

The National Eczema Society is in agreement with the postponement of the review on topical steroids and has no further comment to make.

Regards