality of life for so many people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1787	5	109	My husband received complementary therapy at UCL Hospital after he has a debilitating stroke at the age of just 47. I strongly believe it was an important aid to his recovery. He couldn't move or feel his legs but could feel 'sparks' in his brain during reflexology. These therapists are amazing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1788	5	109	I am signing because this is a very backward step for the entire world.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1789	5	109	I'm am nearly completed as a Reiki practitioner and firmly believe alternative therapies help greatly and should be available. Craniosacral therapy changed my life health wise and helped mum son combat depression and drug abuse ti now lead a normal life.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1790	5	109	I know someone affected by this	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1791	5	109	This is the only thing after 4 years if hospitals meds and tests that has me pain free and able to live again .	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1792	5	109	Complementary Therapy is beneficial and must stay. Thank you	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1793	5	109	I don't think it's fair	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1794	5	109	Complimentary therapies really work and are useful and of huge benefit to cancer patients and chronically sick patients on wards. A full holistic range of options must be offered as complimentary to mainstream methods which are limited. We once prided ourselves as a nation for having a first class health system that was fair to all Please stop this stupid decision to cut out complimentary therapies from options available for British inpatients you know it makes sense to keep them!!!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1795	5	109	I have seen what benefits to health complementary benefits can provide	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1796	5	109	I have experience of complimentary therapies enhancing the lives of people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1797	5	109	I believe that complimentary therapies help to promote the well being and self esteem service users	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1798	5	109	Complementary therapies are an important part of palliative care which help patients on their journey in a more positive state of mind.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1799	5	109	I am signing because I have experience firsthand the benefits of Complementary Therapies and how they support those with illness or conditions that reduce life quality and/or cause constant pain.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1800	5	109	I'm against this proposal	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1801	5	109	As a cancer survivorvi have and still do benefit from cam as I scientist I have published evidence base for their effecticacy	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1802	5	109	I am a Reiki and TFT practitioner. I know how many lives I change. This is all about the drug companies. No different to the USA..	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1803	5	109	Patients matter!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1804	5	109	I feel Complementary Therapies do just that - compliment the NHS.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1805	5	109	I have treated people with reflexology for 20 years and found that it has helped people with high blood pressure, back problems, pregnancy issues, endometriosis , cancer (relaxing them and helping them in their last days). I also use it to tell people how to improve their diets. As I have also trained in naturopathic nutrition. Everyone should have the freedom to have whatever treatment that helps them in life. It is meant to be a free country	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1806	5	109	I believe alternative therapies can work and give huge comfort to people at the end of life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1807	5	109	Complementary therapies give some relief to those in need of relaxation. If you aren't already aware of the benefits of the relaxation response as opposed to the stress response you should look into it a bit further...	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1808	5	109	Complementary therapy is an important aspect of the road to post-op recovery.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1809	5	109	I know from family experience that Complementary Therapies greatly benefit both the terminally ill and those seeking a gentler, safer way to treat a wide variety of conditions. Please do not remove Complementary Therapies from NICE guidelines. These therapies are often offered free of charge and when paid for, the cost is minuscule compared to conventional treatment.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1810	5	109	Complementary therapies are non-invasive and it's calming relaxing effect has a direct biological effect on the body. It is one of the oldest forms of healing. As a complementary therapist I can testify that it has helped my clients with pain relief from toothache constipation and stress.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1811	5	109	I am a cancer patient	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1812	5	109	I believe some Pharmaceuticals for which there is no evidence are over prescribed. They will destroy public health and raise taxes.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1813	5	109	I have been practising reiki for over ten years and know what a difference this can make to the overall wellbeing of many. It would be a travesty if these complimentary therapies are removed from NICE.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1814	5	109	Some times better and stronger than Drugs	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1815	5	109	I believe in better ways the help the human body which is CT	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1816	5	109	I am a patient myself and whenever I've had this treatment it has helped me to relax,unwind and eased my pains xx	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1817	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and know that these treatments make a great deal of difference, to people suffering with these conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1818	5	109	Reflexology helped me personally to find ailments not found by other means.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1819	5	109	I am very pro medicine but with Complementary Therapies. We need both side of the coin, one cannot do without the other. Working as a nurse and as a Universal Medicine therapist at the same time I have seen so many people who has had the benefits of both. We can support people with this on a basis of equality knowing it is about people and that we all do care about people. Lets not make it about fighting but uniting in our loving care for people where ever they are in their lives.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1820	5	109	I provide Reiki at a Cancer Support group and I see the benefits of that and other Therapies on people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1821	5	109	I am trained as an acupuncturist and as a Tai Chi and Qigong teacher/practitioner. I see everyday the benefits it brings to people with terminal conditions. Personal choice of what makes one feel better is paramount in terms of quality of life and wellbeing.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1822	5	109	A fantastic service	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1823	5	109	Science will one day catch up but until it does, people should be free to chose what works for them.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1824	5	109	I have received undoubtedly the most effective and supportive Complementary Treatment Therapies from a REGISTERED and QUALIFIED therapist. My local GP will also encourage balance between the medical and holistic approach. This is essential for me in my current condition. Reflexology has been an absolute God Send...With discussions with my GP and Reflexologist we worked on my use of sleeping tablets..together we were able to bring this to a close. Migraine relief, identified internal issues later verified, the list goes on. THIS CANNOT HAPPEN. MY Reflexologist is an integral part of our community.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1825	5	109	I have benefitted from many complementary therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1826	5	109	I know terminal 'cases' who have been helped with some complementary therapies - my own mother included.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1827	5	109	The benefits of complementary therapy are huge, it's a proven fact.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1828	5	109	I've had good results from complementary medicine/therapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1829	5	109	Pain relief medication doesn't work dosage is never sufficient just takes the edge off if complementary works for u well it needs to be allowed to continue no one should suffer in pain	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1830	5	109	I've seen the benefit of complementary therapies for people with cancer	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1831	5	109	Reflexology helps me immensely	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1832	5	109	i'm signing this petition because i believe in natural therapies without the need to use drugs	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1833	5	109	Alternative Therapies are extremely helpful and . have seen amazing results.xx	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1834	5	109	As an acupuncturist registered with the British Acupuncture Council I have plenty of first-hand experience of the sense of peace that a patient can feel during and after acupuncture treatment. This life-enhancing, non-toxic therapy is not dangerous and can bring extraordinary benefits to patients in palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1835	5	109	I believe complementary therapies work. If I didn't I wouldn't have taken the time and effort to take courses exams to practice.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1836	5	109	I have benefited from more than one complementary therapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1837	5	109	I have experienced the benefits of reflexology and aromatherapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1838	5	109	I'm signing this petition because I believe that it's time that medicinal companies and alternative therapies begin to work in harmony together. This is the new age and all of life is about balance. We are all entitled to that.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1839	5	109	I think the benefits to patients mental well being are very important and not to be ignored, this in turn can help the patients quality of life in this time in their life. Anything that can relieve the stress on a persons body and mind at this time is to be embraced.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1840	5	109	I'm a Craniosacral therapist and have offered palliative care to many clients who have found it enormously beneficial. To remove complementary healthcare from the NICE guidelines is irresponsible and a disservice to all terminally ill patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1841	5	109	normal western medicine makes folks sick	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1842	5	109	I'm very passionate about reflexology and the benefits of it	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1843	5	109	I am signing because I know many people suffering with cancer who have derived much comfort from having some form of complimentary therapy this is such a shame.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1844	5	109	I am a great believer that complimentary therapy is vital for peoples wellbeing. I am a massage therapist and see on a daily basis the benefit of what I do and how it can impact many.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1845	5	109	I would like to see conventional and complimentary (or traditional in my view) medicine work together to bring out the best for both. I would like the benefits of Holistic treatments such as Reiki, Acupuncture, meditation, massage and reflexology to be acknowledged so we may look after each other in the way that we deserve.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1846	5	109	Complementary Therapies are vital for stress reduction which is the prime cause of so much illness. Patients look forward to their sessions as it never hurts and helps them face the day. Only NICE would question whether this is helpful!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1847	5	109	Complementary therapies and not only very helpful to people who are extremely ill they are often essential to ensure a ending of life with care and dignity. To limit or remover these would be stupid an shortsighted and cruel. We need to offer people what helps them and not what the pharma companies benefit from. LISTEN TO THE NEEDS AND ESPERIENCE OF THOSE WHO HAVE BENEFITED FORM COMPLEMENTARY HELP TO EASE THEIR PAIN AND SUFFERING.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1848	5	109	As a therapist, I understand how people looking for support on conditions that effect their lives may not get the support they need unless the field of therapies is maintained with standards.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1849	5	109	I am signing because I know without a shadow of a doubt that these therapies help and enhance poorly people's lives and it is the most ridiculous idea to remove them from a professional guidelines. It really does not make any sense at all to me.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1850	5	109	To remove the opportunity for people to receive the benefits of Complementary Therapies is completely misguided. This would have a hugely detrimental impact on some of the people who really need it the most.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1851	5	109	Reflexology changed my life	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1852	5	109	I'm signing this petition as the NHS, hospices etc need to keep on offering different care options to users. Complementary and alternatives medicines are part of the team of care approach needed by health users.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1853	5	109	I believe complementary therapies to be highly valuable in recovery from illness.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1854	5	109	'Complementary/Alternative' medicine is the way forward..we started with it and went back to it! Proving the pharma route is not all we need.. or want!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1855	5	109	Part of the motivation behind the proposed removal of complementary therapies from the 2014 NICE guideline on palliative care for adults with cancer is that palliative care - quite rightly - needs to be more inclusive and comprehensive, i.e. needs to be provided not just to those affected by cancer. However, there is such a growing body of evidence, so much information in relevant well-researched text books and so many personal accounts of how complementary therapies such as reflexology, adapted massage, meditation, etc. can have a positive impact on people in the last stage of their life that it seems inconceivable that this valuable tool - often provided free by qualified volunteers - should be completely ignored and in fact discredited by the removal from the guidelines. A cost-cutting measure, clearly, but a very short sighted one!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1856	5	109	I am an acupuncturist and many of my friends at the end of their lives have found my acupuncture very helpful to their pain and anxiety . This should be available as a choice for patients in palliative care.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1857	5	109	I am a Complementary Therapist!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1858	5	109	Spending an afternoon per week volunteering my skills at St John's hospice has proven to me just how valuable complementary therapies are to people suffering from long term conditions or receiving end of life care. NICE provides evidence based guidance to the NHS on the clinical and cost effective use of treatment and care of patients. Having complimentary therapies within the NICE guidelines promotes positive research, professionalism and partnership working. Without the inclusion of complimentary therapies in the NICE guidelines there is a risk of an increasingly wide 'us and them' culture developing which really is not in the best interests of the patient. I am signing this petition to support partnership working between mainstream healthcare professionals and professional complimentary therapists.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1859	5	109	I work with elderly people, and I know how much it can help them	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1860	5	109	complementary therapies are for the greater good of healing people	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1861	5	109	I have first hand evidence of how beneficial reflexology is in palliative care having worked in a hospice for 6 years	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1862	5	109	Complementary therapies enhance the wellbeing of our lives!!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1863	5	109	I truly beleive in alternative therapies	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1864	5	109	I've had complimentary therapies before and they are wonderful. Putting the patients needs is paramount and these therapies can help their wellbeing and help with relaxation.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1865	5	109	Complementary therapies support the person and families dealing with long term illnesses- end of life, palliative care. Pills can't address everything.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1866	5	109	I believe alternative treatments can be beneficial to not only body but also mind	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1867	5	109	This would be a terrible false economy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1868	5	109	At the University of Westminster we have been training practitioners in Chinese Medicine: Acupuncture since 1998. Many of our graduates work in hospices around the country either in a paid capacity or as volunteers where their skills are in great demand from patients and the integrated medical teams. The recent overview of systematic reviews on just one area of CAM - acupuncture for palliative care of cancer (Wu et al 2015) concludes: 'Because acupuncture appears to be relatively safe, it could be considered as a complementary form of palliative care for cancer, especially for clinical problems for which conventional care options are limited'. They recommend further good quality research. It would seem appropriate that if NICE are currently reconsidering their guidelines they could be using the evidence to hand and be funding high quality research, both RCT's and patient experience studies, before making their decisions. This area of health care needs to be approached from as many medical systems as possible if we are going to meet patient needs.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1869	5	109	As a professional reflexologist and health professional I am acknowledging the value complementary therapies bring to the health care setting.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1870	5	109	I am signing because I have experienced complimentary therapies and they certainly have enhanced and improved the quality of my life helping me to cope with life beter	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1871	5	109	As a disabled person these therapies are a huge benefit and relief to me in pain and discomfort.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1872	5	109	Reflexology, massage...It makes a difference. In my experience, Complementary therapies provide pain relief for injury, and acute illness, result in peace of mind, brings relief from acute symptoms especially for those with terminal cancer, sometimes when nothing else can, also helpful for those dying from old age, bringing comfort, easing physical distress. These treatments and care are an essential part of excellent health care for Mothers to be, and babies. Every stage of living and dying is helped and supported by complementary therapy.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1873	5	109	Many patients benefit from the time and care that a CAM therapist is able to give them and for NICE to remove complementary therapies from their guidelines is taking this opportunity away. Surely it goes against what NICE stands for - Health and Care Excellence.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1874	5	109	there is clear support from the recipients and they should be listened to	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1875	5	109	I am an acupuncturist and not only have I seen with my own eyes the benefit acupuncture brings to patients, there is strong evidence for the benefits of acupuncture against a great number of health disorders diseases and conditions, with equal or better effects that medication.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1876	5	109	I believe that the public must be able to have a choice of treatments that will alleviate their conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1877	5	109	I believe that not just conventional medicines help with illnesses, some definitely need a combination of both.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1878	5	109	Having given treatment alongside conventional treatment for cancer I have really seen the benefits and I know my patients have really valued having the treatment. Many have continued long after the cancer has gone.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1879	5	109	I am a Reflexologist & strongly believe (and know that their is evidence) the complementary therapy is so beneficial to patients. I know this as i am a public health professional and a Nutritionist & use it alongside my other health & fitness treatments to see great results. NICE should have a duty if care to protect all health care professionals by advocating all good practices not just medical practices!! Please be fair.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1880	5	109	Many other countries recognise the benefits patients gain from complimentary therapies and incorporate their use in hospitals and hospices. Why would NICE want to deprive patients access to therapies that help them?	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1881	5	109	Dying matters and complementary therapies are a proven way to bring peace and ease at this crucial time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1882	5	109	Complementary therapies play a key role as supportive treatment in a variety of contexts and in particular palliative care. Removal from NICE guidelines will be very retrograde step	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1883	5	109	I work in a hospice as a nurse and see the value that complementary treatments bring to patients. I'm also an acupuncturist working in private practice and treat patients with cancer - I know that they they benefit hugely from the acupuncture which helps them manage their symptoms with more control.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1884	5	109	I worked for a Cancer support centre and know from the many many testimonials that the therapies on offer, and their skilled therapists made an enormous difference to how people felt, which may not be what NICE measures but it is what people value most.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1885	5	109	I am a Level 1 (studying for Level2) Accredited therapist for IRIS Cancer Partnership -established to bring recognition and awareness of the benefits of massage in the clinical setting for those people living with cancer. There has to be more research and development into the benefits rather than removing this from any scope of review	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1886	5	109	Massage for people living with cancer should be increased not removed. I trained so that I can work with safely with clients both during and after treatment, please do not exclude them from the potential stress relief and pain relief this can bring.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1887	5	109	I am a complementary therapist and believe there are great things to be gained from this approach to good health if supported by modern medicines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1888	5	109	As a therapist offering massage and reflexology and working with a local cancer support group in Cambridgeshire UK, I know how much benefit it is to the patient to receive such therapies, especially when nearing the end of life. Hands on therapy with gentle touch, brings great comfort to the recipient especially in times of physical and emotional stress. It has as much place as conventional end of life care at such a time.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1889	5	109	Complementary therapies play a huge role in supporting so many - with the enormous strain on the health service as it is. In my experience its not just those with the 'illnesses' health issues of today cancer being one of the major ones, as family members living as carers also get the benefits from these complimentary therapies.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1890	5	109	I'm signing because something good that benefits those in need should be encouraged not discontinued.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1891	5	109	As a therapist and nurse I am a firm believer in the power of hands on therapy people benefit from human contact it should be side by side with conventional medicine	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1892	5	109	Removal of complementary therapy seems to be happening through the back door with no justification or reasoning to remove the guideline. If you are consulting about why you want to remove a guideline, then you need to explain why it is necessary. Many many people at end of life benefit from the support a complementary therapy provides and this support should not be removed without valid reason. None has been provided.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1893	5	109	I am a complementary therapist who has seen first hand how important these treatments are for patients.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1894	5	109	The doctors were suggesting operating on our daughter. Someone suggested reflexology. Result was no surgery needed.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1895	5	109	I'm fed up with a government who's decision making in so many areas seems to be " Don't confuse me with the facts I've made up my mind "	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1896	5	109	I am an acupuncturist, tuina Chinese massage practitioner and tai chi teacher working with cancer patients, some of whose condition is terminal. The sessions allow them some respite both physically and emotionally.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1897	5	109	As someone who works at a non NHS funded charity that provides complementary therapies for terminally ill cancer patients, I cannot see a good reason for removing it from the NICE guidelines. If anything, there needs to be more guidance on best practice!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1898	5	109	I firmly believe complementary therapies can make a huge difference	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1899	5	109	I am a complementary therapist in a hospice and see the benefit our patients get from the treatments we offer.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1900	5	109	I work as a homeopath and this is a therapy enshrined in the 1947 health act. I think its a fundamental demolishment of the national healht service to cut these services, however inadequately they are currently supplied	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1901	5	109	I feel these therapies should continue to be given as an option to patients. I personally have felt the benefits from reflexology and will continue to have it.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1902	5	109	I am an oncology massage therapist and I believe in Integrated healthcare. The whole is greater than the sum of its individual parts	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1903	5	109	People should be given all types of treatment options, and CAM therapies have made a difference and improved quality of life to many people.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1904	5	109	I know people who use and rely upon complementary therapies in palliative care	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1905	5	109	I'm signing because Chinese medicine has much evidence to show that it works, has no side effects and very safe in the hands of properly trained practitioners. It can make a huge difference in the quality of life for those with terminal illness.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1906	5	109	Working as volunteer massage therapist in hospice and see how much patients and careers benefit. Integrating CTs should have the backing of formal guidelines.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1907	5	109	because these therapies can be helpful	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1908	5	109	I'm a Reiki therapist and happen to know that complementary therapies help terminally ill people to relax and helps with acceptance of their demise.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1909	5	109	I have cancer & I am receiving complementary therapies. It's wonderful when you are going through a rough time. The hour is very special to me :-)	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1910	5	109	I've seen the difference complimentary therapies make to peoples ability to deal with life limiting illness and conditions.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1911	5	109	We need to look at improving people's wellbeing holistically too. Many side effects from harsh drugs. Cut ill people some slack, please	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1912	5	109	I volunteer as a reflexologist at a Cancer centre and have seen firsthand how it benefits those going through cancer treatments, both during chemo and after. If it is the evidence base that is the issue (and I'm not sure it is - it appears to be to do with equity of provision of these therapies for other conditions) then more research funding should be made available - we do not have the resources to do this.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
1913	5	109	I was a self employed holistic therapist and had clients who had various issues from stress to severe disabled and they all felt calmer with less pain. People deserve choice to help them prepare, overcome or better accept what ever is going on with their health. Hippocrates believed in healing body, mind and spirit.	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.

1914	5	109	Complementary therapies work!	Thank you for your comment. Following consideration of all stakeholder comments the guideline will now only focus on service delivery of end of life care within the last 12 months of life for all conditions. We will ensure consistency between the new recommendations in this 'End of life care: Service delivery for adults in the last year of life' guidance and recommendations in CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer. Where recommendations are not updated within CSG4 Improving supportive and palliative care for adults with cancer, they will remain within the published guideline.
------	---	-----	-------------------------------	---

Comments received in the course of consultations carried out by NICE are published in the interests of openness and transparency, and to promote understanding of how recommendations are developed. The comments are published as a record of the submissions that NICE has received, and are not endorsed by NICE, its officers or advisory committees.