

Sent: 19 June 2007 07:47

To: Alana Miller

Subject: RE: Corticosteroids for the treatment of chronic asthma in children under the age of 12 years - ACD response.

Dear Alana

Having read the attached ACD, I have no particular comments to make, other than the fact that I am satisfied that the provisional recommendations are sound. The basic premise seems to be that a choice of ICS should be available based on clinical need first, and economic factors second, and this seems an appropriate response to the evidence available.

Kind regards

Asthma UK,