NICE guidelines

Equality impact assessment

Primary brain tumours and cerebral metastases

The impact on equality has been assessed during guidance development according to the principles of the NICE equality policy.

4.0 Final guideline (to be completed by the Developer before GE consideration of final guideline)

4.1 Have any additional potential equality issues been raised during the consultation, and, if so, how has the Committee addressed them?

No additional equality issues have been raised during consultation.

4.2 If the recommendations have changed after consultation, are there any recommendations that make it more difficult in practice for a specific group to access services compared with other groups? If so, what are the barriers to, or difficulties with, access for the specific group?

The recommendations have changed after consultation, but there are no recommendations which make it more difficult in practice for a specific group to access services.

4.3 If the recommendations have changed after consultation, is there potential for the recommendations to have an adverse impact on people with disabilities because of something that is a consequence of the disability?

The recommendations have changed after consultation, but there are no recommendations which could have an adverse impact on people with disabilities because of something that is a consequence of the disability.

4.4 If the recommendations have changed after consultation, are there any recommendations or explanations that the Committee could make to remove or alleviate barriers to, or difficulties with, access to services identified in questions 4.2, 4.3 and 4.4, or otherwise fulfil NICE's obligations to advance equality?

No barriers to or difficulties with access to services have been identified in questions 4.2, 4.3 and 4.4, and therefore the committee have not altered any recommendations or explanations in response.

4.5 Have the Committee's considerations of equality issues been described in the final guideline document, and, if so, where?

Yes – for each review questions the committee have described their consideration of equality issues (if relevant) in the section titled 'The committee's discussion of the evidence', and more specifically in the subsection titled 'Other factors the committee took into account'
