

NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR HEALTH AND CARE EXCELLENCE

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY APPRAISAL PROGRAMME

Equality impact assessment – Guidance development

STA Tebentafusp for treating advanced uveal melanoma

The impact on equality has been assessed during this appraisal according to the principles of the NICE equality scheme.

Final appraisal determination (After ACM 3)

(when an ACD issued)

| | |
|--|---|
| 1. | Have any additional potential equality issues been raised during the consultation, and, if so, how has the committee addressed these? |
| One consultee stated that ocular melanoma is usually seen in older people but that many people who are still working age will continue to work through the diagnosis. The committee noted that the technology is evaluated in line with its marketing authorisation, which does not restrict use of tebentafusp to people of different ages. It did not consider this was an equality issue. It did not identify any other equalities. | |
| 2. | If the recommendations have changed after consultation, are there any recommendations that make it more difficult in practice for a specific group to access the technology compared with other groups? If so, what are the barriers to, or difficulties with, access for the specific group? |
| No. | |

3. If the recommendations have changed after consultation, is there potential for the recommendations to have an adverse impact on people with disabilities because of something that is a consequence of the disability?

No.

4. If the recommendations have changed after consultation, are there any recommendations or explanations that the committee could make to remove or alleviate barriers to, or difficulties with, access identified in questions 2 and 3, or otherwise fulfil NICE's obligations to promote equality?

No.

5. Have the committee's considerations of equality issues been described in the final appraisal determination, and, if so, where?

Yes. These are described in section 3.25 of the FAD

Approved by Associate Director (name):Janet Robertson.....

Date: 28 November 2024